CONTESTS ON THE BOWLING ALLEYS

IMPRESSION SKETCHES AT THE CRESCENT ALLEYS LAST NIGHT—Y. M. C. I. AGAINST K. O. C.

The Y. M. C. I. bowling team strengthened its hold on first place in the Catholic league standing last night by defeating the crippled Knights of Columbus team on the Crescent alleys. The losing team was minus two of its regular players, but in spite of this succeeded in putting up a good game, being defeated by but 30 pins. The winning aggregation took all three strings but they were captured by narrow margins. There was but ten pins difference between the two teams at the end of the first string; the Y. M. C. I. took the second by five pins and the last string by 15 pins.

Prouty of the vanquished team was the high roller of the evening with a total of 305, while Bryan Coleman of the winning outfit was second, with a triple of 303. Despite the fact that these two players had the highest totals, the best single made during the game was 129 by Clark of the Y. M. C. I. who knocked the ring in every direction in the second string.

In the first string Prouty of the Knights put up a single of 109 while Coleman of the opposing team was but six pins shy of that mark. J. P. Donohue, of the losing team, who is one of the best bowlers in the city, surprised everyone by rolling the very low score of 76. If he had been rolling in form the team would undoubtedly have captured at least one of the three points.

The second string was a heart breaker for the Knights, as Donohue "came back" and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away it was found that he had knocked the pins down to the tune of 107, but it was in this string that Clark put up the high single of 120.

Coleman's bowling of 104 was the feature of the third string, while but two players on the Knights of Columbus team went over the 90 mark.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE
The second bowling team of Lowell Council, No. 8, Royal Arcanum, and Highland Council, No. 270, bowled on the Pawtucket boat club alleys last night and the men from Lowell's won by the slightest of margins. They took two of the three points, the second string going to the Highland men by just two pins. Rogers and Gleason were high men, each having a total of 285. The score:

EXECUTIVE COM.
OF BOARD OF TRADE HELD A MEETING
The executive committee of the board of trade met yesterday afternoon and attended to several minor matters. President Greene occupied the chair and all the members were present. The committee discussed the proposed road traffic regulations drawn up by the board some time ago and decided to give a hearing on the proposition to those interested before it is brought before the local city government.

MERRIMACK RIVER

Project of Making it Navigable Discussed by Lawrence Tribune

Since The Sun published an editorial recently demanding that the question of navigating the Merrimack river be reopened the Lawrence papers have taken up the matter and the following editorial from the Tribune has some valuable information:

Unless public spirit and popular opinion do not soon demand the opening up of this much needed waterway to the sea, Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill will be obliged to yield manufacturing supremacy to more favored centres like New Bedford, Fall River and Newburyport, where the federal government is spending vast sums of money, or to the south where no cost of transportation of the raw material is required, and where the hours are longer, wages lower, and where there is little if any restriction on child labor. All these are problems that now confront the northern manufacturers, and no section of all New England has reason to be more interested in the outcome than the busiest and most prosperous of sections in part, known as the Merrimack valley.

Col. Burr has been called from Boston but his place has been taken by one equally competent to measure the value of such a channel to the cities of Haverhill, Lawrence and Lowell. We refer to Col. Frederic V. Abbot of the U. S. Engineer corps, and head of the Boston office. A concerted movement of the business, manufacturing, and other influential residents of the above named cities, should be inaugurated without delay, and reopen this important and feasible business problem if we would still compete for our share of the business and trade of the country.

This is pre-eminently an age of large and daring engineering feats, and also an age that produces men splendidly equipped to bring them to successful accomplishment.

The Panama canal, commenced a few years ago, will be ready before 1915 to revolutionize the pathway of the shipping of the world. In two years more capital and labor will have pierced Cape Cod from Buzzard's Bay to Barnstable Bay, with a ship canal which will save the rounding of that graveyard of ships, Provincetown and Monomoy, and will effect a saving in dangerous ocean travel of 75 miles into the open Atlantic.

Already Col. Abbot of the U. S. Engineer corps is preparing plans for the Boston-Narragansett-Bay waterway, which when completed will leave an unbroken inland waterway from Boston to the Rio Grande in Texas.

Other important facts concerning this great waterway, showing its feasibility, are now made known. A practical deep water route, from Boston, by way of Taunton river, a tributary at Narragansett Bay, has been discovered by the engineers which does not cover any trunk line of railroads.

This canal would have its summit level about 38 ft. above mean low water, with two locks of 17 1/2 feet each, at the Boston end, and one of 15 feet and another of 20 feet lift at the Taunton end.

This project, when completed, will lessen the time of transit for steamers and other sailing craft from Boston to Point Judith, at the entrance of Narragansett Bay, about three hours, and will also eliminate the ocean navigation along a most dangerous part of our coast.

In addition to the advantages shown by this waterway a practical sea level route between Narragansett Bay and Plymouth harbor has been found which does not cross any trunk railroad line, and would only be crossed by three branch lines, which could be overcome and made safe by the construction of three double-track drawbridges. This Taunton-Plymouth line

VIGOROUS VETERAN

Mr. Sheaffer, 74 years of age, is a hale and hearty old gentleman. His fine condition is entirely due to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

He writes: "I have lived a life of continuous exposure. Ten years ago the many hardships I had endured began to tell upon me and I became very weak and run down. A friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began to use it faithfully, and today at seventy-four, I am hale and hearty and my good health and bodily strength are due to the regular use of this great tonic." A. M. Sheaffer, Liberty, Ind.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep young, strong and vigorous and enjoy perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly. According to directions. When taken at meal time it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thus improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. It tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system.

Be sure when you purchase Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey that you get the genuine. Make certain that the seal over the cork is unbroken. The genuine can be purchased at druggists, grocers and dealers everywhere, or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Write for doctor's advice and medical booklet, both sent free.

KILLED BY AUTO

Girl Stepped in Front of Machine

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—Hattie O'Connor, aged 15, got into the pathway of an automobile last evening and was almost instantly killed. Willis S. Pino, owner and driver of the machine, stopped and picked the girl up, but she died soon after.

SUGAR FRAUDS

American Co. Pays the Gov't $700,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The American Sugar Refining company has deposited $700,000 in cash in the United States treasury to compromise its civil liabilities in the sugar drawback frauds at New York and Secretary MacVeagh probably will formally accept the money today for the government.

Such action would settle only the government's civil claims, and would not prejudice its right to criminal proceedings.

SCHOOL BOYS

Steal Rides on the Street Cars

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A committee of schoolmasters appointed to investigate street car accidents, in which school children are victims, reported to the school board last night that they had ascertained that on one school day 436 boys stole rides on the street cars. The following day, when there was no school, 227 boys hopped on the moving cars. View of this indication that most of the offences are committed on the way to school it was suggested that teachers make a special effort to warn the school boys of the danger.

GLENN CURTISS

HAS OBTAINED A VERDICT FOR $6211

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator, yesterday obtained a verdict for $6211 against Charles K. Hamilton. Hamilton made no appearance. Curtiss charged that he had a contract with Hamilton, whereby the latter was to fly the Curtiss aeroplane upon a certain percentage of the receipts from such flights.

WESTFORD

The old academy building which was recently purchased by Henry O. Keyes and now located near the Union Congregational church, is being remodelled into a two tenement dwelling. This building is one of the most historic in town, ex-Gov. John D. Long being preceptor of the school about 10 years ago.

The late William E. Frost was also principal of this school, and the order of recitations remains on one of the blackboards in the upper room, where it was written by Mr. Frost several years ago.

J. Herbert Fletcher, of Westford, shot a fox Saturday on the Hildreth farm. The animal was started about daylight by the hounds owned by Mr. Elmer Fletcher of Littleton, and it came in the centre of the town, back of the town hall, where it was espied by Mr. Fletcher who shot it after a short chase. Although Mr. Fletcher was not of the hunting party, he did the trick just the same.

JULIA WARD HOWE PORTRAIT

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The Boston art commission held a hearing last evening on the matter of hanging a portrait of the late Julia Ward Howe in Faneuil hall, which it recently ruled against. The commission was informed by the mayor that it had the power to re-arrange the portraits in the Cradle of Liberty and with this understanding it offered to consider the request of the Julia Ward Howe memorial committee, that it provide a place for the portrait by such arrangement.

ARREST PASTOR

He is Charged With Shooting a Man

ELLIJAY, Ga., Jan. 10.—The Rev. James A. Kimmons who with his brother, the Rev. Benjamin Kimmons, is charged with the killing of Carter Lingerfelt at Mount Pisgah church in Gilmer county, two weeks ago, was under arrest last night, together with his son James and his son-in-law, John Scruggs. Benjamin Kimmons has not been captured.

Lingerfelt, it is claimed, was trying to break up a church service at the time of the shooting. Rewards had been offered for the capture of the preachers.

AN EXPLOSION

Caused Damage Estimated at $20,000

SUTTON, Jan. 10.—Pieces of a 20-foot flywheel which exploded in the engine room of the B. E. & R. Knight cotton mill yesterday and tore through the roof, did damage estimated at $20,000 to the engine room and mill proper. One piece, weighing upwards of 1200 pounds, was thrown high in the air and landed on the roof of the mill which is four stories high, tearing its way through the roof and finally lodging among the rafters, hardly 10 feet from where Alexis Bell, a mill spinner was at work. Another piece half a ton in weight, landed on the ice of the mill pond, while a third piece still rests upon the top of the gas house.

The explosion followed a slight fire in the mill room, on the top floor of the mill. The fire itself was of little consequence. A piece of the wheel struck a steam pipe, filling the engine room with steam, and Engineer John Courtney was somewhat scalded. Fred Bligh, the master mechanic, was stunned and is under the care of a physician. In the excitement attendant upon the explosion, several employees fainted.

POLE SNAPPED

A pair of horses belonging to the street department and attached to a heavy dumpcart made a wild dash through the Clark road yesterday, but they had not traveled far before the pole of the wagon snapped, and the horses came to a standstill. The driver was standing at the side of the wagon when the horses started.

The Commission Again Favors Old Washington Tavern Site

The Huntington hall commission is set on the land now occupied by the Old Washington tavern at the corner of Central and Church streets as a site for the new Huntington hall. The commission met yesterday afternoon at city hall and voted to notify the city council that the committee had selected the Old Washington tavern site. This is the second time that the committee has recommended this site.

It might be said that yesterday's meeting was the annual meeting of the commission as it is nearly a year ago since the last meeting was held. Mayor John F. Meahan was again elected chairman of the commission and presided at the meeting and said he wanted to see work on the new hall begun this year. The records of the last meeting were read by the clerk, Major Charles S. Proctor. The other members of the commission, all of whom were present, are Henry Russell, Henry L. Fowler and Frank W. Thurston. It was the sense of the meeting that a public hall should be built at once and it was unanimously voted to recommend to the city council, for the second time, the Old Washington Tavern site. Mayor Meahan said he wanted to see something done on a new hall in the early spring. He said the public had waited quite long enough for a hall and he wanted to see the thing started. He said the main purpose of the committee was to select a site. He said that a year ago he did not favor the Old Washington Tavern site, believing that the civic center idea should be followed out, but that he was now willing to go on record as in favor of the site selected.

Mr. Proctor read a communication which the commission received from the city council last summer. It will be remembered that the city council appointed a committee to confer with the commission and after a conference the committee reported back to the city council to the effect that in its judgment the price asked for the Old Washington Tavern site, $70,000, was too much for the city to pay and that public baths in common with a public hall should not be adopted. The city council adopted the committee's report thus putting a quietus on the proposition for the time being.

The commission, yesterday, discussed other sites including the Corner lot, the land near the York club, the lots in Paige and Bridge streets near Merrimack square and the Towse's corner flat-iron. Mr. Proctor allowed that the flat-iron would cost too much money and that he would not favor the purchase of it when land across the street could be purchased for less than half what was asked for flat-iron.

After other sites had been discussed the following motion was put by Mr. Russell and unanimously adopted: To the City Council of the City of Lowell:

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Huntington hall commission, held this day at city hall, it was unanimously voted that this commission instruct its secretary to notify the city council that in accordance with the duty imposed upon us, we have selected as a site for the new Huntington hall, the lot of land bounded by Central, Church and Green streets and the so-called W. A. Ingham land. As we understand, this land is assessed for the year 1910 as follows:

Lot of land with buildings of Edward Cawley	$20,000
Lot of land with buildings of A. C. Wheelock	15,200
Lot of land with buildings of Wm. H. Healey	11,950
Lot of land with buildings of Wm. H. Healey	4,650
Lot of land with buildings of Edward Cawley	1,100
Total	$61,900

This area, as assessed, contains 21,563 square feet, in addition to passage rights in 420 square feet.

JOE COSTER

HAD A SHADE THE BETTER OF ABE ATTELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Joe Coster of Brooklyn had a shade the better of Abe Attell in a fast and clean 10 round bout before the Vanderbilt A. C. in Brooklyn last night. Attell was forced to extend himself at all times to hold his own and in the 10th round Coster was at him with a rush and with a hard right to the jaw nearly put the featherweight champion through the ropes.

Attell came back strong and both were fighting furiously at the bell.

Is Being Boomed for the U. S. Senatorship

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—One week from yesterday the first vote for U. S. senator to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge will be taken in the Massachusetts legislature. The campaign against Senator Lodge is warming up.

The latest piece of gossip is that some republican members of the legislature, who do not care to vote for Senator Lodge are framing up a boom for Speaker Walker. They realize that the speaker is committed to Lodge and they have also figured that as soon as the boom for the speaker is sprung the latter will say he is not a candidate, but they say that they propose to ignore Walker's protest.

Representative Russell Wood of Cambridge is said to be the leader in the Walker movement. He has been anti-Lodge from the start. Mr. Wood said yesterday that he could find nothing in Senator Lodge's Symphony hall speech to change his mind on the senatorial question. Mr. Wood may have the assistance of Representative Bean of Cambridge in his effort to start a demonstration for Speaker Walker and one or two others from other parts of the state are said to favor the plan.

Mr. Wood has seen and talked with Congressman Butler Ames, Senator Lodge's only avowed republican opponent, but it is claimed that he was not deeply impressed with the Lowell congressman. Mr. Wood is a progressive republican. He says he has looked over Ames' congressional career and that he doesn't find much encouragement in it for a progressive republican to admire. Walker is his ideal as a progressive.

According to the present plan the Walker men intend to send out a formal appeal within a day or two to the members of the legislature asking them to cast their ballots for the speaker as Senator Lodge's successor.

Congressman Ames put in a busy day yesterday at the Parker House seeing members of the legislature. It has been suggested to the congressman that he get out a platform on which to stand as a candidate for senator. At first he thought it would be a mighty good thing to do, but after thinking the matter over he said yesterday that he was still undecided.

"Do you believe in the election of U. S. senators by a direct vote of the people?" asked one of the reporters yesterday afternoon when Mr. Ames saw the newspaper men.

"I certainly do," was his reply. "I believe that anything that a majority of the people want they should have."

"Whether it is right or wrong, good for them or bad for them?" asked another.

"Yes, right or wrong, good or bad," replied the congressman. "You know the average man would rather be cheated out of a dollar than be robbed of a quarter."

Mr. Ames told the reporters that his best friends in the senatorial contest were copious tears when they found out he insisted on putting out his demand that Senator Lodge withdraw from the senatorship fight three days before election, and thus save the governorship to the party. He admitted that it cost him republican votes, but it gained him democratic support which elected him to congress.

SUPREME COURT A LIVELY BLAZE

Petition Against Ex-Gov. Draper Dismissed

In Cellar of Moody St. Market

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The supreme judicial court yesterday held that it had power to authorize the removal of an official act of the governor of the state.

The question came before the full court on the petition of Charles W. Rice for a writ of mandamus to compel Elmer S. Draper, who was then governor, to pay him the sum of $300 represented by assignments which he held on 22 Massachusetts veterans of the Spanish-American war. The petition was dismissed.

CHAS. HARTWELL

Won Ribbons at Poultry Show

Charles C. Hartwell of this city, who is considered an expert raiser of white and buff Plymouth Rocks, had some of the best specimens of his hens on exhibition at the eighth annual show of the Queen City Poultry association at Manchester, N. H., January 3 to 6 and his birds succeeded in capturing 23 ribbons.

He captured the first leg in the exhibition of the best of the highest scoring birds in the American class and also a ribbon indicating that he took the first leg in the buff Plymouth Rock cup, donated by J. F. Flansburg of Manchester. Each of these cups must be won once more in order to become his property.

In addition to these he took six first prizes, two seconds, three thirds, one fourth, six specials and three club ribbons. Altogether Mr. Hartwell had 18 entries and 23 birds at the show, and took, therefore one ribbon for each bird entered.

James Danforth of Tyngsboro, entered 12 birds, and Mrs. Danforth entered white Orpingtons. Both secured ribbons.

ISLAND OF CRETE

MAKES AN APPEAL TO PRESIDENT TAFT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Desiring to rid itself of Turkish sovereignty and to become again a part of Greece, the island of Crete yesterday appealed to President Taft through a committee which called upon him to take up through the state department with the protecting powers of Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy, the question of terminating Turkish rule in the island.

John Maron, Michael Theodoropoulos and Aristides Sourias, who composed the committee, presented to the president a resolution recently adopted by the United Greek societies in this country asking that Crete be allowed to become a part of Greece.

After leaving the White House, they went to the state department to discuss the matter with Secretary Knox.

PRINCETON TEAM

GAMES FOR THE BASEBALL SQUAD ANNOUNCED

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Dartmouth, Cornell and Michigan are the new teams on the Princeton baseball schedule for 1911, announced last night. The usual series of three games with Harvard has been reduced to one because of difficulties in arranging dates suitable to both institutions. The schedule includes the following dates: April 12, Dartmouth at Atlantic City; 13, Baltimore (Eastern league) at Baltimore; 22, Brown university at Providence; 29, Cornell at Princeton; May 9, Williams at Princeton; 6, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; 10, Brown at Princeton; 33, Cornell at Ithaca; 20, Harvard at Princeton; 24, Michigan at Princeton; 37, Pennsylvania at Princeton; 31, Holy Cross at Princeton; June 3, Yale at New Haven; 10, Yale at Princeton; 16, Yale at New York in case of tie.

She and Her Niece Were Found Unconscious From Gas

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Mary Egan, a bride of four months, and her niece, 11 years old, Clara Hartman, of Jersey City, were found unconscious from gas early yesterday at the home of the latter on South Second street, Brooklyn, victims of a suicide pact. Six sleeping children of William Wilson, a neighbor, also were made unconscious by the fumes. All were revived by a physician and Mrs. Egan was taken to the Williamsburg hospital, where she is under arrest. A note pinned to the tablecloth in the dining room was found by James Egan, Mrs. Egan's husband. In it the young wife declared that she had nothing further to live for and that her niece had begged the privilege of dying with her.

The annual state convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen is being held in this city. The convention which will last two days, opened at 23 Middle street at 10 o'clock yesterday. Delegates are present from Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Pittsfield, Lee, North Adams, Adams, Turner's Falls, Holyoke, Fitchburg, Lawrence, New Bedford, Fall River, Gardner and Brockton. John T. Hendricks, president of local 14, called to order and introduced, as presiding officer, State President, P. J. Thornton of Boston. Mayor John F. Meschan made the address of welcome and extended a hearty greeting to the visiting delegates. He spoke of the responsibilities of their position as firemen and wished that their visit would be a pleasant and a profitable one. He said that the men at the boilers were seldom heard from but the thinking public appreciates their service, their loyalty and faithfulness to duty. There are few men, he said, deserving of more credit than the fireman. The report of the state secretary and treasurer, Fred P. Brown of Holyoke, was a very encouraging one. The organization has shown a splendid gain, financially and numerically, 258 members having been added within the last three months. The convention will deal with a number of important questions and will discuss legislative measures designed to promote the welfare of the firemen. One proposition will be to have certain changes made in the firemen's license law and to make it compulsory that every man who generates steam shall have a license. After adjourning for dinner certain committee work was assigned, different delegates and they returned to the hall about 3 o'clock.

Of French American Volunteer Brigade Held a Meeting

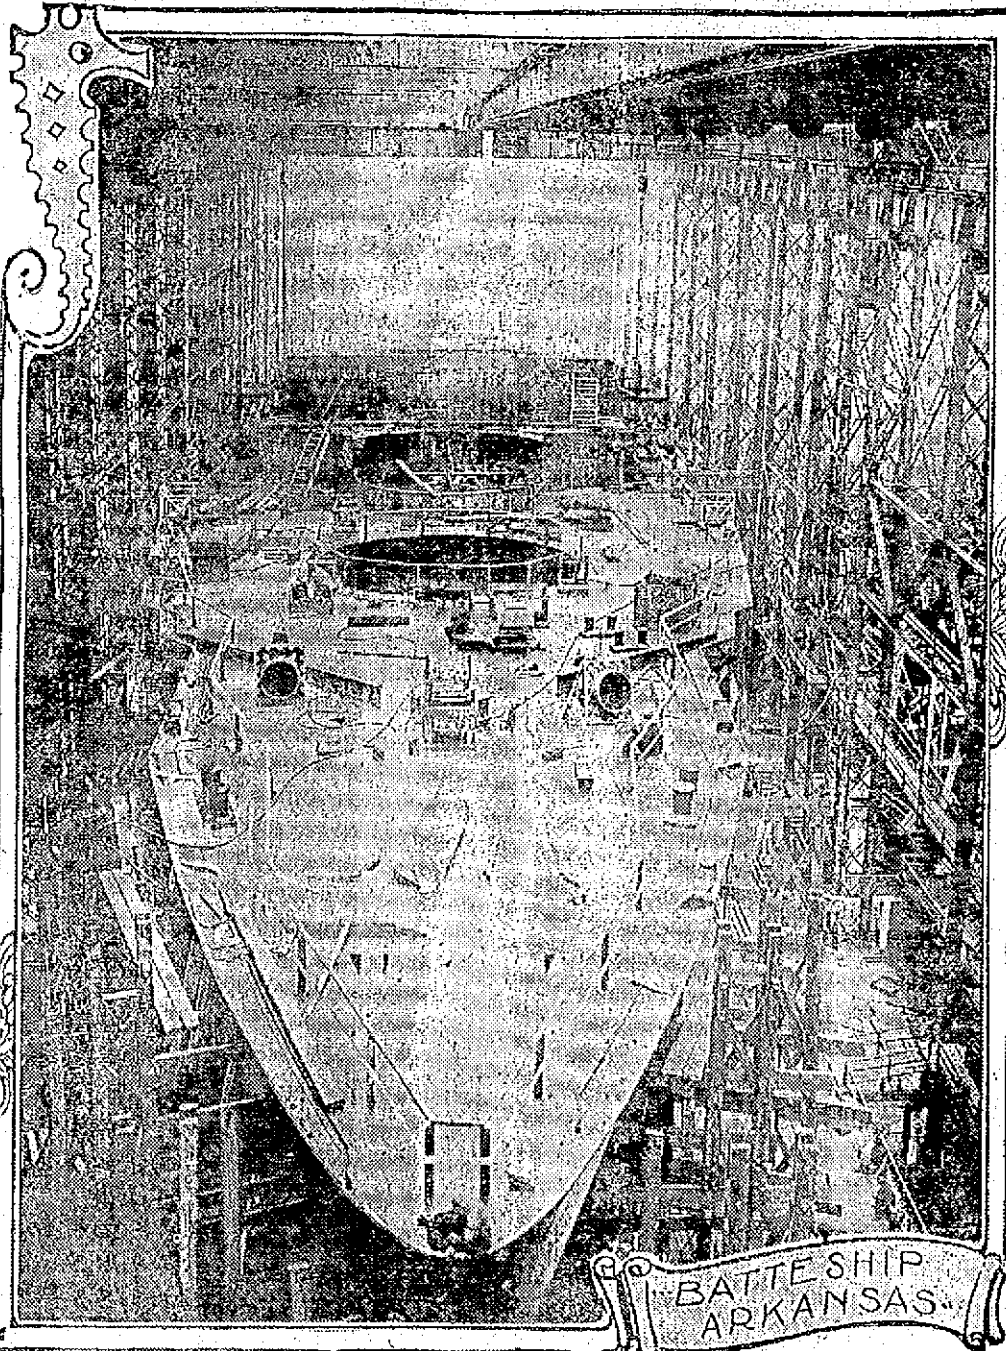

The Second regiment of the French-American Volunteer Brigade of New England held a well attended meeting in Lawrence Sunday afternoon. This meeting was held at 1.30 o'clock in the French-American hall, and was presided over by Col. Albert Bergeron, captain of Garde Frontenac of this city. All plans were completed for the coming convention of the brigade, which will be held in Fall River on the 20th, 30th and 31st of the present month. A committee was named to arrange for a play to be given in Lawrence, Lowell, Salem and Newburyport in the near future for the benefit of the Second regiment. This committee is composed of the following: Alfred Grenier of Garde Jacques-Cartier of Lowell, W. C. Desharnais of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Col. Alfred Lacroix of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Leonce Thibault of Garde Nationale of Salem, and Sergt. George Morrisette of Garde Frontenac of this city. It was also voted to send delegates from every guard of the regiment to the coming convention. Among the delegates present were: Lieut. Col. Alfred Lacroix, E. Bergeron and Narcisse Makouf of Garde Laurier of Lawrence; Theophile Dube, and Quartermaster Sergeant Leonce Thibault of Garde Nationale of Salem, Mass., Capt. Joseph L. Pigeon, George Gaudette and Alfred Grenier of Garde Jacques-Cartier of Lowell, W. C. Desharnais of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Col. Alfred Lacroix of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Leonce Thibault of Garde Nationale of Salem, and Sergt. George Morrisette of Garde Frontenac of Lowell.

THE ENGINEERS Propose Amendment to Service Law

At a meeting of the legislative committee of the International Association of Steam Engineers, held in Boston Sunday afternoon, it was voted to amend the present law, so that a man to become eligible to take the examination for an engineer's license, must have served as engineer for a certain length of time. Local members of the association were present at this meeting.

DREADNOUGHT ARKANSAS TO BE LAUNCHED JAN. 14 AT CAMDEN, N. J.

Take ALLEOTONE For Your Cold, Sore Throat or Feverishness

ALLEOTONE is unique among all remedies in that it contains nothing but the very elements from which the human body is made.

Your flesh and blood are made of millions of tiny cells. These cells are made from certain distinct chemical elements.

As long as the supply of these elements derived from the food is adequate, the cells do their work and health reigns.

But, let that supply fail off, the activity of the cell drops down, and disease germs get a foothold.

Most medicine is decidedly made of elements that are foreign to the human system. Such are strychnia or calomel.

The system tries to cast them forth, and in that effort an unnatural, over-stimulation is induced which often throws off the disease.

ALLEOTONE on the other hand, contains only those elements which your system is struggling to obtain from the nourishment, the lack of which is the very cause of the illness. There is no over-stimulation, no unfavorable after-effect, because ALLEOTONE is as natural to the system as water.

For these reasons, ALLEOTONE works with a rapidity that is hardly credited by those who do not understand the principle on which it is based.

That principle has been under test for twenty years. Hundreds of physicians and hospitals are regularly using ALLEOTONE for all infectious (or germ) diseases.

You should learn for yourself the great value of ALLEOTONE as a remedy, a tonic and preventive. Try it for your Cold, Grippe, Sore Throat or Tonsillitis.

FALLS & BURKINSHAW

B. F. COPELAND COMPANY, BOSTON, HATHAWAY BUILDING.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 10.—Within another week the battleship Arkansas, one more of the nation's "peacemakers," will be launched. This latest Dreadnought will take the water next Saturday, Jan. 14. One o'clock in the afternoon is the hour set, and then as the trigger is released 12,000 inert tons will be started into life—the gigantic hull will be on her way to her first bath in the waves, hereafter to be her element. The launching will take place here in the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company, the firm which obtained the contract for building the Arkansas. Not many years ago the laying down of a 20,000 ton ship was argued in Great Britain as a means of putting an end to the building of navies, but since the new standard was set the fallacy of the argument has been shown. Already in commission, building and provided for there are in the world's navies upward of 100 Dreadnoughts and super-Dreadnoughts. The original Dreadnought is almost obsolete. In the United States navy two of the new units are in commission, the North Dakota and the Delaware. Two more—the Utah and the Florida—are well toward completion. The next to take the water is the Arkansas, which will be closely followed by the Wyoming, and the New York and the Texas have been provided for. Each pair of sister ships has shown some improvement over the preceding pair, and it is becoming an accepted fact in naval circles that a battleship cannot hope to wear out. She cannot hope for a life of more than ten years—this in time of peace. Some idea of the rapidity with which these changes have come can be gathered from the statement that a single broadside from one of the modern monsters is nearly equal in weight to the combined weight of all the shot thrown from all the guns of all the fleet engaged in the battle of Manila bay. The rapidity with which the later vessels of the Dreadnought type have drawn away from the original is shown by the figures of tonnage. The first of the kind, laid down in 1905, had a tonnage of a little more than 18,000. The Delaware and the North Dakota, the first American ships of the class, are 20,000 tons each; the Florida and the Utah are 22,000 tons, the Arkansas and the Wyoming and the two ships provided for later are 26,000 tons, and still bigger ones are contemplated. Considering other navies, the two vessels building in the United States yards for the Argentine government are bigger than the Arkansas and her sister by a thousand tons, while the Brazilian government has one still larger being built.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The first aid to the injured class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight at 7.30 with Dr. Sumner. Any young man in the association may take this valuable course, for no fee is charged. Each student must, however, pay for his book and outfit.

At 8.30 o'clock Wednesday evening the employed boys will have their first social of the season, when Dr. G. M. Randall will give a very valuable health talk on "Tuberculosis," illustrated by 50 stereoscopic slides.

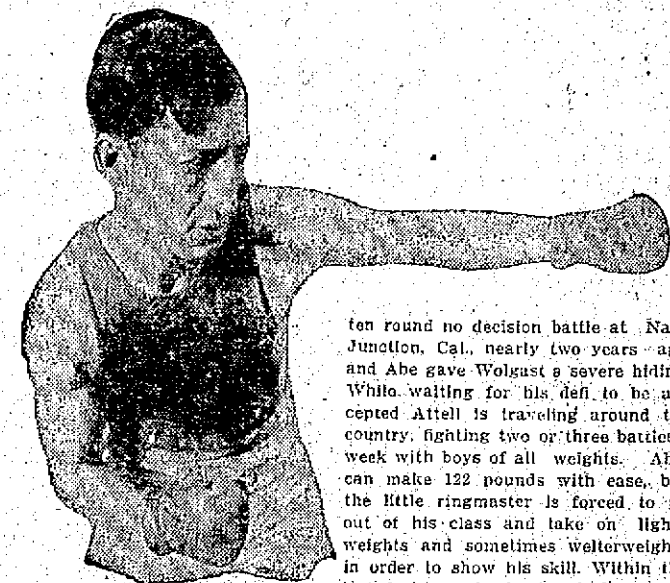

The basketball league games will start promptly at 7 o'clock. All teams will play it on the floor on time, and at 8.30 sharp the lecture will begin. Refreshments will be served.

On the same evening it will be ladies' night for the senior gymnasium class, followed after 8 o'clock by a Victrola concert and refreshments.

The Y. M. C. A. has now 111 members. The board of directors met last night and the report of the membership committee showed that the membership had reached the highest point in the history of the association. The highest number reported in any previous month was 658.

Registrations for rooms in the dormitory for the new building are now being received. On Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, at 8 o'clock, a fine gymnastic program consisting of class drill, maze, running and apparatus work will be given in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Hurd street, followed by a Victrola recital given by Mr. A. L. Hiler of Steinert's music store.

ABE ATTELL ANXIOUS FOR BATTLE WITH WOLGAST

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Abe Attell is the latest one to issue a challenge to Ad Wolgast. The featherweight champion says that the lightweight champion can name the terms for a contest to suit himself. Attell thinks that he would experience little difficulty in beating Wolgast. The pair met in a ten round no decision battle at Naud Junction, Cal., nearly two years ago, and Abe gave Wolgast a severe hiding. While waiting for his deft to be accepted Attell is traveling around the country, fighting two or three battles a week with boys of all weights. Attell can make 122 pounds with ease, but the little ringmaster is forced to go out of his class and take on lightweight and sometimes welterweights in order to show his skill. Within the last four months he has had twenty-two battles of varying lengths, and in order to fill these dates Attell has been forced to hop about from one end of the country to the other. The featherweight champion has traveled around the country more than any other pugilist, and for fourteen years he has exhibited his skill in nearly every large city in the United States.

HORSE KILLED Wagon Was Struck by Electric Car

ARLINGTON, Jan. 10.—Charles Tedesco, aged 15, of Main street, Winchester, was seriously injured about 5.30 last evening, when the wagon he was driving was struck by a Boston & Northern street car. The collision was on Mystic street, near Chestnut, and the wagon and car met head on. The horse was killed outright, and the boy thrown heavily to the ground. Tedesco was employed by Angela Caterino, a local fruit merchant, and yesterday was his first day at work. He came here on the recommendation of Chief McIntosh of Winchester. He was put on odd jobs about the store and shortly after 5 o'clock was told to drive to a local hay and grain store and get some feed for the horse, and then to Mr. Caterino's home on Mystic street, a short distance from where the accident happened. It is thought that after getting the grain the boy continued along the left side of the street, and when he saw the car coming, became confused, pulling across the tracks directly in front of the big car. The car killed the horse almost instantly. The wagon was wrecked. The driver was rushed to the police station, where Dr. Daniel J. Buckley and Dr. Harold R. Webb attended him and found both legs broken near the hips, his face badly injured and a possible injury to the head. They rushed him to the Massachusetts General hospital in the police ambulance. The cars of the Boston & Northern are equipped with large searchlights, and at the point where the accident happened there is an arc light in the street, and it is possible that the boy thought he could get over to the other side in time. A slight turn in the road is supposed to have confused him, and many alleged that being a young and inexperienced driver, he may have pulled in the wrong rein and thus pulled the horse directly in front of the car. Reports from the hospital are that the boy is in a very serious condition.

NEW YORK CITY IS HOUSE-CLEANING AMONG HER BANKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—New York bankers are undergoing a housecleaning. The failure of Robin banks, followed by the closing of the Carnegie Trust company, has once more demonstrated the power of J. P. Morgan. Three other banks were due to close, but Mr. Morgan came to the front and added his magic name, as saying, would see that the banks paid in full, and as a result they are due to be left open by the state and government officials. August Belmont has been selected by a number of bankers to make a report on various institutions, and New York city with more than 200 banks and trust companies is to have a complete overhauling. It is said that one of the laws laid down by Morgan in coming to the assistance of the tottering banks was that all the weak ones should be willing to consolidate with other banks.

DRAFT OF CHARTER

Considered by Committee of 60
Last Evening

The Committee Will Make Many
Changes Before Submitting
Draft to Legislature — Salient
Points of New Draft

The committee of 60 on charter revision held a lengthy meeting at the board of trade rooms last evening and discussed the draft of the proposed new charter.

The draft is not ready for publication as yet, as many changes are necessary and will be made within a short time.

When these changes have been made the draft will be filed at the state house for legislative action thereon with ultimate referendum to the people next fall.

The new charter provides for a city council of five members, a mayor and four aldermen to be elected by the people at large for two year terms. There shall be a school committee of five similarly elected which shall have general management and control of the schools, and also license and park commissions acting as now.

Municipal Council

The governing body of the city under the new charter will be a municipal council of five members, including a mayor and four aldermen. The annual city elections are to be on the second Tuesday of each December with the municipal year beginning at 10 a. m. on the first Monday in January.

The members of the city government are to have two-year terms.

Preliminary elections shall precede the annual city election and the two persons receiving the highest and second highest number of votes respectively for mayor, shall be the candidates at the annual city election, three weeks later. Carrying out this same theory at the preliminary elections, those who are to be candidates for aldermen at the annual city election will be the eight others receiving the highest number of votes. The two men will run for mayor and eight men for aldermen, one mayor and four aldermen being elected in the end. The preliminary election acts as a sifting-out process, those receiving the highest votes being the real candidates. This same rule applies to school committee elections.

There will be no party designation on the ballot.

Abolishment of Present Government

Section 21. At ten o'clock in the forenoon of the first Monday of January, in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, the city council, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen and common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board shall be abolished; the terms of office shall be the present mayor, aldermen, common council, school committee, members of the board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board are now serving shall terminate; and except as is otherwise provided in this act, all the present powers and duties, under any act, general or special, of the mayor, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen, city council, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, and all the powers and duties with respect to the police force in said city now vested in the board of police of the city of Lowell, are hereby transferred to, shall vest in, devolve upon, and be exercised and performed by the municipal council. The municipal council shall be the judge of the election of its own members.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of public safety, and the municipal council shall at such meeting, or so soon thereafter as may be, designate by majority vote one alderman to be commissioner of finance; one to be commissioner of streets and highways; one to be commissioner of water works and fire protection; and one to be commissioner of public property, but such designations shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby. The mayor or shall cause to be kept a record of all of his official acts, and to aid him in his official duties may appoint one or more clerks.

Powers of the Municipal Council

Section 25. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, without the approval of the mayor, all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, can now do with such approval. The municipal council shall determine the policies to be pursued and the work to be undertaken in each department, but each commissioner shall have full power to carry out the policies or have the work performed in his department, as directed by the municipal council. Any notes, bonds or scrip which said city is authorized to issue shall be signed by its treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the municipal council.

Section 26. The municipal council shall have full supervision of the erection, alteration and repair of all public buildings including school buildings, except repairs and alterations of school buildings for which provision is made in the annual appropriation. No department of the city and no corporation or person shall at any time, open, dig up or otherwise obstruct any way or sidewalk, without the consent of the municipal council in writing previously obtained, except in case of an emergency.

Administrative Officers

Section 37. There shall be the following administrative officers, who shall perform the duties prescribed by law for them, respectively, and such further duties, not inconsistent with the nature of their respective offices and with general law, as the municipal council may prescribe, except as is otherwise provided herein: a city clerk, a city treasurer and collector of taxes, a city auditor, a purchasing agent, a city engineer, a city physician, a city messenger, a board of health, consisting of three members, a board of park commissioners, consisting of five members, a city solicitor, a chief of the fire department, a superintendent of police, a license commission of three, a scaler of weights and measures, a board of

Departments

Section 38. The administration of all affairs of the city shall be divided into five departments, to wit: Department of public safety, department of finance, department of streets and highways, department of water works and fire protection and department of public property and licenses; and said departments are defined as follows: The department of public safety shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Police, health, poor, legal and claims.

The department of finance shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Treasury, auditing, purchasing, assessing, sinking funds, tax collection, registration of voters and city clerk.

The department of streets and highways shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Highways and other ways, street lighting, street watering, sewers and drains and engineering. The commissioner of streets and highways, except as is herein otherwise provided, shall have exclusively the powers of, and be subject to the liabilities and penalties imposed by law on surveyors of highways.

The department of water works and fire protection shall include all boards and offices connected with the water supply of the city and fire protection.

The department of public property shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Buildings, parks, public grounds, cemeteries, electrical, weights and measures. Every official or board having to do with the affairs of the city with the exception of such as pertain to the school committee or the city library shall be included in one of the above five departments, and if the assignment to a department is not made hereunder, the municipal council shall by ordinance assign such office, office, board or boards to the department best adapted to include the same.

Section 39. The municipal council shall have the power to appoint the administrative officers named in section thirty-seven, and all other executive and administrative officers, and heads of sub-departments heretofore known or designated as heads of departments, now appointed or chosen by the mayor whether with or without confirmation, or by the city council, or by the mayor and aldermen, or by the board of aldermen, or by the board of aldermen and common council whether by concurrence or by joint action, and all additional executive or administrative officers and heads of sub-departments for which provision may hereafter be made by the municipal council, in accordance with this act and the general laws of the commonwealth.

Section 40. The municipal council shall have the power to suspend or remove any executive or administrative officer or head of department if it has the power to appoint, for such cause as it shall deem sufficient. The municipal council shall set forth in the order of suspension or removal its reasons therefor, provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any of the following special departments, namely, school committee, license commission, or the trustees of the public library.

The draft also provides for the recall and the initiative and referendum. The matter of salaries is left open in the draft and will be determined upon during the week.

BY DIRECT VOTE

The Election of Senators is Favored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the senate committee on the judiciary, held last yesterday, a decision was reached to report favorably the sub-committee resolution authorizing an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

The controversy in the committee turned upon the question as to whether the state or the federal government should supervise the elections. The sub-committee's provision directs that the "time, places and manner of holding elections shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof." Senators Deane and Nelson, both of whom are giving congress the power to regulate, but the southern senators pressed these provisions as most prejudicial to the interests of their constituents, some of them going so far as to assert that the measure would be more obnoxious than the Force bill of the early '90s, which caused one of the most famous of the senate fights. Both amendments were voted down 3 to 3. The favorable votes were cast by Senators Deane, Nelson and Dillingham.

Senator Herah, who favored the sub-committee's recommendation, was authorized to present the committee's report to the senate. There is strong opposition in the senate to the measure and there will be little difficulty in preventing action during the present session, it is believed. The measure thus will die in this congress. Never before has a favorable report on a similar measure been received from the judiciary committee.

PLEASANT PARTY

Held in St. Joseph's College Hall

An interesting soiree was given last night in St. Joseph college hall in Merrimack street. The affair consisted of a whist and an illustrated lecture on Japan by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church. It was largely attended, and the proceeds which will be devoted to the purchase of a new pulpit for St. Jean Baptiste church, were large.

Dr. A. G. Payette had the direction of the program. Euphane Labrie, sexton of St. Jean Baptiste church, had general charge of the soiree and was assisted by the following young women who acted as scorers: Mrs. G. Joyal, Misses Laura Guerin, Regina Berger, Clementine, Celina, Fabiola and Blanche Delisle, Rosanna Paradis, Cordelia Carrier, Alphonsine Ouellette, Marie Gouty, Marie Louise Bannier, Yvonne Tremblay, Marie Rose Racette, Della and Clara Hardy, Anita Desrosiers, Josephine Leclair, Juliette Brassard and Eugene Vincent.

An interesting whist contest opened the program and was followed by the lecture on Japan. Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., was to speak on the Eucharistic congress, but this program had to be cancelled because the necessary views had not arrived. Fr. Baron's lecture proved of capital interest and no one was disappointed at the change. By means of the reflectoscope, a number of beautiful views of Japanese landscapes, temples, gods and celebrities were shown.

After the lecture, the whist prizes were awarded by the following judges: Joseph L. Lamoureux, Charles E. Barry and Zuel St. Hilaire. The winners were: Mrs. Danosse, Pamela Sawyer, Odile Sawyer, Mrs. Charon, Laura Pratte, Almeria Cote, Theophile Guertin, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bouduc, Blanche Berthevin, Leda Chabot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arbour, Clara Renaud, Felicie Brunelle.

SEC'Y MEYER

MAKES REPLY TO GOVERNOR DONAGHEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In response to what he characterized as "rather acrimonious communication from the governor of Arkansas," Secretary of the Navy Meyer issued a statement yesterday explaining the impracticability of postponing the launching of the battleship Arkansas. Gov. Donaghey complained in his letter that the navy department ignored him and the officials of the state of Arkansas in the launching preparations and charged that Secretary Meyer was "guilty not only of gross discourtesy to the representative of a sovereign state," but had "subjected himself to a criticism that cannot be adequately expressed in an official communication from the representative of a state to an official of the federal government." Secretary Meyer in his statement regrets the "misunderstanding" under which the governor of Arkansas seems to labor and hopes that the state will find ample opportunity later to express its appreciation of the act of naming the battleship for that state.

Gov. Donaghey has announced that the state would take no further responsibility for the ceremonies of Jan. 14th.

Secretary Meyer asserts that he informed Gov. Donaghey of the date of the launching as early as possible and asked him to name a sponsor, receiving a reply from the governor that because the notice was too short it had been decided to perform the christening after the launching. As a sponsor must be named, the navy department communicated with Rep. Macon of Arkansas, the only representative of the Arkansas delegation who could be found in the city. Mr. Macon's daughter, therefore, was named as sponsor.

Corn Day is to be Observed

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 10.—Governor Eberhart has given his approval to the plan of the promoters of the National Corn Show to be held in Columbus, Ohio, to observe Friday, February 3, as National Corn Day. The governor set his stamp of approval on the plan when he appointed 300 delegates from Minnesota to the Columbus show.

Following the governor's sanction of the plan it was suggested that the people of Minnesota have a corn dinner on February 3. Professor C. F. Bull, of the department of agronomy, Minnesota College of Agriculture, says it will be easy to fix up a palatable menu.

Minnesota, according to George F. Welsh, state immigration commissioner, has better reason for celebrating corn day than any other state in the Union. "There was a time," said Mr. Welsh, "when everybody thought Minnesota was too far north to produce corn in any quantity. But we have fooled those skeptical persons in the last few years. Our agricultural experts have found that the Minnesota soil is as good for corn as it is for wheat and the whole world knows about our wheat. Corn is now being raised throughout the 46 miles of the state's length from Iowa to the Canadian border. The yield last year was 55,000,000 bushels and in 1909 it was 60,000,000. The decrease was due to the fact that fewer acres were planted in 1909."

Official figures show that Iowa having been excelled already, Illinois will soon have to look to her laurels as a corn producing state if Minnesota keeps up her advancement in this branch of agriculture. Thousands of acres of the corn land are lying beneath swamps and timber lands in Northern Minnesota and thousands of acres of filled land are devoted to wheat, yet the average yield per acre for 1909 in Minnesota was 34-3 bushels as against 35.2 bushels for Illinois and 31.5 bushels for Iowa. In the Southern part of Minnesota the average yield per acre is more than 45 bushels. The state's average yield per acre in 1910 was 32.5 bushels. The Illinois and Iowa figures are not available, but it is understood that they made a better showing than in 1909.

Minnesota would be the best corn producing state in the union if the farmers only took more care in its culture and were as good corn breeders as those of Iowa and Illinois," continued Commissioner Welsh. "The corn crops are not rotated as they should be, as Minnesota farmers prefer to make a specialty of wheat raising, thinking they can do better by raising a crop that many other states cannot raise. There was no crop failure in Minnesota last year. With the corn yield 55,000,000 bushels and the wheat yield 94,000,000 bushels conditions were about the same as in 1909."

Professor Bull says the faculty of the Minnesota college of agriculture is anxious that Corn day shall be generally observed. Professor Bull is a soil culturist and knows all about treating soil to produce any sort of corn that is wanted for special use. He can raise corn that will either fatten or make stock lean as may be desired by treating the soil and selecting the seed. He can raise corn that will produce an oil which passes in commerce as olive oil. Of he can produce a corn that is free from oil and contains a large proportion of starch. These are a few of the reasons why Minnesota can enter into the observance of Corn day with a willing spirit.

It has been suggested that Governor Eberhart issue a special proclamation calling upon the people to observe the day, but at the executive office it is not believed such action will be necessary.

LEADERS HELD
OTHER REBELS WERE GIVEN
THEIR LIBERTY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Seventy-three of the rebels who figured in the taking of Batopilas have surrendered to the federal officers and made public declarations of their desire to return to their former peaceful occupations. They turned over 45 carbines and other weapons. The prisoners, with the exception of Apollonio Rodriguez and three other leaders were given their liberty.

The first news direct from Guerrero which has been re-occupied by the federals, indicates that a number of government representatives and several citizens were put to death by the revolutionists.

BIG BIPLANE
RAN AWAY WITH GOV. ELECT
COLQUITT

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10.—John J. Frisbie's Rochester biplane ran away with Governor-elect Colquitt of Texas yesterday and while Mr. Colquitt was posing for newspaper photographers

The governor struck his foot against the accelerator, releasing the machine and for several hundred yards the machine bounded along the track, finally being stopped. The governor-elect seemed to enjoy the experience. Frisbie had a narrow escape from injury later when the machine smashed into a fence. He was thrown several feet and momentarily stunned but was otherwise uninjured.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, United Spanish War Veterans, was held last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance and considerable business of importance was transacted during the meeting. Commander George E. Sutherland presided. One of the principal matters brought to the attention of the command was that concerning the department convention which will be held in this city on April 19. The following committee of five was named to have charge of all arrangements: Capt. Colby Thomas, Klitredge, chairman; Capt. Philip McNulty, Capt. Walter R. Joyce, Arthur Salmon and Frank Dodge.

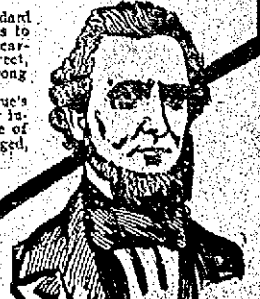

Camp Ames will hold a joint installation with Edith Prescott Volcott auxiliary on the night of January 23. Officers of both departments will be present to perform the work.

C. V. A. O. H.

The committee of Division 2, A. O. H. appointed to conduct a coupon contest on April 18, met last night and perfected plans for the affair. It was also voted to hold a complimentary dance on Feb. 17 and the following officers were chosen to have charge of the affair: General manager, John P. Sheahan; assistant, Charles Riley; floor director, Austin Rourke; assistant, Timothy Rordan; Philip Healy, chairman of the reception committee. John D. Rordan, Denis F. Lynch and James J. Carlin, Jr., were named to serve on the music and printing committee.

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning, suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR
A pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851. It never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.
The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventative of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1916 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1917. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The republicans expect the democrats in congress to put up a hot battle on the tariff, and it would not be right to disappoint them on that score.

We have several amateur wireless stations here in Lowell that might have a commercial value under certain conditions. The possibilities of the wireless are still beyond comprehension.

Perhaps after all it is just as well to let the faith healers have their way. If Dr. Wiley's prediction that the earth will eventually become so cold that men will freeze at the equator, these faith curists may be needed to teach the people how to keep warm.

That murder at Providence last Saturday night was one of the most cruel in the annals of crime. No punishment would be too severe for the fiend who stabbed the woman's body all over with a table fork, in order, it is presumed, to make her tell of more money than he had found in her wallet.

The police of the country should bend their efforts towards putting a stop to the Black Hand villainies. The kidnapping and holding for ransom and the demand for large sums of money under penalty of death are so outrageous that the severest penalties of the law would not be too much to impose upon the culprits.

John D. Rockefeller must feel that the trustees of the Chicago university are hard to satisfy when on paying them $10,000,000 as the last instalment of $35,000,000 he told them that was all they would get from him and not to expect any more. Perhaps from experience he anticipated from the president of the university a modest request to double his donation in order to put the university on a permanent paying basis.

MRS. HOWE'S MEMORY

The friends of the late Mrs. Julia Ward Howe are too hasty in their demands for recognition of her memory after the manner that they themselves prescribe. Better wait until the people realize that she is dead. The people of this country can be relied upon to do full justice to the memory of this noble woman, and it is ill advised to force the matter at this stage.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS

The amendment of the federal constitution to provide for the popular election of senators should be pushed to the limit. The method of instructing the legislature by popular vote amounts to very little. The legislators ignore it whenever they see fit. On this matter we are practically in the same predicament as are the British people on the house of lords veto. The national house has several times passed the amendment providing for direct election of senators. The senate refused to pass it, however. The legislatures of nearly two-thirds of the states have urged congress to pass such an amendment or else call a constitutional convention. If the legislatures of two-thirds of the states would vote in favor of a constitutional convention, congress would be obliged to call such convention and the amendment framed by such convention shall become a part of the constitution when ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures of the states.

GOOD WORK OF THE WOMEN'S GUILD

The report of the Women's Guild on the work of the milk station for the past year indicates that a good beginning has been made and that next year a great deal more will be accomplished. There can be no doubt as to the need of this work or of its vast possibilities for good. If the nurses only come in contact with the mothers who need their assistance most, it will be an easy matter to save a great many of the little waifs from death as a result of unskillful treatment.

If the truth were known the people of Lowell would stand aghast at the number of young children that die annually as a result of ill treatment, mismanagement in the shape of wrong feeding, wrong clothing, lack of fresh air or one of many other causes which the nurses can remedy by prompt action or sometimes by a little friendly advice to the mothers.

For this reason we congratulate the Women's Guild on its success thus far and predict for this new line of work the most gratifying results in lessening the infant mortality of our city, especially by checking the ravages of cholera infantum, that terrible scourge of the innocents.

AS TO ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The matter of publishing anonymous letters rests entirely with the editor. Sometimes an anonymous letter conveys matter in dispute, the merits of which the editor knows nothing about. He might be inclined to investigate but he does not know the writer and hence is at a loss to find who has the information. If, however, the anonymous letter conveys information as to where he may find a good news item the letter will not be published, but the item will be looked up. When the writers of communications to the press are asked to give their names, not necessarily for publication, they should not object, for in such cases they can rely that the editor will not betray their confidence. It happens that most of the anonymous letters come from people who want to strike somebody through the newspaper but who are unwilling to let their identity be known. Even in this case they might not be afraid; for if there is anything wrong in their communications the paper, not the writer, is responsible.

The writers of such anonymous communications need not be surprised if their veiled attacks do not see the light of day. Where there are so many irresponsible characters ready to enter libel suits for little or no cause, the anonymous writer need not complain if his arrows shot from ambush are not taken up by the newspaper and fired home.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Kindness is catching, and if you go around with a thoroughly developed case, your neighbor will be sure to get it."

"A little explained, a little endured, a little forgiven, the quarrel is cured."

"We deliberately make nearly all of our unhappiness with our own unreasonable discontent, and nothing will make us happy except the spirit within."

We cannot change yesterday, that is clear. Or begin on tomorrow until it is here; so all that is left for you and for me is to make today as sweet as can be. —Selected.

"If tears have dimmed our eyes, let us brush away the tears. If troubles and cares have burdened our hearts, let us rise triumphant over them all and for this day be glad; and in our gladness let us find our strength."

"Once, out of all the anguish and the sorrow of my heart, I wrote a song, and put my pent-up passion in its art. And the great world never heeded this soulful human groan, For it bore a burden infinitely heavy of its own."

Once, out of all the happiness and joy within my breast, I made a little song and blithely sent it on its quest. And the great world, with its infinitely many joys, divine, Still had room and instant welcome for this little song of mine."

A VOICE FROM THE PLAINS
Do I look like a city-bred creature, A woman skimmed light at the hips, With an inch of white flour on each feature?

And a dash of red paste on my lips? Is my head weighed down with a cargo Of horse hair, of oakum, or tow, This? You ask me if I'm from Chicago, Or one of the set that you know?

Do I look like a girl that would wobble When nature has given me feet, Or do I myself up in a hobble To make me a sight on the street? Is my hat a ridiculous jumble Of the heathenish color and shape That would sicken the sight and the stomach, Or even the footleest ape?

Do I talk with an edge like a parrot, Or giggle, or stammer, or fidget, Is my hair bleached the shade of a carrot? Do I wear a man's trousers or shirt? Am I rigged up to strut like a dummy In duds unbecoming and loud, Or swaddled to look like a mummy, My form showing clear to the crowd?

No, I'm not a city-bred woman; I come from a place in the west. Where women intend to stay human. Because they consider it best. We have use for our brains and our bodies. And something to live for but style. We are genuine women—not show, dress. And life to our kind is worth while.

We are here for the good of creation; We're women, not clothes signs or birds. We're working for human salvation, And value good deeds and good words.

O, yes, we have heard that you pity Such badly gown'd creatures as I. But, thank God, I'm no child of the sky. I'm dressed for the plains and the sky. —Laura Sheldon, in New York Times.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Sylvester, Babblit of Enfield, N. H., who is eighty-two years old, husked 407 bushels of corn this fall. Hiram Young, ninety years old, of West Lebanon, has been slating the Dartmouth college roof, ninety feet from the ground. Joseph H. Hodgson of Dover, ninety years old, drives about the streets of that city alone. Stephen J. Roberts of Claremont, eighty-nine years old, is making his annual visit to New York city, unaccompanied.

Petitions for a change in the manner of confinement of Jesse Pomeroy at state prison, which have annually been presented to governors by the "Society for the Promotion of Criminal Anthropology," have met with such little success that the society has decided not to present such a petition to Governor Foss. The society, according to its president, F. H. Gilie, has seen the futility of attempting to obtain any action in this line, or of doing public good by protesting against employment in the central grammar school there of Miss Tekel Mfano, a Japanese. When the advertisement was read by Miss Mfano she immediately resigned her position.

An advertisement was published in a Honolulu paper by J. Lightfoot, an attorney, calling on citizens to hold a mass meeting to protest against employment in the central grammar school there of Miss Tekel Mfano, a Japanese. When the advertisement was read by Miss Mfano she immediately resigned her position.

A fresh honor was thrust on J. Pierpont Morgan recently: a newly discovered gem, a variety of beryl, named "Morganite" after him. "I have named it 'Morganite' for J. Pierpont Morgan, the distinguished financier, art lover and philanthropist," said Dr. George F. Kunz, the expert on gems. "This is a recognition of his great interest in the gem world, and in appreciation of the collections of precious stones he gave to the museum of natural history in New York and Paris."

Describing "Morganite," Dr. Kunz said it is found on Mount Rhy, an island of Madagascar, in a stone weighing from one to 10 carats. It is of a beautiful, brilliant pink rose-color, and wonderfully free from flaws, the purest of the larger gems, rivaling pink tourmaline and pink topaz. It is the first pink beryl found; green beryl is emerald, sea-blue or sea-green beryl is aquamarine.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, the new democratic leader in the upper house at Albany, was born in Germany only 33 years ago. Senator Edgar T. Brackett, the minority leader, was one of three republican senators who declined to vote for Boss Platt when the latter was last elected to the United States congress.

On Jan. 1 Francis L. Chapin of Southbridge rounded out 43 years of service as cashier of the Southbridge National Bank. He probably will be involved in the future from the more arduous duties involved in his position, while still retaining his active connection with the bank. Mr. Chapin is nearly 67 years of age and is in excellent health. He was born in Enfield. As a young man he was clerk in a bank at Ware, and then to enlist for Civil war service, returning after the war to his position. From there he was called to the Southbridge bank as assistant cashier, and upon the death, a short time afterward, of the cashier, he was chosen as his successor. He is prominent in Southbridge affairs.

Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson is to be inaugurated Jan. 17 at Trenton. There will be no parade and the ceremonies will be simple. A Princeton company of the Second regiment will act as Dr. Wilson's personal escort. The inauguration will take place in Taylor's Opera House, the legislature having seats on the stage. A Presbyterian clergyman will make the opening prayer and Bishop McPaul, Roman Catholic, will pronounce the benediction.

Allen Freeman of East Orange, N. J., one of the wealthiest of socialists, is said to be indulging in his wealth theories. His father, a local financier, was treasurer of the Standard Oil company. Mr. Freeman is not, however, so much concerned in any particular socialist program as in spreading free thought, in encouraging men and women to consider how the production of wealth can be made more profitable and pleasant to all concerned.

AN EPIDEMIC

OF MEASLES IS REPORTED IN WATERBURY, CONN.

WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 10.—An epidemic of measles which started here a few weeks ago, has assumed large proportions, between 500 and 600 cases having thus far been reported. The attendance of the schools is seriously affected. According to the board of health fully one-third of the families in the city have some member ill with the disease. The board also reports 1009 cases of influenza.

MURDER CHARGE

Child Wife is Placed on Trial

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Weeping hysterically at times, then appearing bravely from fear and finally changing into a composed young maiden charming, the character study of Rose Picchione, a pretty 17-year-old Italian girl, as she appeared yesterday when her trial for murder in the first degree was begun before Supreme Justice Tompkins, presiding at White Plains.

Rose, when she was a bride of only six months, shot and killed her husband in their home, 157 Huguenot street, New Rochelle, on Oct. 13 last. He had accused her of being too friendly with John Cavanaugh, a young barber and her neighbor.

The defendant is the first woman ever to go to trial in Westchester county on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Ever since she has been in the White Plains jail awaiting trial she has been visited by many charitable women, who have taken a great interest in her welfare.

A jury was secured yesterday in the record time of one hour and most of them are farmers.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Davis offered evidence to prove that Rose was in love with Cavanaugh and called Mrs. Frank Monaco, who testified that the young girl had told her that she had an affinity.

Charles H. Nixon, her assigned counsel, will offer as a defense that Rose shot her husband because he had threatened to kill her and that he had tried to shoot her just before she pulled the trigger which sent three bullets into his body.

Lieut. Frank Corcoran of the New Rochelle police department testified that the woman, when she was arrested, said that her husband had kissed her baby and then walked into the parlor, where he shot himself.

VOTE SELLERS

Pleaded Guilty and Were Fined

WEST UNION, O., Jan. 10.—Twenty-five penitent and self-confessed vote sellers, who were waiting for him at Peebles when he returned yesterday to the county seat from his home at Portsmouth, were led by Judge Blair before daybreak. Court was held in the lobby of a hotel and the men thus were spared the 14 mile overland journey to this village.

When Judge Blair arrived here he found 15 others ready to acknowledge their guilt. To the one hundred he gave the customary fine of $5 and five years' disfranchisement. The day's work brings the total number of those found guilty up to 128. The total number indicted is 1648.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Man Was on His Way to Westford

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 10.—Daniel F. Callahan, a farm hand, was struck by a train coming from Acton, Mass., last night and was seriously injured. Callahan was placed aboard the train and hurried to Nashua, where he was taken to the Emergency hospital. His injuries consist of two broken ribs and possible internal injuries. The nature of the injuries and the long ride on the train put Callahan in such a condition that he did not rally well after his injuries were dressed and it is feared that he may not recover.

As far as is known here, the injured man belongs in Boston, where he has two sisters, but had been working on farms in northern Massachusetts. He is 42 years old and unmarried.

At the time the accident occurred he was walking the tracks, going from Acton to Westford. The train which struck him is a mixed freight and passenger train which usually arrives in Nashua about 7 o'clock. Owing to the accident it did not reach here last night until 9:30 o'clock.

MORE MONEY

WANTED FOR THE RAISING OF THE MAINE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The $300,000 appropriated by congress at its last session for removing the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, will be insufficient for the purpose and within a few days an estimate will be transmitted to congress suggesting an additional appropriation. Engineer officers say the wrecking operations have not progressed to a point where it is possible to afford any light upon the cause of the sinking of the ship.

TELEGRAPHERS

WILL BE OBLIGED TO FORWARD ALL MESSAGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Telegraph offices at Lisbon, Portugal, which have hitherto refused to transmit what seemed to them false and misleading information concerning the political situation of that country, hereafter will be required to send any communication presented to them, according to advice received yesterday from his government by Viscount de Alentejo, minister of the provisional government of Portugal to the United States. It has been alleged that the action of the telegraph offices had been inspired "to keep the real situation from the public," but the government has now ordered that messages are to be forwarded "in their entirety, without suppression or alteration of a single word."

McGILL TEAM WON

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The hockey team of McGill University of Montreal defeated the Crescent Athletic club seven, three goals to two here last night. The team work of the Canadians was the feature of the match. At the end of the first half the score stood McGill 3; Crescent 1.

Go Into Business With Us

Lowell people—men and women—we invite you to go into business with us. No matter whether you are in business for yourself now or working for a salary or wages, if you have a few hundred dollars saved or can spare $10, $20, or $50 a month we can make it grow for you.

You have heard of the fortunes that have been made by people who invested early in big enterprises when they were little. We offer you that kind of an opportunity.

Not every small enterprise can grow into a big and profitable one. It must have in it the possibilities of bigness. Our business has such possibilities, plus the Plan, plus the Ambition, plus the Determination. There is a clear track ahead and our destination is a million-dollar business.

We established an agency in Lowell less than 60 days ago and already have enrolled a large list of students, which gives us a good business in this city. We purpose to open such agencies in every important New England city.

The proceeds of the stock we are now selling will provide working capital for our growing business.

Among our present stockholders in Lowell are the following well known people:

J. HARVEY GAMBLE, Supt. American Mason Safety Tread Co.
A. T. SIMPSON, Manager Shipping Dept., Whitall Mfg. Co.
C. F. DUPEE, Chief Draftsman, Lowell Machine Co.
FRANK GRIFFIN, Hamilton Mills.
MRS. JANET KIRKLAND, Apple Street.
WALTER A. BROTHERS, 62 Royal Street.
THOS. H. LAWLER, Lawler Printing Co.

It will pay you to investigate this opportunity. Information will cost you nothing, and it may lead to your fortune.

WILLIAM WHITING PAID $23,766

First Citizen of Holyoke Standard Oil Co. Settles Its Fine

HOLYOKE, Jan. 10.—Ex-Congressman William Whiting, Holyoke's oldest living ex-mayor and first citizen, died last evening at 8:10 o'clock at his Elm street home surrounded by his family. He had been in failing health for several months. Yesterday morning he had a bad sinking spell, and he gradually sank into a state of coma in which he remained until death claimed him.

Thus ended a fight that had been waged for several years, his health having been undermined years ago. For many years he had been obliged to take the best of care of himself and he was principally because of his health that he was prevented from making the run for the republican nomination for governor.

There was talk at the time of the visit of President McKinley to Mr. Whiting's home here in June, 1899, of his being considered for a cabinet position and there is little doubt but that the president would have gladly given him a place in the nation's councils.

Whiting will be shrouded in gloom, for Mr. Whiting was generally esteemed. He was a constant giver to all causes, both little and big.

William Whiting was born at Dudley, May 24, 1841, the son of William Bailey Whiting and Elizabeth Whiting. He was the oldest of 11 children and was obliged to earn his living at an early age, but he continued his studies in the public school until he was 17, when he accepted the position of bookkeeper for the Holyoke Paper company.

His youthful ambition was to study law, but he developed such a marked business capacity that he gave up this plan and applied himself to a business life.

He became business agent and traveling salesman for the Holyoke Paper company soon after entering its employ and in 1856 he had mastered all the details of the paper trade.

In that year he began business on his own account by purchasing a mill on Lyman street, Holyoke, in which he manufactured a high grade writing paper. This mill is now known as Whiting mill No. 1. Later he erected a building on Dwight street, which is known as Whiting mill No. 2. It was in 1865 that the writing paper company was organized, of which Mr. Whiting was president from the start.

He was also president and manager of the Collins manufacturing company of North William street, president of the Willmore manufacturing company of Holyoke, and of the National Blank Book company of Holyoke.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words.

Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

Distortion No. 1 stated that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has never been the policy of this company to advertise "Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything."

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees and is causing sickness its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centres that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, provided the indigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

Charge No. 2 states that the passage of the National Food and Drugs Act compelled us to drop from the packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of wheat and barley.

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new Law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believed that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centres is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and inasmuch as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claim, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

"The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread."

Some Department chemists decry themselves as well as the public.

"Calorie" is the word which defines a unit of heat determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 860; Grape-Nuts 536; milk 0.70. Remember the statement on the package spoke of the nourishment the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories of heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units, notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "weekly" have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00 is asked as damages, and may the right man win.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticised.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

As an illustration: Attempt to feed a man sixty days on butter alone, with its 8.60 calories. The man would die before the experiment had run sixty days.

Then take Grape-Nuts with 3.96 and milk with 0.70—the two combined equal 4.66—about one-half the number of calories contained in butter. The man fed for sixty days on this food would be well nourished, and could live not only sixty days, but six months on that food alone, and we do not hesitate to say from our long knowledge of the sustaining power of the food that a man at the end of sixty days would be of practically the same weight as when he started, if he be a man of normal weight.

We will suppose that from his work he lost a pound a day and made up a pound each day from food. If that premise proved to be true the man in sixty days' time would make sixty pounds of tissue to replace what had been lost, and this would be done on Grape-Nuts and milk with half the number of calories of butter, upon which no one can sustain life.

Therefore, we have reason to believe that our contention is right that concentrated food like Grape-Nuts, which is partly digested and ready for easy assimilation by the body, presents more nourishment than the system will absorb than many other forms of food, and we will further say that in cases of digestive troubles where meat, while bread and oats cannot be digested, that Grape-Nuts and milk contain more nourishment than the system will absorb than many pounds of these other foods.

Distortion No. 3 charges that our testimonials were practically all paid for and re-written in Battle Creek. These testimonials were demanded by the opposing lawyers. Naturally this demand was refused, for they are held in vaults and kept safe to prove the truth, and are not to be delivered up on demand of enemies.

Testimony at the trial brought out the fact that we never printed a single testimonial that we did not have the genuine letter back of. Many of these letters came spontaneously. A record was kept of twelve hundred and four (1204) letters received in one month from people who wrote that they had either entirely recovered their health or been benefited by following our suggestions on food and beverages.

On three or four occasions in the past ten or twelve years we printed broadside in papers offers of prizes to users of Postum and Grape-Nuts, two hundred $1.00 prizes one hundred $2.00, twenty of $5.00, and five of $10.00 each, stating that each must be an honest letter with name and address.

We agreed not to publish names, but to furnish them to enquirers by letter. These letter writers very generally answered those who wrote to them, and verified the truth of the statements.

Under this agreement not to publish names literally scores of letters came from doctors. We kept our word and neither printed their names or surrendered the letters.

Right here notice an "imitation spasm." The "Weekly" says: "Post got those testimonials by advertising for them. In New York he used for that purpose the New York Magazine of —, whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary for fraudulent use of the mails. For example, Post announced in that magazine in 1907, etc." (Then follows our prize competition.)

We used nearly all of the papers and magazines in New York and the rest of America, but the sensational writer gives the impression to his readers that the only magazine we used was one whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary, etc., something that we know nothing of, the truth of now, and never did. Space was bought in the magazine, spoken of on a business basis for the reason that it went to a good class of readers. The incident seems to have furnished an opportunity for a designing writer to deceive his readers.

We look upon honest human testimony from men and women as to the means by which they recovered health as of tremendous value to those in search of it. Our business has been conducted from the very first day upon lines of strict integrity, and we never yet have published a false testimonial of human experience. Many of these letters covered numerous sheets; some, if printed, would spread over half a page of newspaper. If we would attempt to print one such letter in every one of the thousands of papers and magazines we use, the cost for printing that one letter would run into many thousands of dollars.

We boil down these letters exactly as a newspaper writer boils his news, sticking sacredly to the important facts and eliminating details about the family and other unimportant matters. This work of boiling down, or editing, is done honestly, and with a full knowledge of our responsibility, but notice the art of the "twister" in the way he presents to his readers this matter of testimonials.

The "Weekly" hunted up this physician, and because he seemed to be poor, and as it says, "broken down," had him brought to court to be exposed before a jury as the "only physician that had ever endorsed Grape-Nuts," but much to the chagrin of the "Weekly," when our attorneys asked him if the article he wrote about coffee was true, he replied "yes."

Statement No. 5 reads: "The health officers of Mich., Maine, Penn., New Hamp., and other states in their official bulletins have for years been denouncing as preposterous and fraudulent the claims made by the Postum Cereal company." We do not recall any criticism except from Mich., Penn., Maine and S. Dakota.

The average reader might think that the opinions expressed by the State Officials are always correct, but that conclusion is not borne out by facts.

As an illustration: About thirteen years ago the Dairy and Food Commission of Michigan for some personal reason printed a severe criticism on us for making Postum of Barley (according to his official chemist) at market price and selling too high. He was shown there was never a grain of barley used in Postum. His report was false and misleading. The governor dismissed him.

We believe that most of the state officials are honest, and on the other hand we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be substantiated by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from theirs, and we are both honest, they have rather the advantage, because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

Spasm No. 6 says: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever. Notwithstanding he knew that danger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened."

This is intended to muddle the reader into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis.

Mr. Post, himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in the study and observation of food as related to the digestive organs, and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominating cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy of digestion.

Dr. Ochsner in his work on appendicitis refers directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained on the market. He also brought out the interesting fact that in "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food. The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to the question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

No. 7 is a live wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his study and experience in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing," which further led to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attended clinics in Europe and tried himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both from the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1891 he was an invalid. In that year, after being under the care of several well known physicians he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well-understood method. Sufficient to say he became a well man, weighing about 135 pounds.

They ignorantly fell into a trap here, not knowing enough of food value to know that "Taka-Diastase," the article used by physicians the world over for "starch indigestion," is made from "wheat bran."

So we use that part of the wheat berry because it contains the element needed to develop the valuable diastase in manufacture. Good Postum is impossible without this part.

These self-appointed critics do make some laughable blunders through ignorance, but—be patient.

Item 11 is an illustration of the squirming and twisting of the sensational writer delivering distorted matter to his readers.

While on the witness stand Mr. Post testified to his studies in Anatomy, Physiology, Dietetics and Psychology, all relating to the preparation and digestion of food. Asked to name authorities studied he mentioned six or eight from memory, and commented on some clinical experience covering several years in annual journeys to Europe.

Now notice the distortion. (Copy from the printed criticism.)

(He Post) pointed out a pile of books in possession of his attorneys as the very ones he had read.

(Notice—"the very ones he had read," leading the reader to believe that they were the only ones.)

"Did you consult the books from these editions?" was asked.

"From those and various editions," answered Post.

The attorney "picked up book after book from the pile and showed the title pages to the jury, all except two had been published since 1905."

This is an example of distortion and false coloring to produce an unfavorable impression.

The facts are Mr. Post purposely introduced the latest editions that could be obtained of prominent authorities to prove by them the truth of his statements regarding appendicitis and the analysis of brain, also the latest conclusions in regard to the action of the digestive organs. These works are:

Human Physiology, by Raymond.

Physiological Chemistry, by Simon.

Digestive Glands, by Pawlow.

Hand Book of Appendicitis, by Ochsner.

Physiological Chemistry, by Hammarsten.

Biochemic System of Medicine, by Carey.

The "Weekly" carefully eliminates from its printed account testimony regarding the years of research and study by Mr. Post in fitting himself for his work, and would lead the reader of the distorted article to believe that his education began since 1905.

But the criticism neglected to mention that for years every Postum package announced in plain type that the outer covering of wheat (bran), made part of the beverage.

Item 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a Postum.

After all the smoke of legal battle blows away, the facts will stand out clearly and never be forgotten that Postum, Grape-Nuts, and Post Toasties are perfectly pure, have done good honest service to humanity for years, the testimonials are real and truthful and the business conducted on the highest plane of commercial integrity.

"There's a Reason"
Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

Some Facts.

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter been printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has received upwards of fifty thousand (50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This Company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

M. K. HOWE, Treasurer. (With Company about 14 years.)

L. J. LAMSON, Inspector of Advt. (With Company about 9½ years.)

F. C. GRANDIN, Advertising Manager. (With Company about 13 years.)

R. M. STERRETT, M. D., Physician in charge of Scientific Dept. (With Company about 4½ years.)

CHESTON SYER, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 3 years.)

CHARLES W. GREEN, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 5 years.)

HARRY E. BURT, General Sup't. (With Company about 13 years.)

H. C. HAWK, Assistant to Chairman. (With Company about 7 years.)

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness."

His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight into the eyes of the handling, twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and bull-dozed and confuse a witness.

The "dodging" it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries.

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that suggests any particular kind of food." Then followed some discussion between attorneys.

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book, it turns out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain without reading it over, but such conservative and well-balanced answers are construed by sensation seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions: (The lawyer reading from the book)

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example."

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions."

"Read carefully, thoughtfully, no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and so into the silence when mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God talks to the Son. The thoughts from Divine Universal Mind come as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a Higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court Room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward over the rail, pointed his finger at the Attorney's face to emphasize his reply and with eyes that caused those of the Attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

WOMEN'S GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

Of Elliot Church Held
Last Night

Has Moved Into Its New Quarters on Dutton Street

The first annual meeting of the Lowell Guild was held yesterday afternoon at the Lowell Board of Trade rooms. A partial report was in yesterday's edition of The Sun, but inasmuch as the meeting was in progress when the paper went to press the entire proceedings of the meeting were not reported.

The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Harry Boardman; first vice president, Mrs. Harry G. Polard; second vice president, Mrs. James F. Preston; secretary, Miss Mary Lamson. The treasurer, Mrs. Arthur J. Murkland, holds over.

A rising vote of thanks was given the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Wood. It was voted to hold a house warming in the new quarters of the Guild, 17 Dutton street, on Saturday, Jan. 21, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Reports were made on the condition of the two branches of the work which the Guild will carry on, the district nursing and the milk station. Through the generosity of the corporations, the lower floor of No. 17 Dutton street, comprising four rooms and bath, will be used by the Guild for its milk station and district nursing work. The two departments moved into the new quarters today.

Miss Walsh, the district nurse, presented an interesting report. Miss Edith Scott, chairman of the milk committee, also gave an interesting report of the work done and what was to be carried out during the ensuing year, and Miss Alice Lindsay, who is in charge of the milk station, submitted a report on the work accomplished.

Guild Day
At a given hour in May, the bells of the city rang for the ladies to start and gather the envelopes distributed a few days previously in the different homes. The result was gratifying. With this money they were able to equip sufficiently for the present demands. More help was needed in the station and an arrangement was made with the Lowell General hospital to supply a nurse for at least two months. This proved most satisfactory to the milk committee, and though each nurse has disliked the thought of leaving her alma mater to take up the work of the station, after she has become accustomed to the change, each in turn has said at the end of the term she enjoyed the work. More assistance was needed and Miss Chaddbourne was appointed.

There are now three nurses during the summer. The highest number of babies getting milk at one time was 41. The average has been 30.

Each week two conferences have been held with physicians in charge, and the babies weighed and height recorded. The formula prescribed according to weight.

Of those who have had patience enough to stay with us at least a week: in April were 5; May, 11; June, 15; July, 37; August, 51; Sept. 44; Oct. 43; Nov., 36; Dec. 39; Jan. 36.

In August two delightful trips were planned for the mothers and babies and they had a genuine treat. During the summer and fall eight babies were sent to the hospital; 20 families helped by allowing the milk free for some little time, or part payment if necessary.

We are glad to report that of the many babies getting the milk, only three have died—one of bronchitis, one from bad home conditions, and one from malnutrition. Many were weak and likely to die when they began to take milk from the depot under the direction of nurses, and Miss Lindsay felt that a considerable number of lives had been saved through the work of the milk depot.

The Guild expressed its gratitude to the trustees of the Lowell General hospital for the assistance rendered by their nurses.

It was announced that St. John's hospital will send a pupil nurse to assist in the work, who will alternate with the pupil nurse from the Lowell General, each working alternately in the milk station and the district nursing departments.

The annual supper and business meeting of the Elliot church was held last night. Supper was served early in the evening and the business meeting was opened by a selection by the choir, and prayer by the pastor. The report of the clerk, Mr. Frank A. P. Coburn, showed the membership of the church to be 413.

The pastor, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, reported for his ten years of work in the church. A. C. Russell moved that a vote of thanks be given the pastor for his work during the past ten years of his pastorate, and a rising vote was given.

Frank A. P. Coburn was re-elected clerk, and Deacon E. E. Sargent, treasurer; deacon for four years, Wm. J. Blake; delegates to represent the church in the Andover association for the year, A. C. Russell, Miss Edith Russell, Fred M. Barney, Mrs. Daniel Varnum, Deacon James Sykes.

George S. Hull, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported a growth in various departments of the school. The attendance during the year has averaged over 20 more than last year. Mr. Hull was re-elected superintendent, and the other officers elected for the Sunday school were: Assistant superintendent, Alvin E. Sykes; treasurer, Charles Adams; secretary, Miss Edith Russell.

Frederic M. Barney was elected auditor. Mrs. Albert Moore reported for the visiting committee, and the same committee was appointed for the ensuing year.

Allen Nichols reported for the Christian Endeavor society, showing an increase of 20 in the membership. The Women's Home Missionary association report was given by Mrs. Charles S. Prector. Contributions of cash and other gifts were reported to the amount of $290.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society reported through Miss Mary E. Fletcher, a large average attendance of women at the meetings, and the raising of about $70 for missions.

Mrs. J. A. Faulkner reported for the Byway committee, and the committee was reappointed.

The Ladies' Charitable association through its treasurer, Miss Clara E. Horne, reported on the supper held during the year, which brought in the net sum of over $100.

Mr. Fred Silk reported as president of the John Elliot Literary club. There was an average attendance of 25 at the meetings of the club devoted to the study of foreign countries.

The Sabrey club reported through its secretary, Frank Hull, the gift from the church of over $800, toward the church repairs during the year. Report was also made of an entertainment in progress, to be given Jan. 25.

The report of the King's Daughters, given by Mrs. William Greig, showed a year of considerable activity for 70 young women of the church, and a net sum of over $250 raised. There were also many details of charity work done in the hospital, children's homes and other institutions.

"The Greigs" reported through the president, Chester Chase. The report of The Elliotts, by Emil Hartford, included the gift of the electric dome, which ornaments the vestry, over the speaker's desk.

The Ward club, of boys, reported through its president, Harry R. Dobson. This included the work of the Boy Scouts.

The youngest and last society to report was that of the Sunbeams, a class of girls under the direction of Miss Maude Smith. The report was written and read by Miss Ethel Scraggs.

The business was concluded, a vote of thanks was given to the choir, to the ladies who gave the supper, to the Sabrey club, for ushering during the year, to the Christian Endeavor society for furnishing flowers for the pulpit, and to the King's Daughters, for special issue of calendar.

After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," the meeting was adjourned.

TO KEEP THE HAIR LIGHT AND FLUFFY

(From Chicago Inter Ocean)

The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair coarse, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powdered borax and four ounces of talcum powder. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result.

Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair makes it soft and glossy, and if continued regularly, tends to the hair to grow abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

GIFT OF $50,000

Held by the Court to be
Void

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Judge Grant of the police court yesterday disallowed the codicil to the will of Emily J. Frye of Allston, because it was not attested in the legal sense by one of the witnesses, Louise Matthews. As a result of the decision the Old Ladies' Home of Boston loses a contingent bequest of about $50,000.

Under the will the bulk of the property was placed in trust for the benefit of Joseph H. Frye, son of the testator. On his death, if there were no children, one-third of the income went to the wife, Dora A. Frye, until her death or her remarriage, and the remaining two-thirds to the heirs of Nicholas E. Gardiner and Elizabeth G. Humphrey of Providence. By the codicil the testatrix sought to change the provision of the will as to the disposition of the property on the death of her son so as to give the property to the Old Ladies' Home of Boston. The estate is worth about $50,000.

Miss Matthews testified that when she subscribed her name she thought she was witnessing Dr. William A. Leach's signature. He was a witness to the codicil, as was R. Rueberg. She associated the paper in no way, the judge finds, with Mrs. Frye, who was in the room, and did not notice Mrs. Frye's signature. Nothing was said by Mrs. Frye or anyone else in Miss Matthews' presence to call her attention to the instrument as Mrs. Frye's paper.

The fact that she shared after she had left the room that she had been attesting a paper belonging to Mrs. Frye cannot serve as a substitute for lack of knowledge, says the court.

"CRAFT" CASES

Probe of Middlesex Co.
Resumed

The Middlesex grand jury yesterday continued to hear witnesses in the investigation of the so-called Middlesex county "craft" cases. Michael J. Sughrue was the first witness. He went into the jury room at 9.30 and stayed until 10.15. Mr. Sughrue was employed as attorney when the investigation was started by the taxpayers' association.

Richard H. Dana of Cambridge also testified.

TRADERS BANK

HELD ITS ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Traders National bank was held this morning at the banking rooms, 30 Middlesex street, and the directors and officers elected show no changes from last year. John C. Burke is president, William F. Hills, vice president, and Amos H. Hill, cashier. The directors are John C. Burke, James F. Corbett, Arthur O. Greenwood, Amos H. Hill, William F. Hills, Charles H. Knapp, Clarence H. Nelson and George A. Scribner.

HE LOST $196

BY BEING ASSIGNED TO DO SPECIAL WORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Ordered by the secret service to stenographic duty with the secretary of the interior in preparing a confidential investigation report in 1906, B. R. Rhee has found himself $196 out of pocket. Congress has been asked by Secretary Ballinger to appropriate this deficiency, which occurred when E. H. Hitchcock was secretary of the interior. Rhee was ordered to report at Mr. Hitchcock's summer home at Dublin, N. H., which he did. He expected to stay only a few days but Mr. Hitchcock was called to Oyster Bay so frequently to consult with President Roosevelt that the work stretched into three weeks. Comptroller Tracewell held that the detail was unlawful and disallowed the expense account. Now Secretary Ballinger has taken up cudgels for Rhee's relief.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Joe Choyanski, the veteran heavyweight boxer, has accepted the position as athletic director of the new $1,500,000 Pittsburgh Athletic club in Pittsburgh. He will go there in time to be ready for the opening on Feb. 22.

BADLY DAMAGED

FIRE IN GOV. POTHIER'S MILL AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 10.—The mill of the Rosemont Dyeing company of which Gov. Aram J. Pothier is treasurer, was badly damaged last night by a fire which occupied the entire Woonsocket fire department for two hours. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The loss will be about $35,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

GUTTED BY FIRE

Odd Fellows Building at East Lynn Destroyed

LYNN, Jan. 10.—Fire completely gutted the five story brick block owned by the East Lynn Order of Odd Fellows early this morning. The block was at the corner of Chestnut and Essex streets, East Lynn, and besides the Odd Fellows hall was used by the East Lynn station of the Lynn post office. The fire was discovered by a patrol-

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A large audience greeted Augusta Perry "and her own company" at the Opera House, last night, when the play entitled "Why He Divorced Her," was presented.

The play was very good and interspersed between the acts were numerous specialties, some of them calling for applause.

Miss Perry in the part of "Doris Hastings," who was the victim of a hard hearted plot, had much charm of face and manner and her acting was sufficient. In one scene she had to undergo much physical exertion, inasmuch as the villain manhandled her in a very unbecoming fashion.

"Why He Divorced Her," is sensational, and it tells things about marital infidelities that everyone who reads and lives knows.

Several of the vaudeville acts are more than ordinary, especially the closing one, a man and woman who do a variety of stunts, and besides they amuse and entertain, the two do all sorts of difficult tumbling and balancing stunts.

Miss Mae Monahan, the Irish song singer, proves a great favorite with her audience.

The moving pictures between the acts are of high standard and great variety, from dramas and comedy to unusual scenic views.

Last night the theatre orchestra gave a delightful 15 minutes concert from the opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

The above bill will be presented continuously every day this week from 1 until 10.30 o'clock.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

This week is to be a red letter week at the Academy of Music. Rarely has it ever happened that such an expensive attraction has been engaged in a five and ten cent house as the wonderful and beautiful horse, called Colonel Fred.

Colonel Fred can do everything but read and write. He can make figures and select colors, and actually play music, and yesterday he played "Home, Sweet Home" on a staff of bells as perfectly as any human being could. He also can open and close a cash register, and distinguish between paper and silver money. He will answer any questions by motions of the head or foot. He also does a very wonderful piece of acting as a fireman in walking up his master and alarming him when the house is on fire, and he also rescues a baby from the fire. It is certainly wonderful, and is worthy of a visit to the theatre.

Colonel Fred was the attraction at Lawrence, and was to be there for three days, but his manager had to stay one week. He is to be the attraction for the first three days of this week at the Academy.

He will be the usual vaudeville acts and pictures. Undoubtedly the sign "standing room only" will be used during this week.

Don't neglect that cold. Get Dows' Grip-Cold Tablets. 25c.

THEATRE VOYONS

A thriller without being too sensational, is a good description of "The Cowboy's Innocence" at the Theatre Voyons today. It deals with life on the Mexican border and the characters are every one of them drawn true to life.

It is an exceptionally big production, many people being used in its big scenes and the interest never flags for one minute. "The Boiled Door" a society drama of the better kind tells of how a woman chooses wealth to love and lives to deeply regret her choice.

The songs are excellent, notably "Dougherty," a true successor to "Kellie" whom nobody saw.

COLONIAL THEATRE

As promised by Manager Marcus of the Colonial theatre the bill presented at this house for the first half of this week will surpass anything shown this season.

Street men acts are by no means new, but credit must be given Leveseur for having an original line of work, it being entirely different from any act of its kind ever seen.

Mr. Leveseur will challenge any man for a purse of $500. His feat of putting against the strength of four heavy work horses which was accomplished in front of the theatre last night was enough to convince the large crowd who witnessed it that this man possessed an unusual amount of strength. This man's engagement is for three days only. Others on the program who received a good deal of applause were in Temple & Co. European illusionists in a wonderful exhibition of modern magic; Arthur Snow & Co. rural sketch artists, in a way down east sketch with plenty of laughs and a few tears, and Freeman & Carr, a good pair of comedians who use the French-Canadian dialect with telling effect. The pictures were excellent. The above acts are for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

How to Stop Drinking

Give Orlene and Destroy All Desire for Whiskey and Beer. Can Be Given Secretly. Try It at Our Expense.

We are in earnest when we ask you to try ORLINE at our expense. We will give you our money back. It is a trial you fail to get results from ORLINE. This is a very generous offer. It gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORLINE Treatment. It also shows our confidence in the merits of ORLINE. ORLINE is recognized as the best and most successful remedy in the world has ever known for Drunkenness or the so-called Liquor Habit. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity and given in the home without loss of time from business, and at a small price. Read the following letter from Dr. Neife, 9th and Race streets, Philadelphia. It will tell you about some of the wonderful results from the ORLINE Treatment:

"I have had a remarkable case of inebriety under my personal observation. The patient drank heavily for fifteen years and had a degraded condition, which caused the breaking up of his family and separation from his wife. Every hope was given up of ever saving him from his strong desire for drink, and finally a mother interested finally persuaded him to voluntarily take treatment for his diseased condition. It was my pleasure to recommend ORLINE, and it also habit cure, and the treatment was taken faithfully. This was two years ago and the patient is now in a healthy condition and still abstaining from the use of stimulants. I have sold ORLINE in a number of years and have always found it to be a reliable remedy. I believe you have an exceptionally good treatment for this disease."

No. 1, secret treatment in two forms. It is a secret treatment in a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORLINE No. 2, in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORLINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free ORLINE Booklet, mailed in plain sealed envelope, to ORLINE, CO., 604 Orline Building, Washington, D. C. ORLINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by the Riker-Jaynes Drug Co., 115-123 Merchants st.

PIMA INDIANS

Made Success of Growing Cotton

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Pima Indians in Arizona are "coming back" insofar as their cultivation of cotton is concerned. Through the co-operation of the bureau of Indian affairs and the department of agriculture experiments in cotton growing have been conducted on the Pima reservation for three years. These experiments have been made on a ten acre tract and after many experiments according to Assistant Commissioner Abbott, of the bureau of Indian affairs, a cotton about three grades higher than any other now grown in the cotton belt has been produced.

The Indians have taken up its cultivation and up to the present time, says Mr. Abbott, about 50 acres are under cultivation.

The Pimas cultivated cotton some 75 years ago. It is said, but for some reason or other stopped it. This cultivation is given by an old squaw, who, when the agent of the department of agriculture was about to show her how to pick cotton, said that he need not show her as she had picked it many years before the white came along to take the Indian lands.

DECIDES AGAINST PROTEST

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The International Aeronautical federation met here today decided that it had no authority to consider the protest against the award of the international balloon trophy to the Americans, Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, on the ground that the protest was made after the protest should be lodged first with the sporting committee of the American Aero club.

THE COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Cotton of the growth of 1910, shown prior to Jan. 1, as shown by the report of the bureau of the census, issued at 10 o'clock this morning, was 11,087,443 bales, compared with 9,647,327 from the growth of 1909, 12,465,238 from that of 1908. The percentage of the last two crops gained to Jan. 1 was 55.3 for 1909 and 55.3 for 1908.

Round bales, included this year are 109,296, compared with 105,549 for 1909 and 230,572 for 1908. Square bales included are 82,422 for 1910, as against 85,111 for 1909 and 85,523 for 1908.

GOT FIVE YEARS

Man Robbed Clerk of Hotel

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—George Ellis, aged 26, a Syrian, who held up the night clerk of Hotel Westminster early in the morning of Dec. 31, was sentenced to the reformatory for five years and a month by Judge Stevens in the superior criminal court yesterday. He pleaded guilty to an indictment accusing him of robbery, being armed. The only penalty provided for that offense is life imprisonment. Asst. District Atty. Dwyer not pressed so much of the indictment as charged the defendant with being armed, so the court could impose a sentence of life or any number of years.

Mr. Dwyer told the judge that the defendant was not a real hold-up man. He did not think the crime was premeditated, but regarded it as a half-crazy stunt. The circumstances of the offense were briefly related to the court.

James Carlton, alias Phillips, indicted in this county and in Middlesex county for breaking and entering, was sentenced to state prison for a term of 8 to 10 years. There were seven indictments against him. He stole more than $1000 worth of tools.

Leo R. Mahoney, accused of breaking and entering dwelling houses, was sentenced to the reformatory for six years. On Dec. 30 he entered a house in Lorton street and with an Indian club broke the gas meter. He took what money was in it and went away, the money was turned on full force and occupants of different parts of the house were nearly suffocated.

John A. Barry, a defendant in the Sederquist-Barry case, was arraigned on an indictment charging him with larceny. He pleaded not guilty and was held on four counts in $20,000 bail, which he furnished.

BROKEN KNEES

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat Them

The horse, more than any other animal seems the easy victim of all three kinds of injuries to the knees, some permanent, but always resulting from bruises, blows, injuries from fall and accident, kick, punctures, wire fences, speeding, overloading, etc. The injury may be just skin deep or extend to the bone. He gets it just the same. He is a way he is at fault by his own impatience or because it may be more likely the fault of the rider, striking him over the knee with the pitch fork, because he knows too much hurry to get to the stall, in fact the opportunities for knee injury to the horse are so many we lack room to enumerate them. They all, however, need prompt treatment and care to make sure of no worse results. A scratch on the knee may result in a serious case of broken knee, and we may have ulcer and supuration. In the simple, unimportant injuries look the possibility of great danger. Therefore, for any simple bruise, make hot applications the earliest possible moment, bandages in cold water, put on a little Witch Hazel or some soothing lotion and in a day or two the trouble is likely passed. If the horse gets kicked or cut with wire fence, make the hot applications, bandage with a heating lotion or balsam. Don't put on a counter-irritant, as many do. Try and assist nature by removing the present inflammation. When the injury is deep seated, and complicated, get a veterinarian as soon as possible, but you can be of help to him. Wash the wound carefully with solution of Carbolic Negus, Peroxide or some good disinfectant and bandage in a healing lotion or perhaps paint with collodion to stop the flow of blood. In all seeming simple sprains, bruises, cuts and sores, a few minutes and a few cents applied early will do more than hours and dollars after a day or two of delay.

THE 54 HOUR BILL

Was Presented in the State Senate Yesterday

Time of Senatorial Election Set for 3 p. m., Jan. 17—Bill to Raise Pay of the Att'y General

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Although time for the introduction of new business expires at 5 o'clock next Saturday evening there was no rush yesterday of bills and petitions for the consideration of the legislature. Neither in number nor significance were the petitions submitted of special moment. The sessions of the legislative branches were very brief. The time for the election of a U. S. senator was fixed at a quorum on the afternoon of Tuesday, Jan. 17.

The bill restricting the number of hours for employment of women and children in factories at $1 a week made its appearance in the senate. It accompanied the petition of Senator Ross of Bristol and carried with it the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor. The 54-hour act went into effect in January of last year. The proposed 54-hour law to take effect on Jan. 1 of next year.

Senator Tinkham of Suffolk offered the bill that the salary of the attorney general be increased from $5000 to $8000. His bill also provided a similar increase for the district attorney of Suffolk county. A resolve was read providing for the purchase by the state for the use of the state library of the Tillinghast card index.

The senate received the petition of Pres. MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the payment by the commonwealth to that institution of $100,000 annually, for a period of 10 years.

Senator Barnes of Norfolk introduced a bill to provide that companies insuring against bodily injury, sickness or death by accident shall have a paid-up capital of $200,000. Another bill introduced by the same senator aimed to have the certificates of the land court made more specific.

In the house Representative Cony of Boston introduced a bill to establish a system of record in the cold storage of food, providing that such food shall be tagged to show when it was placed in storage and when taken out.

B. Moody Boynton is a petitioner in the lower branch for the abolition of the present railroad commission and the creation in place thereof of a railroad court to consist of a chief justice at $7500 a year, and two associate justices at $6500 each, the salaries to be paid by the commonwealth and not by the railroads.

Rep. McCarthy of Marlboro heads a petition for the election of railroad commissioners by the people.

U. S. Congressman John A. Thayer of Worcester is a petitioner for legislation to prohibit trapping with scented bait.

Leo H. Leary asks that the city of Boston be authorized to pay to the mother of the late Robert E. Burke the balance of salary to which he would have been entitled had he lived out his term as assistant superintendent of schools in Boston.

Representative Mancovitz of Boston submitted a petition for an act to provide that all appointments of the mayor of Boston shall become operative upon the filing of the same with the city clerk of Boston, without regard to the civil service commission.

An order authorizing the committee on prisons to investigate the country jails at Worcester and Fitchburg was submitted by Representative Flanagan of Worcester and was referred to the committee on rules.

Other petitions were received as follows: Of Representative McInerney of Boston, to provide that the council in Boston shall consist of 27 members, one from each of the wards except wards 20 and 24, and in these wards two, and that members shall receive an annual salary of $1200. It provides that primaries for the nomination of candidates shall be held on the fifth Thursday preceding the city election; that nominations for the primary ballot shall be made by nomination paper bearing the signatures of not less than 10 residents of the ward from which such nomination is to be made; and that except as a primary nominee no candidate shall have his name on the ballot at the city election except by securing signatures to a nomination paper in number not less than one for each 50 votes cast the preceding election.

Of Representative Thomas of Quincy, that the city be authorized to borrow $200,000 for sewer purposes.

Of Representative O'Hara of North Adams, for siting of the superior court for Berkshire county at North Adams.

Of Representatives Bagley and Newton of Boston, to provide that food shall not be kept in cold storage for more than 90 days.

Of Charles D. Pease, that photographers be allowed to do business on the Lord's day.

Of Representative Griffin of Boston, to prohibit charges for the use of meters for gas and electricity.

Of Representative Merrill of Haverhill, that city councils be authorized and in certain instances required to submit matters to the people.

nearby two days. I was in bed in all four days as a result of the beating I received," said Gen. Bartlett.

"I steadily lost my strength after that. I did not work at writing, that fall, being relieved by an assistant. I went to the yacht races in New York between the Reliance and the Shamrock III, but I was so weak and suffered so from pains in my head that I was unable to write the story of the race.

"When I got back to my hotel I had to get a stenographer, and while I lay on the bed dictated the story to him. Later on I had to go to the City Hospital twice, in 1907 and 1908. I was fighting off diabetes right along from 1903.

The plaintiff in reply to a question of Mr. Bartlett said that at the time of the assault he weighed 225 pounds, but since that, and as a consequence of the beating, his weight had fallen at one time to 144 pounds, and he now weighs about 160.

A GREAT VICTORY

Scored by Independent Auto Companies

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The so-called independent automobile manufacturers won a sweeping victory yesterday in the U. S. circuit court of appeals with the reversal of the decree of Judge Hough in the circuit court wherein the Selden patent was upheld.

The higher court's ruling declares that the defendants' "either legally or morally" owed anything to the patentee, and holds that the improved Otto engine, used by the defendants in motor vehicle construction, is the equivalent of the Selden engine, but that its use is not an infringement of the Selden patent. Accordingly, Judge Hough's injunctions restraining auto manufacturing concerns from using the Otto engine on the ground of infringement, must be dismissed by the lower court, to which the cases were remanded with such instructions.

The opinion of the circuit court of appeals, written by Judge Noyes, says, in part:

"While the conclusion of non-infringement which we have reached leaves the patentee empty handed with respect to the patent for the short time it has to run, it cannot be regarded as depriving him of any technicality of the first reward of his labors. It is undoubtedly appreciated the possibility of the motor vehicle at a time when his ideas were regarded as chimerical. Had he been able to see far enough he might have taken out a patent as far reaching as the circuit court held this one was."

Representatives of the association of licensed automobile manufacturers denounced last night the preparations were being made to carry the matter to the supreme court. Application for a writ of certiorari will be made by George B. Schlen, it is stated.

The statement of the association declares that approximately 80 per cent of the gasoline motor cars manufactured in this country are now licensed under the Selden patent, many companies having applied for license after Judge Hough's decision, in 1909.

LARCENY CHARGE

Santasiere Was Found Guilty

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Charged with two counts of larceny by means of the "handkerchief game," Gerlando Santasiere, aged 30, of New York, was found guilty on one, and not guilty on the other in the municipal criminal court yesterday afternoon before Judge Michael J. Murray. The defendant was accused of stealing $50 from Oliver Danella, aged 28, of North square, and $74 from Antonio Capone, aged 26, of East Lynn.

The alleged thefts occurred on the same day, one in Lynn in the morning and the other in North End in the afternoon. The arrest was made by Special Officers O'Donnell and Flynn, who took the handkerchief away from Santasiere, which contained Danella's money. It was on this count he was found guilty.

Just before Judge Murray announced that he had found the defendant guilty on one count, he said to the prisoner: "I will give you a choice now to make good as to whether or not you have told the truth concerning yourself. You claimed you never were arrested before, that you are married and your wife and family are in New York, and that you are engaged in that city in business with your brother."

"You have the opportunity right now to say whether or not you have misled your attorney. It will not be well for you to lie to the court." The defendant said he told the truth. Judge Murray continued the case until Jan. 17 for sentence.

YANKEE WRESTLER PUT HIS ENGLISH RIVAL OUT OF COMMISSION

BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 10.—After one hour and 50 minutes of hard wrestling here last night John Billiter of Toledo, lightweight champion of the United States, fought William Blinham of London, English lightweight champion, napping and with a hammerlock put Blinham out of commission for at least two months. His shoulder ligaments were torn.

Blinham's manager, defaulted the second fall, saying he was understanding he is to have a return match, thus ending the championship title undecided.

GREAT SESSION REV. J. P. WEST

To be Held by the Civic Federation To Leave the Highland M. E. Church

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The methods and legislation adopted by European governments to control large trusts and combinations of capital and the varying success such efforts have met with are expected to occupy a large place in the deliberations of the National Civic federation, which begins its three days' annual session at the Hotel Astor on the next Thursday, Jan. 12. Officers of the federation point out that, while the United States supreme court is expected to define clearly the Sherman anti-trust act in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco cases and the injunction and anti-boycott cases against the officers

At the fourth quarterly conference of the Highland M. E. church held Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. J. P. West, after reading his report, requested that he be returned for another year. Mr. West has done splendid work in the church during his four years here and his decision came as a surprise to his people. A rising vote of appreciation for his faithful and efficient service was unanimously given.

Dr. C. F. Rice, district superintendent, presided. The annual reports of the various departments were very encouraging. All bills are paid to date and there is a good balance on hand. The Ladies' Aid society reported a balance of $220. Capt. Philbrick was elected as trustee, and William Davis to the board of stewards, to fill vacancies.

ANNUAL TRIDUUM

STATE OFFICER NIGHT EDITION LAWRENCE ALDERMAN

Had Long Talk With Supt. Lyons of Lawrence

Alderman Scanlon Declines to Give Any Further Information—State Officer Also Had a Talk With John P. Kane

LAWRENCE, Jan. 10.—State Officer Fred F. Flynn and Superintendent of Streets Patrick Lyons were in conference at the house of the former, 11 Reservoir Terrace, last night. At the close of the conference which occupied considerable time, Officer Flynn declined to divulge what was said. Officer Lyons went to the house of John P. Kane, 28 Kingston street, Sunday night and the two men were closeted for some time together. Mr. Kane was chosen at the democratic caucus as the democratic candidate for city treasurer. Alderman Scanlon last night declined to add anything to what he has already given out in the investigation. He reiterated that the investigation is in the hands of the proper authorities.

SUITS FOR $18,000

Against Boston & Maine by Local Men

Who Were Injured in the North Station by Parting of Trains Last November—Action Entered by Lawyer O'Sullivan Today

Lawyer Jeremiah O'Sullivan of this city, representing Michael McInerney and Patrick Martin, today entered suit against the Boston & Maine in the sum of $18,000 in the case of the former and $8000 in the case of the latter in two actions of tort to recover for personal injuries received by both through the alleged negligence of the defendant company, in the care and operation of its cars.

It will be recalled that on Sunday evening, Nov. 27, the two defendants, with many others, boarded a train that was standing in the North station in Boston, that was about to start for Lowell and the north. As the two were in the act of stepping from one car to another through the vestibule by some unaccountable accident the cars parted precipitating them to the tracks below between the cars, amid a shower of steam from the torn steampipe that runs through the train. The flood of escaping steam, together with the cries of the men in the crowded train shed, caused a momentary panic among the hundreds of passengers there assembled and it was some little time comparatively before the two men could be extricated from their perilous position. Upon being hurried to a hospital it was found that Mr. McInerney had received a puncture of four ribs and was terribly scalded. He is not yet able to be about. Mr. Martin sustained contusions of the head and was also scalded.

FINE CEREMONY

Officers of Div. 8, A. O. H., Installed

The installation of the newly elected officers of Division 8, A. O. H. took place last night in the presence of more than four hundred members of the organization. The installation exercises were the best ever seen here and the installing officer, County President John J. Harold of Wallham, was given a great ovation and warmly congratulated at the conclusion.

At the meeting previous to the installation there were several propositions received and four new members were elected. A feature of the evening that was a genuine surprise to the majority of those present as well as to the recipient was the presentation to the retiring president, John C. Rourke, of a life-size portrait of himself encased in an elegant gold frame. Mr. Rourke has served as president for six years and retired from office of his own volition. The presentation of the portrait was made in behalf of the division by County President Harold, who extolled the work done by Mr. Rourke and the interest he has shown in the affairs of his division as well as the great part he has played in county, state and national gatherings. BARGES WRECKED

Three Tossed Ashore on Treacherous Peaked Hill Shoal

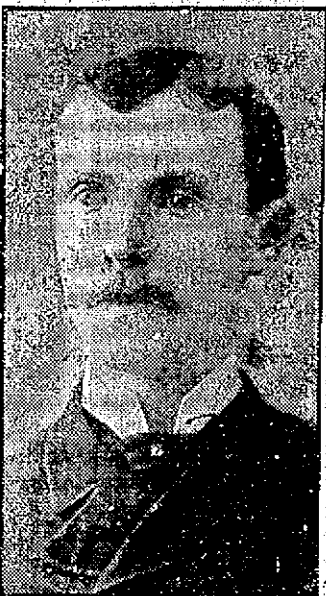

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Jan. 10.—Three coal barges, the Corbin, Pine Forest and Trevorton, bound east in tow of the tug Lykens, were tossed ashore on the Peaked hill shoal early today, and before dawn the Corbin and Trevorton had gone to pieces while the Pine Forest was pounding on the outer bar 300 yards from shore with her masts gone and in danger of breaking up at any minute.

A terrific 40 miles an hour gale was lashing the coast and blowing directly from the north making the Peaked hill the worst kind of a lee shore. Two life-saving crews stood on the sands powerless to launch the lifeboat or reach the barge with a life line. At 8 a. m. two bodies had been thrown up on the beach both with life preservers on which was stenciled "Trevorton."

The Trevorton was the largest of the three barges and carried a crew of five with Captain Brown of Littletonville, Me. in command. She was bound to Portland and was being commanded by Captain Smith of Philadelphia. She was bound to Portsmouth, N. H.

The Pine Forest, the smallest, carried four men and was commanded by Captain Hall of Provincetown.

AT SHEDD PARK

Supt. Whittet of the park department spent the forenoon at Shedd park, where he had a gang of men engaged in spraying the skating rink. Mr. Whittet borrowed a long line of hose from the fire department and with the stretch of hose it was possible to cover the rink with a new ice. Because of the soft weather and the great number of skaters the ice was pretty rough and the 250 or more who visited the pond last night found the skating a little bit tough.

Mr. Whittet said that the wind was blowing heptle and saddles at Shedd park this forenoon. He said the wind drove quite a number of skaters from the rink. He thinks that the water poured onto the rink this forenoon will make pretty fair skating tonight.

Appeals to Mayor Not to Approve Bills

Of Holland, Snow and Horsfall—Declares it Would Cost $100,000 to Clean the City of Lawrence—Tells of Men Boasting About Buying City Government

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 10.—Aldermen Michael A. Scanlon, at the meeting of the aldermen last night directly appealed to Mayor Cahill to hold up bills on the December draft submitted by Philip Holland and Snow and Horsfall.

"It would cost $100,000 to clean the city of Lawrence. If I were convinced that the city could be completely cleaned for that sum, I would willingly vote to spend it," declared Alderman Scanlon. "In view of developments during the past few days, I desire to say a few words. I want it understood by every man, woman and child in this city that I am not endeavoring to send any innocent man to jail. If I can prevent it, no innocent man shall go to jail."

"All last year I tried to call the attention of the government to those men who were delving too deeply into the city treasury and not giving a fair value in return. I thought that the punishments handed out last year would stop the raids. I can now say that the raids did not stop. It became worse."

"I have heard on good authority that men sitting at tables with liquor on the tables boast how they can buy the city government. They sneered. They laughed at the government and said that the members were nothing but puppets in their hands. When they were asked how they accounted for the fact that I opposed them, they answered that I was not being heard from lately. Those gangs did not get me last year. And you can rest assured that they will not get me in years to come. I am beyond their reach."

"While they confided their boasts about the ownership of members of the government to others, I did not answer, but when they repeatedly declared that they had me, I thought that it was high time to show whether or not they had me. I am out to show them that they have not got me in their toils."

"I have spent hours on bills, where the committee on accounts has spent minutes. I have gone over them carefully, scrutinizing every item. I have asked through a great many of them and I can say that the people of Lawrence knew how their money was being spent. It would certainly open their eyes."

"It is up to you, Mr. Mayor. You are the last person to sign those bills. I appeal to you. When I speak in this train, I want you to stand with me."

"On the November draft there is a bill for 901 loads of crushed stone. It is made out to Philip Holland. He received for the stone $2703. On the December draft there is a bill for 180 loads of crushed stone at $3 per load. It has not yet been paid. Ask you to hold up that bill. Cross it from the draft. Wait until we find where that crushed stone has gone. Where is that stone? Where has it disappeared? What was it used for? Remember that there are almost 1400 loads of crushed stone. They amount to 5000 tons. At 25 tons to a car, it would require for loading 200 cars stretching out a mile. It came here in 40 odd days. I repeat, where has it gone?"

"Another bill is that of Snow & Horsfall for $111. It is on the December draft. I ask you, Mr. Mayor, to hold it up. Wait until the proper authorities look it up."

"Mayor Cahill—I am in favor of publishing every bill paid by the city of Lawrence last year."

"Alderman Scanlon—That would be very expensive."

"Mayor Cahill—Expense does not count in a matter of this kind."

"Alderman Scanlon—It certainly does not, Mr. Mayor."

"On motion of Alderman Jordan, it was voted to ascertain the cost of the publishing of the bills paid last year. On the committee are Mayor Cahill, Aldermen Jordan and Scanlon."

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

The Last Day of the State Meeting in This City

This is the second and last day of the state convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen. The forenoon session opened at 10 o'clock and the first business before the committee was the reading of the report of the financial committee. The report showed that the organization is more strongly entrenched financially than ever before in its history and greater interest is being manifested in all quarters. Every member seems disposed to put his shoulder to the wheel and the outlook is very encouraging.

The firemen's license law was under discussion during the greater part of the forenoon and a committee was appointed to draft amendments to that law.

A letter of fraternal greetings from the steam engineers was received and read during the forenoon. The question of new capital tax was discussed as was also the question of the election of delegates to the international convention to be held in Milwaukee, in August.

Last evening the delegates were the guests of the members of local 14 and during the session an informal entertainment of music and short addresses on the work of the firemen were heard. Light refreshments were served.

6 O'CLOCK AN ASSAULT CASE Took Up Great Portion of the Court's Time Today

Courtesy: O. Galarson, assistant to the captain of the Salvation Army and employed at the Industrial Home in Liberty square, was arraigned before Judge John J. Pickman in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on John F. Blood. John C. Leggett appeared for the government, and the defendant was represented by Francis W. Qua.

John F. Blood, the complainant, said his home was in Beverly, but had been in Lowell for about a week. Last Monday night he stopped at the Industrial Home of the Salvation Army in Liberty square. Tuesday morning he said he arose and after eating breakfast called at the captain's office. Mr. Galarson opened the door and when witness asked for the captain, witness said that Mr. Galarson slammed the door in his face and uttered an oath at him. Witness then went out and returned later in the morning and entering Mr. Galarson's store asked if the captain was around. Witness said that Mr. Galarson answered with an oath and said: "You get out of here, or I will brain you." Witness said he answered: "Come out and brain me." Galarson had some kind of an iron in his hand, witness said, and threw it at Blood's face. The latter put his hand up for the purpose of protecting his face and the missile struck him, he said, on the back of the left hand inflicting a severe injury to that member. Blood then went to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment.

On cross-examination witness said after leaving Beverly last fall he went to Manchester, N. H., in search of employment. Failing to find it he went to the Salvation Army barracks and secured there money enough to pay his fare to Lowell. He said that he was told to call at the Salvation Army headquarters in this city, which he did, and he had been employed by the local branch of the army since the first of January. He said that he was engaged in driving one of the wagons which went through the suburban towns collecting magazines, books, clothing and other articles. Last Monday night Blood testified Mr. Galarson said he was not doing his work properly and intended to dismiss him on the "scrap" term.

Witness said he had two children in Brockton, who were being cared for by his brother. He also admitted that he had been a police officer in Brockton for five years and three months and resigned from the force. He denied having had any trouble while on the Brockton police force.

Dr. Frederick H. Smith, city physician and attending to the Lowell hospital, testified that Blood had a cut on the back of his left hand between half an inch and an inch long.

When Dr. Smith saw the hand the cut had been sewed up and the hand was a little puffed up. Dr. Smith said Blood had been treated at various places according to the statement made to him. The man told him he had been in the place at Tewksbury, but did not like the place as they fed him on nothing but bread and water.

Dr. Jones of St. John's hospital staff was the next witness. He testified that Blood's hand and said that when asked how he had received the injury Blood said he had been bitten by a horse.

James Emery, employed at the Industrial Home, was making repairs on the door of Mr. Galarson's store Tuesday morning. Blood entered the store and called Galarson some vile names and started to throw a brick at him. Emery refused to go and Galarson pushed him out. Blood returned and continued to call Mr. Galarson some vile names and invited him to come out. Galarson came from behind the counter and what transpired after that witness said he did not know. He was not sure who Galarson had in his hand, but thought it might have been a piece of wood. Witness said he had heard Mr. Galarson state that he might have had a skate in his hand.

Blood was recalled and admitted that he had told the doctors at the hospital that he had been bitten by a horse because he was ashamed to admit that he was working for the Salvation Army.

Courtesy: O. Galarson, assistant to Captain Seaver at the Industrial Home and the defendant in the case, said he had been in the employ of the army for nearly two years. He said the purpose of the home was to elevate the people who are down and out.

Witness said Blood came to his store about four or five weeks ago and gave the name of John Read. He was placed on one of the wagons, but his work was not satisfactory; he was not bringing in enough goods to pay for his board and room.

"On Tuesday morning Blood was drunk, said witness, and threatened to do me bodily harm. Later Blood came back and told me he would knock my four eyes into one and that he would 'brain my bloody face'."

According to the witness, Blood reached over the counter and made a punch at him and he put his hand up to ward off the blow. Witness had a

BARGES WRECKED FOUND NOT GUILTY Two Men Were Charged With Assault on Another

The Lykens after losing her, tow hung around the scene until 9 a. m. but as she was unable to get near the stranded barge owing to the shallow water she was finally compelled to steam round into Portland.

Stiffest Gale Yet

The gale on the Cape last night was one of the stiffest of the winter but it was not until nearly midnight that the wind hauled into the northwest and then into the north.

The Lykens left Vineyard Haven yesterday and passed over the shoals during the afternoon, as usual in heavy weather, the Lykens clung close to the cape in order to get as much ice as possible. She was easily made out by the patrol on the life-saving stations further up the cape at Nauset, Capeau Hollow, Panet river, and Highland. Then the moon went down and the Lykens was lost sight of from shore. Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning the Peaked Hill station patrol made out the form of a vessel in the breakers and by the time the crew reached the scene wreckage was coming ashore.

At dawn only the battered hulks of two barges could be seen, while the third barge still held together, although every wave seemed to shake her from stem to stern and her masts were lying over the side. The lifesavers also thought that they could make out the forms of several men clinging to the hulches and the little house in the stern.

The rescue point and the High Head life-saving stations had been notified, and scores of people streamed over the cape from Provincetown to see the wreck.

Could Not Launch Lifeboat

It was impossible to launch any lifeboat, for the bars at this end of the cape are double and sometimes triple, and the entire distance from the shore to the outer bay was a tumbling mass of cross seas in which not even a lifeboat could have been kept upright. So the lifesavers waited for low water at 10 a. m. when it was hoped that in the shallow surf the lifeboat might be pushed through to the second bar and thus made a launch for the men.

The revenue cutter Gresham was also notified of the wreck.

Bodies Washed Ashore

While waiting for the tide to ebb the lifesavers patrolled the beach. About 3 o'clock two bodies were seen floating near shore and were soon thrown up on the beach. Both were encased in life preservers from the Trevorton. A little later the side board of the Corbin came ashore.

Peaked Hill bars, directly opposite Provincetown and practically on the tip of Cape Cod, have been the scene of more wrecks and loss of life than any other part of the cape. Their tragic history runs back more than a 100 years and includes some of the ablest of the coasting fleet. No vessel once in the clutch of the bars has ever escaped.

One of the most famous of the early wrecks at this point was that of three Salem ships, all of which were thrown ashore, with the loss of a greater part of their crews. It is generally believed that the steamer Portland was either wrecked on these bars or broke up not far off in the great storm of '98 as the greater part of her wreckage came ashore in that vicinity.

The bodies came ashore quite rapidly after the tide had turned and at two o'clock 12 had been recovered and were taken to a temporary morgue at Provincetown. It was expected that Captain Hammond of the Lykens would come ashore and make the identification but he received other orders and early in the afternoon steamed out of the harbor for Boston.

Frank Dookszlele and Mike Smith were charged with assault and battery on Frank Ramelka in police court today. That Ramelka was assaulted was very evident for his face bore many abrasions. The testimony was very conflicting, the complainant stating that the trouble started over a game of cards, while other witnesses said that the complainant had been drinking, and provoked the assault.

The court, after considering the evidence, found the defendants not guilty and ordered them discharged.

"Frank Ramelka, the complainant, was the first witness for the government. He resides in Howe street and last Saturday night he said he went to visit his sister in Bent's court. When he entered the house the two defendants were playing cards and invited him to take a hand in the game. He objected to the card playing and asked the men to stop and when they refused to do so he picked the cards off the table and threw them away."

This enraged the defendants and Frank Dookszlele, he claimed, grabbed him and throwing him on the floor kicked him three times in the face. While he was on the floor and trying to rise Smith kicked him in the back and head.

On cross examination witness said there was plenty of beer in the house but that he did not drink any; but admitted that he had several drinks during the afternoon. Later he denied that he had anything to drink. He said his reason for interrupting the card game was because he was afraid the police might enter the house and arrest him for being present at the game, as the men were playing for money.

The complainant's cousin said, he called at her house in Bent's court shortly after six o'clock. She said that her brother was pretty drunk and had more to drink in the house.

Ramelka and Dookszlele got into an argument and the former struck Dookszlele on the chest and sent the latter in a heap on a pile of wood behind the stove.

She said Ramelka had so many drinks at her house that she could not count them; also that there was no card playing in the house, although the complainant had testified to that effect.

Anton Dingis, who lives in the house where the trouble occurred, admitted that he did not know much about the affair because he was drunk and in bed. All he remembered was that Ramelka did not have the marks on his face when he entered the house earlier in the evening.

Witness denied that he had previously stated that he saw the two defendants strike and kick the complainant.

Adam Rosinski, who conducts the boarding house in Bent's court where the trouble occurred, was the first witness for the government. He said Ramelka was under the influence of liquor when he entered the house. Witness did not see any fighting, but heard of it and after ordering the defendants out of the house had his son take Ramelka home.

Mike Smith, one of the defendants, denied that he either struck or kicked the complainant, stating that the latter received the marks on his face as a result of falling on a pile of wood in the kitchen.

Frank Dookszlele, the other defendant, said: "When Ramelka came into the house he asked me what I wanted there and I said it was none of his business. He then got up and pushed me on the chest. I pushed him back and he was so drunk that he fell on the wood near the stove."

Witness admitted that he had called at Lawyer O'Connor's office yesterday afternoon, but denied that he told Mr. O'Connor he had struck and kicked the complainant, and Smith had nothing to do with the assault. Witness said he told Mr. O'Connor he had been living in Lowell for six years and would like to settle the matter without appearing in court.

The complainant was called in rebuttal and testified that he saw the defendants at his cousin's house last night and heard them ask her not to appear in court this morning.

Suspended Sentence

Jeremiah Toomey pleaded guilty to being drunk and was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail and placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

CITY SOLICITOR Gives Decision on Abatement of Moth Assessments

Some time ago the park commission asked City Solicitor Duncan for an opinion relative to the abatement of moth assessments and the city solicitor finds that moth assessments may be abated especially if the owner of an estate is, by reason of age, infirmity or poverty, unable to pay the same. The opinion reads as follows:

Office of City Solicitor,
Lowell, Mass., Jan. 9, 1911.

Mr. Charles A. Whitte, Supt. of Parks,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: At your request, I have carefully examined the law relative to moth assessments, and more particularly as to whether such assessments may be abated.

By section 4 of chapter 268 of the acts of 1906, relating to moth assessments, it is provided that "The amounts to be assessed upon private estates shall be a lien on said estates in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in the case of assessments for street watering." The law in this regard concerning assessments for street watering is found in chapter 26, section 2, of the Revised Laws and reads as follows:

"Such assessments shall be a lien upon the estate, and shall be levied, collected, re-assessed, paid, apportioned, or bear interest and become payable, in the same manner as, and shall be a part of the tax for that year on such estates; but the assessors shall make no abatement thereof except upon the recommendation of the board or officer by whom the list was certified to them."

It therefore appears from this that a street watering assessment may, upon the recommendation of a certain board or officer, be abated, and as moth assessments are, under the law, to be treated in the same manner as those levied for street watering, I am of the opinion that they also, under the same conditions, may be abated.

And in addition, the assessors, under the provisions of section 5 of chapter 268 of the Acts of 1906 as amended by section 3 of chapter 521 of the Acts of 1907, may abate, if, in their opinion, the owner of an estate, upon which a moth assessment has been made, is, by reason of age, infirmity or poverty, unable to pay the same, provided, he makes application for such abatement.

Very truly yours,
William W. Duncan,
City Solicitor.

INTERNATIONAL AERO CLUB ACTS TEN PERSONS BURNED

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The International Aeronautical Federation voted today to send the matter of Grahame-White's protest against Moisant in the Statue of Liberty flight race back to the Aero Club of America for finding in conformity with article 29 of the statutes of the federation.

HAVERHILL, Jan. 10.—Ten persons were slightly burned and Captain George Whiting was overcome by smoke while searching for possible victims of a fire in a three-story apartment house on Locust street today. The fire started on the street floor and spread upward through the hallways.

Ten Greeks on the upper floors saved their lives by rushing through the flames. When the fire department arrived Captain Whiting, not knowing that the Greeks had escaped, searched the third story and was hemmed in by the on-rushing flames.

Two firemen who missed Whiting found him unconscious but carried him out in time to save his life. The building was wrecked but the loss will not exceed $2000.

BOSTON BANK ELECTIONS

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Bank election day in Boston brought few changes in the directorates of the 22 national banks whose stockholders met today.

Former Governor Draper resumed his seat in the directorate of the National Shawmut bank after an absence of two years. John Jacob Rogers of Lowell was made a director of the State National bank in place of his father, Jacob Rogers, who declined reelection. The banks all reported a prosperous year.

PERMITS GRANTED TO EMIGRANTS

BENSHEIM, Germany, Jan. 10.—The government today gave permission for 650 emigrants returning from the United States to proceed by train for Russia. The travelers have been held up on the Dutch frontier for several days through the workings of the new German emigration law enacted to restrict emigration and the return of emigrants by way of non-German ports.

80 FISHERMEN Carried Out Into the Caspian Sea

ASTRAKHAN, Russia, Jan. 10.—Eighty fishermen were carried out into the Caspian sea on an ice floe today. A steamer was requisitioned at Baku and sent to the rescue but the chances that any of the number would escape death were poor.

AUSTRALIAN TEAM HAS GAINED ONE LAP ON THE OTHERS

BUFFALO, Jan. 10.—Their speed appetites whetted by the lap, the Australian team, Patrick Sullivan, Hehr and Coulet, had gained the ten teams competing in the six day bicycle race in this city, began their second nine-hour period this afternoon. The leaders started with 216 miles, 2 laps to their credit. The other nine teams were tied at 215-1.

PRISON SENTENCE For Man Who Defrauded His Employers

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A. W. Finch, the London agent of Phelps, Dodge & Co. of New York, was today sentenced to one year's imprisonment for defrauding his employers of $125,000.

In pronouncing sentence the court stated that the most extraordinary feature of the case was the fact that, although the defalcation was so large the complaining company had recommended mercy for the prisoner.

GOV. CRUCE DOES NOT SEE NEED OF WHOLESALE CHANGE OF LAWS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 10.—Declaring any wholesale change of the existing state laws, Governor Cruce in his message to the legislature today urged that body not to attempt to base its merits on "the number of laws passed."

Governor Cruce recommended that the election laws of the state be changed, taking care to protect the integrity of elections properly.

Referring to difficulties experienced by the state in enforcing its laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, the governor said it was his belief that most violations of those laws were traceable to gambling, and recommended that it be made a felony for any person to run a gambling house in the state.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY THE CLUB FLEUR DE LIS LAST SUNDAY

The Club Fleur de Lis held its annual meeting last Sunday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, George A. Gagnon; vice president, Joseph O. Perron; treasurer, Joseph Carrier; secretary, Omer Descheneaux; directors, Edmund J. Gill, William Rousseau and Arthur Pratte.

The Club Fleur de Lis was organized in 1909 by a group of 20 young men from L'Association Catholique, who were deeply interested in the camping life. The aim of the club is social life and the members have a well furnished camp at Long Pond, where they spent the beautiful summer days. The club was incorporated in 1909, its first president being Joseph Guimond. It has held a concert and ball every year, and now the members are contemplating plans for the coming event, which will be held somewhere in this winter.

The members of the club are the following: Clovis Belanger, Omer Descheneaux, Joseph Carrier, Edmund J. Gill, Omer Gill, Omer Descheneaux, George Gagnon, Joseph H. Miller, Arthur Pratte, Albert Paquin, Phillip J. Parent, Jean-Baptiste Pelnaud, Joseph Perron, William Rousseau, Donat Rousseau, Edmund J. Trepanier, Romeo Huot and Omer Bernier.

She and Her Niece Were Found Unconscious From Gas

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Mary Egan, a bride of four months, and her niece, 11 years old, Clara Hartman, of Jersey City, were found unconscious from gas early yesterday at the home of the latter on South Second street, Brooklyn, victims of a suicide pact. Six sleeping children of William Wilson, a neighbor, also were made unconscious by the fumes. All were revived by a physician and Mrs. Egan was taken to the Williamsburg hospital, where she is under arrest. A note pinned to the tablecloth in the dining room was found by James Egan, Mrs. Egan's husband. In it the young wife declared that she had nothing further to live for and that her niece had begged the privilege of dying with her.

The annual state convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen is being held in this city. The convention which will last two days, opened at 22 Middle street at 10 o'clock yesterday. Delegates are present from Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Pittsfield, Leominster, Adams, Turner's Falls, Holyoke, Fitchburg, Lawrence, New Bedford, Fall River, Gardner and Brockton. John T. Hendricks, president of local 14, called to order and introduced, as presiding officer, State President, P. J. Thornton of Boston. Mayor John F. Meehan made the address of welcome and extended a hearty greeting to the visiting delegates. He spoke of the responsibilities of their position as firemen and wished that their visit would be a pleasant and a profitable one. He said that the men at the boilers were seldom heard from but the thinking public appreciates their service, their loyalty and faithfulness to duty. There are few men, he said, deserving of more credit than the fireman. The report of the state secretary and treasurer, Fred P. Brown of Holyoke, was a very encouraging one. The organization has shown a splendid gain, financially and numerically, 255 members having been added within the last three months. The convention will deal with a number of important questions and will discuss legislative measures designed to promote the welfare of the fireman. One proposition will be to have certain changes made in the firemen's license law and to make it compulsory that every man who generates steam shall have a license. After adjourning for dinner certain committee work was assigned different delegates and they returned to the hall about 3 o'clock.

Of French American Volunteer Brigade Held a Meeting

The Second regiment of the French-American Volunteer Brigade of New England held a well attended meeting in Lawrence Sunday afternoon. This meeting was held at 1.30 o'clock in the French-American hall, and was presided over by Col. Albert Bergeron, captain of Garde Frontenac of this city. All plans were completed for the coming convention of the brigade, which will be held in Fall River on the 23rd, 30th and 31st of the present month. A committee was named to arrange for a play to be given in Lawrence, Lowell, Salem and Newburyport in the near future for the benefit of the Second regiment. This committee is composed of the following: Alfred Groulx of Garde Jacques-Cartier of Lowell, W. C. Desharnais of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Col. Alfred Lacroix of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Lieut. Leonce Thibault of Garde Nationale of Salem, and Sergt. George Morrissette of Garde Frontenac of this city. It was also voted to send delegates from every guard of the regiment to the coming convention.

and Quartermaster Sergeant Leonce Thibault of Garde Nationale of Salem, Mass., Capt. Joseph L. Pigeon, George Gaudette and Alfred Groulx of Garde Jacques-Cartier of Lowell, W. C. Desharnais, J. Samson and Fred Ouellette of Garde des Hussards of Lawrence, Col. Albert Bergeron, Adj. Col. Horace Desilets, Theodore Rochette and Sergeant George Morrissette of Garde Frontenac of Lowell.

THE ENGINEERS Propose Amendment to Service Law

At a meeting of the legislative committee of the International Association of Steam Engineers, held in Boston Sunday afternoon, it was voted to amend the present law, so that a man to become eligible to take the examination for an engineer's license, must have served as engineer for a certain length of time. Local members of the association were present at this meeting.

Take ALLEOTONE For Your Cold, Sore Throat or Feverishness

ALLEOTONE is unique among all remedies in that it contains nothing but the very elements from which the human body is made.

The system tries to cast them forth, and in that effort an unnatural, over-stimulation is induced which often throws off the disease.

Your flesh and blood are made of millions of tiny cells. These cells are made from certain distinct chemical elements.

ALLEOTONE on the other hand, contains only those elements which your system is struggling to obtain from the nourishment, the lack of which is the very cause of the illness. There is no over-stimulation, no unfavorable after-effect, because ALLEOTONE is as natural to the system as water.

For these reasons, ALLEOTONE works with a rapidity that is hardly credited by those who do not understand the principle on which it is based.

As long as the supply of these elements derived from the food is adequate, the cells do their work and health reigns.

But, let that supply fall off, the activity of the cell drops down, and disease germs get a foothold.

Most medicine is decidedly made of elements that are foreign to the human system. Such are strychnia or calomel.

That principle has been under test for twenty years. Hundreds of physicians and hospitals are regularly using ALLEOTONE for all infectious (or germ) diseases.

You should learn for yourself the great value of ALLEOTONE as a remedy, a tonic and preventive. Try it for your Cold, Grippe, Sore Throat or Tonsillitis.

DREADNOUGHT ARKANSAS TO BE LAUNCHED JAN. 14 AT CAMDEN, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 10.—Within another week the battleship Arkansas, one more of the nation's "peace-makers," will be launched. This latest Dreadnought will take the water next Saturday, Jan. 14. One o'clock in the afternoon is the hour set, and then as the trigger is released 12,000 inert tons will be started into life—the gigantic hull will be on her way to her first bath in the waves, hereafter to be her element. The launching will take place here in the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company, the firm which obtained the contract for building the Arkansas. Not many years ago the laying down of a 26,000-ton ship was argued in Great Britain as a means of putting an end to the building of navies, but since the new standard was set the fallacy of the argument has been shown. Already in commission, building and provided for there are in the world's navies upward of 100 Dreadnoughts and super-Dreadnoughts. The original Dreadnought is almost obsolete. In the United States navy two of the new units are in commission, the North Dakota and the Delaware. Two more—the Utah and the Florida—are well toward completion. The next to take the water is the Arkansas, which will be closely followed by the Wyoming, and the New York and the Texas have been provided for. Each pair of sister ships has shown some improvement over the preceding pair, and it is becoming an accepted fact in naval circles that a battleship cannot hope to wear out. She cannot hope for a life of more than ten years—this in time of peace. Some idea of the rapidity with which these changes have come can be gathered from the statement that a single broadside from one of the modern monsters is nearly equal in weight to the combined weight of all the shot thrown from all the guns of all the fleet engaged in the battle of Manila bay. The rapidity with which the later vessels of the Dreadnought type have drawn away from the original is shown by the figures of tonnage. The first of the kind, laid down in 1905, had a tonnage of a little more than 18,000. The Delaware and the North Dakota, the first American ships of the class, are 20,000 tons each; the Florida and the Utah are 22,000 tons, the Arkansas and the Wyoming are 26,000 tons, and still bigger ones are contemplated. Considering other navies, the two vessels building in the United States yards for the Argentine government are bigger than the Arkansas and her sister by a thousand tons, while the Brazilian government has one still larger being built.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The first aid to the injured class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight at 7.30 with Dr. Sumner. Any young man in the association may take this valuable course, for no fee is charged. Each student must, however, pay for his book and outfit.

At 8.30 o'clock Wednesday evening the employed boys will have their first social of the season, when Dr. G. M. Randall will give a very valuable health talk on "Tuberculosis." Illustrated by 60 stereoscopic slides.

The basketball league games will start promptly at 7 o'clock. All teams will play it on the floor on time, and at 8.30 sharp the lecture will begin. Refreshments will be served.

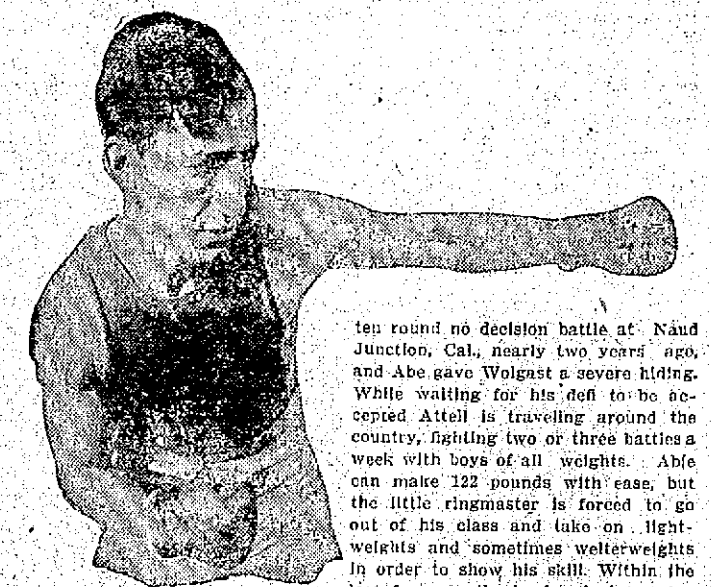

On the same evening it will be ladies' night for the senior gymnasium class, followed after 9 o'clock by a Victrola concert and refreshments.

The Y. M. C. A. has now 711 members. The board of directors met last night and the report of the membership committee showed that the membership had reached the highest point in the history of the association. The highest number reported in any previous month was 689.

Registrations for rooms in the dormitory for the new building are now being received.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, at 8 o'clock, a fine gymnastic program consisting of class drill maze, running and apparatus work will be given in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Hurd street, followed by a Victrola recital given by Mr. A. L. Fisher of Steinhilber's music store.

ABE ATTELL ANXIOUS FOR BATTLE WITH WOLGAST

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Abe Attell is the latest one to issue a challenge to Ad Wolgast. The featherweight champion says that the lightweight champion can name the terms for a "contest to suit himself." Attell thinks that he would experience little difficulty in beating Wolgast. The pair met in a ten round no decision battle at Naud Junction, Cal., nearly two years ago, and Abe gave Wolgast a severe hiding. While waiting for his debt to be accepted Attell is traveling around the country, fighting two or three battles a week with boys of all weights. Attell can make 122 pounds with ease, but the little ringmaster is forced to go out of his class and take on lightweights and sometimes welterweights in order to show his skill. Within the last four months he has had twenty-two battles of varying lengths, and in order to fill these dates Attell has been forced to hop about from one end of the country to the other. The featherweight champion has traveled around the country, more than any other pugilist, and for fourteen years he has exhibited his skill in nearly every large city in the United States.

HORSE KILLED Wagon Was Struck by Electric Car

ARLINGTON, Jan. 10.—Charles Tedusco, aged 15, of Main street, Winchester, was seriously injured about 5.30 last evening, when the wagon he was driving was struck by a Boston & Northern street car. The collision was on Mystic street, near Chestnut and the wagon and car met head on. The horse was killed outright and the boy thrown heavily to the ground. Tedusco was employed by Angelo Caterino, a local fruit merchant, and yesterday was his first day at work. He came here on the recommendation of Chief McIntosh of Winchester. He was put on odd jobs about the store and shortly after 5 o'clock was told to drive to a local hay and grain store and get some feed for the horse and then to Mr. Caterino's home on Mystic street, a short distance from where the accident happened. It is thought that after getting the grain the boy continued along the left side of the street and, when he saw the car coming, became confused, pulling across the tracks directly in front of the big car. The car killed the horse almost instantly. The wagon was wrecked. The driver was rushed to the police station, where Dr. Daniel J. Buckley and Dr. Harold R. Webb attended him and found both legs broken near the hips, his face badly injured and a possible injury to the head. They rushed him to the Massachusetts General hospital in the police ambulance. The care of the Boston & Northern are equipped with large searchlights, and at the point where the accident happened there is an arc light in the street, and it is possible that the boy thought he could get over to the other side in time. A slight turn in the road is supposed to have confused him, and many believed that being a young and inexperienced driver, he may have pulled in the wrong rein and thus pulled the horse directly in front of the car. Reports from the hospital are that the boy is in a very serious condition.

NEW YORK CITY IS HOUSE-CLEANING AMONG HER BANKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—New York bankers are undergoing a housecleaning. The failure of Robin banks, followed by the closing of the Carnegie Trust company, has once more demonstrated the power of J. P. Morgan. Three other banks were due to close, but Mr. Morgan came to the front and added his magic name as saying he would see that the banks paid in full, and as a result they are due to be left upon by the state and government officials. August Belmont has been selected by a number of bankers to make a report on various institutions, and New York city with more than 200 banks and trust companies is to have a complete overhauling. It is said that one of the laws laid down by Morgan in coming to the assistance of the tottering banks was that all the weak ones should be willing to consolidate with other banks.

DRAFT OF CHARTER

Considered by Committee of 60
Last Evening

The Committee Will Make Many
Changes Before Submitting
Draft to Legislature — Salient
Points of New Draft

The committee of 60 on charter revision held a lengthy meeting at the board of trade rooms last evening and discussed the draft of the proposed new charter.

The draft is not ready for publication as yet, as many changes are necessary and will be made within a short time.

When these changes have been made the draft will be filed at the state house for legislative action thereon with ultimate referendum to the people next fall.

The new charter provides for a city council of five members, a mayor and four aldermen to be elected by the people at large for two year terms. There shall be a school committee of five similarly elected which shall have general management and control of the schools, and also license and park commissions acting as now.

Municipal Council

The governing body of the city under the new charter will be a municipal council of five members, including a mayor and four aldermen. The annual city election will be held on the second Tuesday of each December with the municipal year beginning at 10 a. m. on the first Monday in January.

The members of the city government are to have two-year terms. Preliminary elections shall precede the annual city election and the two persons receiving the highest and second highest number of votes respectively for mayor, shall be the candidates at the annual city election, three weeks later. Carrying out this same theory at the preliminary elections, those who are to be candidates for aldermen at the annual city election will be the eight others receiving the highest number of votes. The two men will run for mayor and eight men for aldermen, one mayor and four aldermen being elected in the end. The preliminary election acts as a sifting-out process, those receiving the highest votes being the real candidates. This same rule applies to school committee elections.

There will be no party designation on the ballot.

Abolishment of Present Government.

Section 31. At ten o'clock in the forenoon of the first Monday of January, in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, the city council, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen and common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board shall be abolished, the terms of office which the present mayor, aldermen, common councilmen, school committee, members of the board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board are now serving shall terminate; and except as is otherwise provided in this act, all the present powers and duties under any act, general or special, of the mayor, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen, city council, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, and all the powers and duties with respect to the police forces in said city now vested in the board of police of the city of Lowell are hereby transferred to, shall vest in, devolve upon, and be exercised and performed by the municipal council. The municipal council shall be the judge of the election of its own members.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of public safety, and the municipal council shall at such meeting or so soon thereafter as may be designated by majority vote one alderman to be commissioner of finance; one to be commissioner of streets and highways; one to be commissioner of water works and fire protection; and one to be commissioner of public property, but such designations shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby. The mayor shall cause to be kept a record of all of his official acts, and to aid him in his official duties may appoint one or more clerks.

Powers of the Municipal Council

Section 25. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, with all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of park commissioners, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, can now do with such approval. The municipal council shall determine the policies to be pursued and the work to be undertaken in each department, but each commissioner shall have full power to carry out the policies or have the work performed in his department, as directed by the municipal council. Any notes, bonds or scrip which said city is authorized to issue shall be signed by its treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the municipal council.

WILLIAM H. WILSON,
Chairman Charter Committee

Section 26. The municipal council shall have full supervision of the erection, alteration and repair of all public buildings including school buildings, except repairs and alterations of school buildings for which provision is made in the annual appropriation. No department of the city and no corporation or person, shall at any time, open, dig up or otherwise obstruct any way or sidewalk, without the consent of the municipal council in writing previously obtained, except in case of an emergency.

Administrative Officers

Section 37. There shall be the following administrative officers, who shall perform the duties prescribed by law for them, respectively, and such further duties, not inconsistent with the nature of their respective offices and with general law, as the municipal council may prescribe, except as is otherwise provided herein: a city clerk, a city treasurer and collector of taxes, a city auditor, a purchasing agent, a city engineer, a city physician, a city messenger, a board of health, consisting of three members, a board of park commissioners, consisting of five members, a city solicitor, a chief of the fire department, a superintendent of police, a license commission of three, a seal, of weights and measures, a board of

Departments

Section 38. The administration of all affairs of the city shall be divided into five departments, to wit: Department of public safety, department of finance, department of streets and highways, department of water works and fire protection and department of public property and licenses; and said departments are defined as follows: The department of public safety shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Police, health, poor, legal and claims.

The department of finance shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Treasury, auditing, purchasing, assessing, sinking funds, tax collection, registration of voters and city clerk.

The department of streets and highways shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Highways and other ways, street lighting, street watering, sewers and drains and engineering. The commissioner of streets and highways, except as is herein otherwise provided, shall have exclusively the powers of, and be subject to the liabilities and penalties imposed by law on surveyors of highways.

The department of water works and fire protection shall include all boards and offices connected with the water supply of the city and fire protection.

The department of public property shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Buildings, parks, public grounds, cemeteries, electrical, weights and measures.

Every official or board having to do with the affairs of the city with the exception of such as pertain to the school committee or the city library shall be included in one of the above five departments, and if the assignment to a department is not made hereunder, the municipal council shall by ordinance or resolution, or by order or board to the department best adapted to include the same.

Section 39. The municipal council shall have the power to appoint the administrative officers named in section thirty-seven, and all other executive and administrative officers and boards and heads of departments heretofore known or designated, heads of departments now appointed or chosen by the mayor whether with or without confirmation, or by the city council, or by the mayor and aldermen, or by the board of aldermen, or by the board of aldermen, and common council, or by the board of aldermen, or in joint convention, and all additional executive or administrative officers and heads of sub-departments for which provision may hereafter be made by the municipal council, in accordance with this act and the general law of the Commonwealth.

Section 40. The municipal council shall have the power to suspend or remove any executive or administrative officer or head of department if it has the power to appoint, for such cause as it shall deem sufficient. The municipal council shall set forth in the order of suspension or removal its reasons therefor, provided that nothing contained in this section shall apply to any of the following special departments, namely, school committee, license commission, or the trustees of the public library.

The draft also provides for the recall and the initiative and referendum. The matter of recall is left open in the draft and will be determined upon during the week.

BY DIRECT VOTE

The Election of Senators is Favored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the senate committee on the judiciary, held last yesterday, a decision was reached to report favorably the sub-committee resolution authorizing an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

The controversy in the committee turned upon the question as to whether the state or the federal government should supervise the elections. The sub-committee's provision directs that the "time, places and manner of holding elections shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof." Senators Depew and Nelson, both offered amendments giving congress the power to regulate, but the southern senators opposed these provisions as most prejudicial to the interests of their constituents, some of them going so far as to assert that the measure would be more obstructive than the Force bill of the early '90s which caused one of the most famous of the senate fights. Both amendments were voted down 8 to 3. The favorable votes were cast by Senators Depew, Nelson and Dillingham.

Senator Borah, who favored the sub-committee's recommendation, was authorized to present the committee's report to the senate.

There is strong opposition in the senate to the measure and there will be little difficulty in preventing action during the present session, it is believed. The measure thus will die with this congress. Never before has a favorable report on a similar measure been received from the judiciary committee.

PLEASANT PARTY

Held in St. Joseph's
College Hall

An interesting soiree was given last night in St. Joseph college hall in Merrimack street. The affair consisted of a whist and an illustrated lecture on Japan by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church. It was largely attended, and the proceeds which will be devoted to the purchase of a new pulpit for St. Jean Baptiste church, were large.

Dr. A. G. Payette had the direction of the program. Euphane Labrie, sexton of St. Jean Baptiste church, had general charge of the soiree and was assisted by the following young women who acted as scorers: Mrs. G. Jorjal, Misses Laura Guerin, Regina Berger, Clementine, Cellina, Fabiola and Blanche Delisle, Rosanna Paradis.

DR. A. G. PAYETTE
Directed Program.

Cordelia Carrier, Alphonsine Ouellette, Marie Gosselin, Marie Louise Beaudet, Yvonne Tremblay, Marie Rosa Racette, Della and Clara Hardy, Anais Desrochers, Josephine Leclair, Juliette Brassard and Eugene Vincent.

An interesting whist contest opened the program and was followed by the lecture on Japan. Rev. Fr. Payette, O. M. I., was in charge of the whist contest, but this program had to be cancelled because the necessary views had not arrived. Fr. Baron's lecture proved of capital interest and no one was disappointed at the change. By means of the reflectoscope, a number of beautiful views of Japanese landscapes, temples, gods and celebrities were shown.

After the lecture the whist prizes were awarded by the following judges: Joseph L. Lamoureux, Charles D. Barry and Zol St. Hilaire. The winners were: Mrs. Dancosse, Darnelle Sawyer, Odile Sawyer, Mrs. Charbon, Laura Bratte, Almeria Cole, Theophile Guerin, Alf and Mrs. A. Bolduc, Blanche Portevin, Leda Chabot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arbour, Clara Renaud, Pulcherie Brunelle.

SECY MEYER

MAKES REPLY TO GOVERNOR DONAGHEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In response to what he characterized as "rather acrimonious communication from the governor of Arkansas," Secretary Meyer in his statement yesterday explaining the impracticability of postponing the launching of the battleship Arkansas. Gov. Donaghey complained in his letter that the navy department ignored him and the officials of the state of Arkansas in the launching preparations and charged that Secretary Meyer was "guilty not only of gross discourtesy to the representative of a sovereign state," but had "subjected himself to a criticism that cannot be adequately expressed in an official communication from the representative of a state to an official of the federal government."

Secretary Meyer in his statement regrets the "misunderstanding" under which the governor of Arkansas seems to labor and hopes that the state will find ample opportunity later to express its appreciation of the act of naming the battleship for that state.

Gov. Donaghey has announced that the state would take no further responsibility for the ceremonies of Jan. 14th.

Secretary Meyer asserts that he informed Gov. Donaghey of the date of the launching as early as possible and asked him to name a sponsor, receiving a reply from the governor that because the notice was too short it had been decided to perform the christening after the launching. As a sponsor had to be secured, the navy department communicated with Rep. Macon of Arkansas, the only representative of the Arkansas delegation who could be found in the city. Mr. Macon's daughter, therefore, was named as sponsor.

IN MINNESOTA

Corn Day is to be Observed

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 10.—Governor Eberhart has given his approval to the plan of the promoters of the National Corn Show to be held in Columbus, Ohio, to observe Friday, February 3 as National Corn Day. The governor set his stamp of approval on the plan when he appointed 300 delegates from Minnesota to the Columbus show.

Following the governor's sanction of the plan it was suggested that the people of Minnesota have a corn dinner on February 3. Professor C. P. Bull, of the department of agronomy, Minnesota College of Agriculture, says it will be easy to fix up a palatable menu.

Minnesota, according to George P. Welsh, state immigration commissioner, has better reason for celebrating corn day than any other state in the Union. "There was a time," said Mr. Welsh, "when everybody thought Minnesota was too far north to produce corn in any quantity. But we have fooled those skeptical persons in the last few years. Our agricultural experts have found that the Minnesota soil is as good for corn as it is for wheat and the whole world knows about our wheat. Corn is now being raised throughout the 408 miles of the state's length from Iowa to the Canadian border. The yield last year was 56,000,000 bushels and in 1903 it was 60,000,000. The decrease was due to the fact that fewer acres were planted in 1903."

Official figures show that Iowa having been excelled already, Illinois will have to look to her laurels as a corn producing state. If Minnesota keeps up her advancement in this branch of agriculture. Thousands of acres of fine corn land are lying beneath swamps and timber lands in Northern Minnesota and thousands of acres of tillable land are devoted to wheat, yet the average yield per acre for 1909 in Minnesota was 34.8 bushels as against 33.9 bushels for Illinois and 31.5 bushels for Iowa. In the Southern part of Minnesota the average yield per acre is more than 45 bushels. The state's average yield per acre in 1910 was 32.5 bushels. The Illinois and Iowa figures are not available, but it is understood that they made a better showing than in 1909.

Minnesota would be the best corn producing state in the Union if the farmers only took more care in its culture and were as good corn breeders as those of Iowa and Illinois, continued Commissioner Welsh. "The corn crops are not rotated as they should be, as Minnesota farmers prefer to make a specialty of wheat raising, thinking they can do better by raising a crop that many other states cannot raise. There was no crop failure in Minnesota last year. With the corn yield 59,000,000 bushels and the wheat yield 94,000,000 bushels conditions were about the same as in 1909."

Professor Bull says the faculty of the Minnesota college of agriculture is anxious that Corn day shall be generally observed. Professor Bull is a soil culturist and knows all about treating soil to produce any sort of

CORN DAY IS TO BE OBSERVED

It is wanted for special use. He can raise corn that will either fatten or make stock lean as may be desired by treating the soil and selecting the seed. He can raise corn that will produce an oil which passes in commerce as olive oil. Of he can produce a corn that is free from oil and contains a large proportion of starch. There are a few of the reasons why Minnesota can enter into the observance of Corn day with a willing spirit. It has been suggested that Governor Eberhart issue a special proclamation calling upon the people to observe the day, but at the executive office it is not believed such action will be necessary.

LEADERS HELD

OTHER REBELS WERE GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Seventy-three of the rebels who figured in the taking of Batopilas have surrendered to the federal officers and made public declarations of their desire to return to their former peaceful occupations. They turned over 45 carbines and other weapons. The prisoners, with the exception of Apollonio Rodriguez and three other leaders were given their liberty.

The first news direct from Guerrero which has been re-occupied by the federals, indicates that a number of government representatives and several citizens were put to death by the revolutionists.

BIG BIPLANE

RAN AWAY WITH GOV. ELECT COLQUITT

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10.—John J. Friable's Rochester biplane ran away with Governor-elect Colquitt of Texas yesterday and while Mr. Colquitt was posing for newspaper photographers.

The governor struck his foot against the accelerator, releasing the machinery and for several hundred yards the machine bounded along the track, finally being stopped. The governor elect seemed to enjoy the experience. Friable had a narrow escape from injury later, when the machine unhooked into a fence. He was thrown several feet and momentarily stunned but was otherwise uninjured.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, United Spanish War Veterans, was held last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance and considerable business of importance was transacted during the meeting. Commander George E. Sutherland presided. One of the principal matters brought to the attention of the command was that concerning the department convention which will be held in this city on April 19. The following committee of five was named to have charge of all arrangements: Capt. Colby Thomas Kittredge, chairman; Capt. Philip McNulty, Capt. Walter H. Jeyes, Arthur Salmon and Frank Dodge.

Camp Ames will hold a joint installation with Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary on the night of January 23. Officers of both departments will be present to perform the work.

v. 2, A. O. H. The committee of Division 2, A. O. H. appointed to conduct a coupon contest on April 15, met last night and perfected plans for the affair. It was also voted to hold a complimentary dance on Feb. 17 and the following officers were chosen to have charge of the affair: General manager, John P. Sheahan; assistant, Charles Riley; floor director, Austin Barker; assistant, Timothy Rordan; Phil Healy, chairman of the reception committee; John D. Rordan, Denis F. Lynch and James J. Carlin, Jr., were named to serve on the music and printing committee.

WORMS

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning, suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

TRUE'S ELIXIR

A pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 1851. It never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only cures the appetite, acts as a preventive of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

The republicans expect the democrats in congress to put up a hot battle on the tariff, and it would not be right to disappoint them on that score.

We have several amateur wireless stations here in Lowell that might have a commercial value under certain conditions. The possibilities of the wireless are still beyond comprehension.

Perhaps after all it is just as well to let the faith healers have their way. If Dr. Wiley's prediction that the earth will eventually become so cold that men will freeze at the equator, these faith curists may be needed to teach the people how to keep warm.

That murder at Providence last Saturday night was one of the most cruel in the annals of crime. No punishment would be too severe for the fiend who stabbed the woman's body all over with a table fork, in order, it is presumed, to make her tell of more money than he had found in her wallet.

The police of the country should bend their efforts towards putting a stop to the Black Hand villainies. The kidnapping and holding for ransom and the demand for large sums of money under penalty of death are so outrageous that the severest penalties of the law would not be too much to impose upon the culprits.

John D. Rockefeller must feel that the trustees of the Chicago university are hard to satisfy when on paying them $10,000,000 as the last instalment of $35,000,000 he told them that was all they would get from him and not to expect any more. Perhaps from experience he anticipated from the president of the university a modest request to double his donation in order to put the university on a permanent paying basis.

MRS. HOWE'S MEMORY

The friends of the late Mrs. Julia Ward Howe are too hasty in their demands for recognition of her memory after the manner that they themselves prescribe. Better wait until the people realize that she is dead. The people of this country can be relied upon to do full justice to the memory of this noble woman, and it is ill advised to force the matter at this stage.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS

The amendment of the federal constitution to provide for the popular election of senators should be pushed to the limit. The method of instructing the legislature by popular vote amounts to very little. The legislators ignore it whenever they see fit. On this matter we are practically in the same predicament as are the British people on the house of lords veto.

The national house has several times passed the amendment providing for direct election of senators. The senate refused to pass it, however. The legislatures of nearly two-thirds of the states have urged congress to pass such an amendment or else call a constitutional convention. If the legislatures of two-thirds of the states would vote in favor of a constitutional convention, congress would be obliged to call such convention and the amendment framed by such convention shall become a part of the constitution when ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures of the states.

GOOD WORK OF THE WOMEN'S GUILD

The report of the Women's Guild on the work of the milk station for the past year indicates that a good beginning has been made and that next year a great deal more will be accomplished. There can be no doubt as to the need of this work or of its vast possibilities for good. If the nurses only come in contact with the mothers who need their assistance most, it will be an easy matter to save a great many of the little waifs from death as a result of unskillful treatment.

If the truth were known the people of Lowell would stand aghast at the number of young children that die annually as a result of ill treatment, mismanagement in the shape of wrong feeding, wrong clothing, lack of fresh air or one of many other causes which the nurses can remedy by prompt action or sometimes by a little friendly advice to the mothers.

For this reason we congratulate the Women's Guild on its success thus far and predict for this new line of work the most gratifying results in lessening the infant mortality of our city, especially by checking the ravages of cholera infantum, that terrible scourge of the innocents.

AS TO ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The matter of publishing anonymous letters rests entirely with the editor. Sometimes an anonymous letter conveys matter in dispute, the merits of which the editor knows nothing about. He might be inclined to investigate but he does not know the writer and hence is at a loss to find who has the information. If, however, the anonymous letter conveys information as to where he may find a good news item the letter will not be published, but the item will be looked up. When the writers of communications to the press are asked to give their names, not necessarily for publication, they should not object, for in such cases they can rely that the editor will not betray their confidence. It happens that most of the anonymous letters come from people who want to strike somebody through the newspaper but who are unwilling to let their identity be known. Even in this case they might not be afraid; for if there is anything wrong in their communications the paper, not the writer, is responsible.

The writers of such anonymous communications need not be surprised if their veiled attacks do not see the light of day. Where there are so many irresponsible characters ready to enter libel suits for little or no cause, the anonymous writer need not complain if his arrows shot from ambush are not taken up by the newspaper and fired home.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Kindness is catching, and if you go around with a thoroughly developed case, your neighbor will be sure to get it."

"A little explained, a little endured, a little forgiven, the quarrel is cured."

"We deliberately make nearly all of our unhappiness with our own unreasonable discontent, and nothing will make us happy except the spirit within."

"We cannot change yesterday, that is clear. Or begin on tomorrow until it is here; so all that is left for you and for me is to make today as sweet as can be."

"If tears have dimmed our eyes, let us brush away the tears. If troubles and cares have burdened our hearts, let us rise triumphant over them all and for this day be glad; and in our gladness let us find our strength."

"Once, out of all the anguish and the sorrow of my heart, I wrote a song, and put my pent-up passion in its art. And the great world never heeded this soulful human groan. For it bore a burden infinitely heavy of its own."

"Once, out of all the happiness and joy I made a little song, and blithely sent it on its way. And the great world, with its infinitely many joys, divine, still had room and instant welcome for this little song of mine."

A VOICE FROM THE PLAINS. Do I look like a city-bred creature. A woman skimmed light at the lips. With an inch of white flour on each cheek.

And a dab of red paste on my lips? Is my head weighted down with a heavy load of horrid, old, or low. That you ask me if I'm from Chicago. Or one of the set that you know?

Do I look like a girl that would wobble When nature has given me feet. Or my myself up in a hobble. To make me a sight on the street? Is my hat a ridiculous jammie. Of the heathenish color and shape. That would sicken the sight and the stomach. Or even the foolishlest ape?

Do I talk with an edge like a parrot. Or giggle, or chatter, or chirp. Is my hair bleached the shade of a carrot? Do I wear a man's trousers or shirt? Am I rigged up to strut like a dummy. In duds unbecoming and loud. Or swaddled to look like a mummy. My form showing clear to the crowd?

No, I'm not a city-bred woman. I come from the west. Where women intend to stay human. Because they consider it best. We have use for our brains and our bodies. And something to live for but style. We are genuine women—not shod. And life to our kind is worth while.

We are here for the good of creation. We're women, not clothes signs or birds. We're working for human salvation. And value good deeds and good words. O, yes, we have heard that you pity. Such badly gown'd creatures as I. But, thank God, I'm no child of the sky. I'm dressed for the plains and the sky.

Petitions for a change in the manner of confinement of Jesse Pomeroy at state prison, which have annually been presented to governors by the "Society for the Promotion of Criminal Anthropology," have met with such little success that the society has decided not to present such a petition to Governor Foss. The society, according to its president, F. H. Gilman, has seen the futility of attempting to obtain any action in the face of strong public opinion, which, it is charged, is kept up by the circulation of falsehoods about Pomeroy.

An advertisement was published in a Honolulu paper by J. When the advertisement was read by Miss Miamolo, she immediately resigned her position.

A fresh honor was thrust on J. Pierpont Morgan recently, a newly discovered gem, a variety of beryl, named the "Morganite" after him. "I have named it 'Morganite' for J. Pierpont Morgan, the distinguished financier, art-lover and philanthropist," said Dr. George F. Kunz, the expert on gems. "This, in recognition of the encouragement he has given always to the arts and sciences, and in appreciation of the collection of precious stones he gave to the museums of natural history in New York and Paris."

Describing "Morganite," Dr. Kunz said it is found on Mount Billy, an island of Madagascar, in stones weighing from one to 100 carats. It is of a beautiful, brilliant pink rose-color, and wonderfully free from flaws. The purest of the larger gems rivaling pink tourmaline and pink opal. It is the first pink beryl found; green beryl is emerald, sea-blue or sea-green beryl is aquamarine.

On Jan. 1 Francis L. Chapin of Southbridge rounded out 43 years of service as cashier of the Southbridge National bank. He probably will be relieved in the future from the more arduous duties involved in his office, while still retaining his active connection with the bank. Mr. Chapin is nearly 57 years of age and is in excellent health. He was born in England. As a young man he was clerk in a bank at Ware, and left to enlist for Civil war service, returning after the war to his position. From there he was called to the Southbridge bank as assistant cashier, and upon the death, a short time afterward, of the cashier, he was chosen his successor. He is prominent in Southbridge affairs.

Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson is to be inaugurated Jan. 17 at Trenton. There will be no parade, and the ceremony will be simple. A Princeton company of the Second regiment will act as Dr. Wilson's personal escort. The inauguration will take place in Taylor's Opera House, the legislature having seats on the stage. A Presbyterian clergyman will make the opening prayer and Bishop McFall, Roman Catholic, will pronounce the benediction.

MURDER CHARGE

Child Wife is Placed on Trial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Weeping hysterically at times, then appearing hyed from fear, and finally changing into a composed young maiden chewing gum, is the character study of Rose Picchione, a pretty 17-year-old Italian girl, as she appeared yesterday when her trial for murder in the first degree was begun before Supreme Justice Tompkins, presiding at White Plains.

Rose, when she was a bride of only six months, shot and killed her husband in New Rochelle on Oct. 12 last. He had accused her of being too friendly with John Cavanah, a young barber and her neighbor.

The defendant is the first woman ever to go to trial in Westchester county on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Ever since she has been in the White Plains jail awaiting trial she has been visited by many charitable women, who have taken a great interest in her welfare.

A jury was secured yesterday in the record time of one hour and most of them are farmers.

Charles H. Nixon, her assigned counsel, will offer as a defense that Rose shot her husband because he had threatened to kill her and that he had tried to shoot her just before she pulled the trigger which sent three bullets into his body.

Lieut. Frank Corey of the New Rochelle police department testified that the woman, when she was arrested, said she had killed her husband and that he had pulled the trigger which sent three bullets into his body.

WEST UNION, O., Jan. 10.—Twenty-five penitent students, self-confessed vote sellers, who were waiting for him at Peabees when he returned yesterday to the county seat from his home at Portsmouth, were tried by Judge Blair before daybreak. Court was held in the lobby of a hotel and the men thus were spaced the 14 mile overland journey to this village.

When Judge Blair arrived here he found 75 others ready to acknowledge their guilt. To the one hundred he gave the customary fine of $5 and five years' disfranchisement. The day's work brings the total number of these young guilty up to 1428. The total number indicted is 1648.

Man Was on His Way to Westford.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 10.—Daniel F. Callahan, a farm hand, was struck by a train coming from Acton, Mass. last night and was seriously injured. Callahan was placed aboard the train and hurried to Nashua, where he was taken to the Emergency hospital. His injuries consist of two broken ribs and possible internal injuries. The nature of the injuries and the long ride on the train and Callahan in such a condition that he did not rally well after his injuries were dressed and it is feared that he may not recover.

As far as is known here, the injured man belongs in Boston, where he has two sisters, but had been working on farms in northern Massachusetts. He is 42 years old and unmarried.

At the time the accident occurred he was riding the tracks going from Acton to Westford. The train which struck him is a mixed freight and passenger train which usually arrives in Nashua about 7 o'clock. Owing to the accident it did not reach here last night until 9:30 o'clock.

MORE MONEY WANTED FOR THE RAISING OF THE MAINE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The $300,000 appropriated by congress at the last session for removing the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor will be insufficient for the purpose and within a few days an estimate will be transmitted to congress suggesting an additional appropriation. The difficulty in obtaining competent mechanics and laborers and engineering obstructions encountered in the placing of a coffer dam around the wreck account for the increased cost of the undertaking.

Engineers say the wrecking operation has not progressed to a point where it is possible to attach any light upon the cause of the sinking of the ship.

TELEGRAPHERS WILL BE OBLIGED TO FORWARD ALL MESSAGES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Telegraph offices at Lisbon, Portugal, which have hitherto refused to transmit what seemed to them false and misleading information concerning the political situation of that country, hereafter will be required to send any communication, previous to its being forwarded, advice received yesterday by the government by Viscount de Alca, minister of the provisional government of Portugal to the United States. It had been alleged that the action of the telegraph offices had been inspired "to keep the real situation from the public," but the government has now ordered that messages be forwarded "in their entirety, without suppression or alteration of a single word."

MCGILL TEAM WON. NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The hockey team of McGill university of Montreal defeated the Quebec Athletic club seven, three goals to two, last night. The team work of the Canadians was the feature of the match. At the end of the first half the score stood McGill 3; Quebec 1.

Go Into Business With Us

Lowell people—men and women—we invite you to go into business with us. No matter whether you are in business for yourself now or working for a salary or wages, if you have a few hundred dollars saved or can spare $10, $20, or $50 a month we can make it grow for you.

You have heard of the fortunes that have been made by people who invested early in big enterprises when they were little. We offer you that kind of an opportunity.

Not every small enterprise can grow into a big and profitable one. It must have in it the possibilities of bigness. Our business has such possibilities, plus the Plan, plus the Ambition, plus the Determination. There is a clear track ahead and our destination is a million-dollar business.

We established an agency in Lowell less than 60 days ago and already have enrolled a large list of students which gives us a good business in this city. We purpose to open such agencies in every important New England city.

The proceeds of the stock we are now selling will provide working capital for our growing business.

Among our present stockholders in Lowell are the following well known people:

J. HARVEY GAMBLE, Supt. American Mason Safety Tread Co. A. T. SIMPSON, Manager, Shipping Dept., Whittall Mfg. Co. C. F. DUPEL, Chief Draftsman, Lowell Machine Co. FRANK GRIFFIN, Hamilton Mills. MRS. JANET KIRKLAND, Apple Street. WALTER A. BROTHERS, 62 Royal Street. THOS. H. LAWLER, Lawlor Printing Co.

It will pay you to investigate this opportunity. Information will cost you nothing, and it may lead to your fortune.

First Citizen of Holyoke is Dead. Standard Oil Co. Settles Its Fine.

HOLYOKE, Jan. 10.—Ex-Congressman William Whiting, Holyoke's oldest living ex-mayor and first citizen, died last evening at 8:10 o'clock at his Elm street home surrounded by his family. He had been in failing health for several months. Yesterday morning he had a sinking spell, and he gradually sank into a state of coma in which he remained until death claimed him.

Thus ended a fight that had been waged for several years, his health having been undermined years ago. For many years he had been obliged to take the best of care of himself and it was principally because of his health that he was prevented from making the run for the republican nomination for governor.

There was talk at the time of the visit of President McKinley to Mr. Whiting's home here in June, 1900, of his being considered for a cabinet position and there is little doubt but that the president would have gladly given him a place in the nation's councils.

Holyoke will be shrouded in gloom for Mr. Whiting was generally esteemed. He was a constant giver to all causes, both little and big.

William Whiting was born at Dudley, May 24, 1841, the son of William Bailey Whiting and Elizabeth Whiting. He was the oldest of 11 children and was obliged to earn his living at an early age, but he continued his studies in the public school until he was 17, when he accepted the position of bookkeeper for the Holyoke Paper company.

His youthful ambition was to study law, but he devoted such a marked business capacity that he gave up this plan and applied himself to a business life.

He became business agent and traveling salesman for the Holyoke Paper company soon after entering its employ and in 1865 he had mastered all the details of the paper trade.

In that year he began business on his own account by purchasing a mill on Lyman street, Holyoke, in which he manufactured a high grade writing paper. This mill is now known as Whiting mill No. 1. Later he erected a building on Dwight street, which is known as Whiting mill No. 2. It was in 1867 that the writing paper company was organized, of which Mr. Whiting was president from the start.

He was also president and manager of the Collins manufacturing company of North Wilbraham; president of the Whitmore manufacturing company of Holyoke, and of the National Blank Book company of Holyoke.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words.

Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

Distortion No. 1 states that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has never been the policy of this company to advertise "Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything."

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees, and is causing sickness, its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centres that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, providing the indigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

Charge No. 2 states that the passage of the National Food and Drugs Act compelled us to drop from the packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of "wheat and barley."

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new Law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believed that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centres is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and "manuscript as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claim, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

"The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread."

Some Department chemists deceive themselves as well as the public.

"Calorie" is the word which defines a unit of heat determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 860; Grape-Nuts 330; milk 0.70; Remember the statement on the package spoke of the nourishment the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories of heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units, notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

As an illustration: Attempt to feed a man sixty days on butter alone, with its 860 calories. The man would die before the experiment had run sixty days.

Then, take Grape-Nuts with 3.90 and milk with 0.70—the two combined equal 4.60—about one-half the number of calories contained in butter. The man fed for sixty days on this food would be well nourished, and could live not only sixty days, but six months on that food alone, and we do not hesitate to say from our long knowledge of the sustaining power of the food that a man at the end of sixty days would be of practically the same weight as when he started, if he be a man of normal weight.

We will suppose that from his work he lost a pound a day and made up a pound each day from food. If that premise proved to be true the man in sixty days' time would make sixty pounds of tissue to replace what had been lost, and this would be done on Grape-Nuts and milk with half the number of calories of butter, upon which no one can sustain life.

Therefore, we have reason to believe that our contention is right that concentrated food like Grape-Nuts, which is partly digested and ready for easy assimilation by the body, presents more nourishment than the system will absorb than many other forms of food, and we will further say that in cases of digestive troubles where meat, white bread and oats cannot be digested, that Grape-Nuts and milk contain more nourishment than many pounds of these other foods.

Distortion No. 3 charges that our testimonials were practically all paid for and re-written in Battle Creek.

These testimonials were demanded by the opposing lawyers. Naturally this demand was refused, for they are held in vaults and kept safe to prove the truth, and are not to be delivered up on demand of enemies.

Testimony at the trial brought out the fact that we never printed a single testimonial that we did not have the genuine letter back of. Many of these letters came spontaneously. A record was kept of twelve hundred and four (1204) letters received in one month from people who wrote that they had either entirely recovered their health or been benefited by following our suggestions on food and beverages.

On three or four occasions in the past ten or twelve years we printed broadcast in papers offers of prizes to users of Postum and Grape-Nuts—two hundred $10.00 prizes one hundred $20.00, twenty of $50.00, and five of $100.00 each—stating that each must be an honest letter with name and address.

We agreed not to publish names, but to furnish them to enquirers by letter. These letter writers very generally answered those who wrote to them, and verified the truth of the statements.

Under this agreement not to publish names literally scores of letters came from doctors. We kept our word and neither printed their names or surrendered the letters.

Right here notice an "imitation spasm." The "Weekly" says: "Post got those testimonials by advertising for them. In New York he used for that purpose the New York Magazine of —, whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary for fraudulent use of the mails. For example, Post announced in that magazine in 1907, etc." (Then follows our prize competition.)

"We used nearly all of the papers and magazines in New York and the rest of America, but the sensational writer gives the impression to his readers that the only magazine we used was one 'whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary,' etc., something that we know nothing of the truth of now and never did. Space was bought in the magazine spoken of on a business basis for the reason that it went to a good class of readers. The incident seems to have furnished an opportunity for a designing writer to deceive his readers."

We look upon honest human testimony from men and women as to the means by which they recovered health as of tremendous value to those in search of it. Our business has been conducted from the very first day upon lines of strict integrity, and we never yet have published a false testimonial of human experience. Many of these letters covered numerous sheets, some, if printed, would spread over half a page of newspaper. If we would attempt to print one such letter in every one of the thousands of papers and magazines we use, the cost for printing that one letter would run into many thousands of dollars.

We boil down these letters exactly as a newspaper writer boils his news, sticking secretly to the important facts and eliminating details about the family and other unimportant matters. This work of boiling down, or editing, is done honestly, and with a full knowledge of our responsibility, but notice the art of the "twister" in the way he presents to his readers this matter of testimonials.

Distortion No. 4. This is a bad one. It reads as follows: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to a testimonial was produced in court by Colliers and turned out to be a poor, old, broken-down homopath, who is now working in a printing establishment. He received ten dollars ($10.00) for writing his testimonial."

We will wager ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) with any investigator that we have, subject to inspection of any fair committee, upwards of three hundred (300) communications from physicians, many of them expressing the highest commendation of our products, but these will not now or ever be turned over to the publisher for his use.

Notice the statement in this charge: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to Postum testimonial, etc."

The truth is, this Dr. Underwood was one of a great many physicians who have not only written commendatory words about the value of our foods, but every now and then some physician writes an article on coffee or on food and sends it to us with a suggestion of compensation for his time and medical knowledge. Previous to the time when we employed physicians in our own business, we occasionally employed a doctor to write an article on coffee, always insisting that the article be an honest expression of his opinion and research.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually, and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticised.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

The "Weekly" hunted up this physician, and because he seemed to be poor, and as it says, "broken-down," had him brought to court to be exposed before a jury as the "only physician that had ever endorsed Grape-Nuts," but when to the chagrin of the "Weekly" when our attorneys asked him if the article he wrote about coffee was true, he replied "yes."

Statement No. 5. reads: "The health officers of Mich., Maine, Penn., New Hamp., and other states in their official bulletins have for years been denouncing as promissory and fraudulent the claims made by the Postum Cereal Company." We do not recall any criticism except from Mich., Penn., Maine and S. Dakota.

The average reader might think that the opinions expressed by the State Officials are always correct, but that conclusion is not borne out by facts.

As an illustration: About thirteen years ago the Dairy and Food Commission of Michigan for some personal reason printed a severe criticism on us for making Postum of Barley (according to his official chemist) at market price and selling too high. He was shown there was never a grain of barley used in Postum. His report was false and misleading. The governor dismissed him.

We believe that most of the state officials are honest, and on the other hand, we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be substantiated by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from theirs, and we are both honest, they have rather the advantage, because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

Spasm No. 6 says: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever. Notwithstanding, he knew that danger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened."

This is intended to mislead the reader into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis.

Mr. Post, himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in the study and observation of food as related to the digestive organs; and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominating cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy of digestion.

Dr. Ochsner in his work on appendicitis refers, directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained on the market. He also brought out the interesting fact that in "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food. The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to the question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles, and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

No. 7 is a live wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his studies and experience in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing," which further lead to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attended clinics in Europe and fitted himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both from the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1891 he was an invalid. In that year, after being under the care of several well known physicians he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well understood method. Sufficient to say, he became a well man, weighing about 185 pounds.

This experience challenged his investigation into causes of disease and their amelioration. Those studies and experiences developed a very profound reverence for a Supreme Power which directly operates upon the human being, and this reverence for the Infinite became to him a form of religion which included honesty of purpose towards his fellowman. A statement which will be endorsed by everyone who knows him closely.

He will make a public announcement in detail of these facts, and the Postum Company will cause that statement to be published in newspapers and magazines in due time. We suggest the reader look for it.

Prevarication No. 8 "Post spends nearly a million a year in advertising and relies on that to keep out of the newspapers the dangerous nature of the fraud he is perpetrating on the public."

The Postum Company does pay out upwards of a million a year for trade announcements. Newspaper men believe our statements truthful or they would not print them. Large numbers of newspaper men use our products.

They are capable of telling the public whether or not we "bribe" them.

It may have escaped notice that we did not "bribe" that particular weekly.

No. 9 states that the amount of the verdict will "be devoted by the weekly" to exposing fraud.

This is almost real humor.

We have two suits pending against the "weekly," total $500,000.00.

We haven't "devoted" the sum to any particular purpose yet.

Item 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a part of Postum.

But the criticism neglected to mention that for years every Postum package announced in plain type that the outer covering of wheat (bran), made part of the beverage.

Some Facts.

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter been printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has received upwards of fifty thousand (50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This Company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

M. K. HOWE, Treasurer. (With Company about 14 years.)

L. J. LAMSON, Inspector of Advt. (With Company about 9½ years.)

F. C. GRANDIN, Advertising Manager. (With Company about 13 years.)

R. M. STERRETT, M. D., Physician in charge of Scientific Dept. (With Company about 4½ years.)

CHARLES W. GREEN, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 5 years.)

HARRY E. BURT, General Sup't. (With Company about 13 years.)

H. C. HAWK, Assistant to Chairman. (With Company about 7 years.)

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness."

His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight into the eyes of the haggling, twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and bull-doz and confuse a witness.

The "dodging," it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries.

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your book which suggests any particular kind of food? Then followed some discussion between attorneys."

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book, it turns out, was written by Mr. Post, seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain without reading it over, but such conservative and well-balanced answers are construed by sensation-seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the Jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions: (The lawyer reading from the book.)

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example."

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions."

"Read carefully, thoughtfully no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and go into the silence where mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God dwells to calm the soul. The thoughts of Divine Universal Mind come as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a Higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court Room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward over the rail, pointed his finger at the Attorney's face to emphasize his reply, and with eyes that caused those of the Attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "weekly" have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00 is asked as damages, and may the right man win.

After all the smoke of legal battle blows a way, the facts will stand out clearly and never be forgotten that Postum, Grape-Nuts, and Post Toasties are perfectly pure, have done good honest service to humanity for years, the testimonials are real and truthful and the business conducted on the highest plane of commercial integrity.

WOMEN'S GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

Of Elliot Church Held
Last Night

Has Moved Into Its New Quarters on Dutton Street

The first annual meeting of the Lowell Guild was held yesterday afternoon at the Lowell Board of Trade rooms. A partial report was in yesterday's edition of The Sun, but inasmuch as the meeting was in progress when the paper went to press the entire proceedings of the meeting were not reported. The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Harry Boardman; first vice president, Mrs. Harry G. Folsom; second vice president, Mrs. James F. Preston; secretary, Miss Mary Landon. The treasurer, Mrs. Arthur J. Murkland, holds over.

A rising vote of thanks was given the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Wood.

It was voted to hold a house warming in the new quarters of the Guild, 15 Dutton street, on Saturday, Jan. 21, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Reports were made on the condition of the two branches of the work which the Guild will carry on, the district nursing and the milk station. Through the generosity of the corporations the lower floor of No. 17 Dutton street, comprising four rooms and bath, will be used by the Guild for its milk station and district nursing work. The two departments moved into the new quarters today.

Miss Walsh, the district nurse, presented an interesting report.

Miss Edith Stott, chairman of the milk committee, also gave an interesting report of the work done and what will be used by the Guild for its milk station and district nursing work. The two departments moved into the new quarters today.

At a given hour in May, the bells of the city rang for the ladies to start and gather the envelopes distributed a few days previously in the different homes. The result was gratifying. With this money they were able to equip sufficiently for the present demands. More help was needed in the stationing departments.

Each week two conferences have been held with physicians in charge, and the babies weighed and height recorded. The formula prescribed according to weight.

Of those who have had patience enough to stay with us at least a week: In April were 5; May, 11; June, 15; July, 27; August, 51; Sept. 44; Oct. 43; Nov. 36; Dec. 39; Jan. 36.

In August two delightful trips were planned for the mothers and babies and they had a genuine treat.

During the summer and fall, eight babies were sent to the hospital; 20 families helped by allowing the milk free for some little time, or part payment if necessary.

We are glad to report that of the many babies getting the milk, only three have died—one of bronchitis, one from bad home conditions, and one from malnutrition. Many were weak and likely to die when they began to take milk from the depot under the direction of nurses, and Miss Lindsay felt that a considerable number of lives had been saved through the work of the milk depot.

The Guild expressed its gratitude to the trustees of the Lowell General hospital for the assistance rendered by pupil nurses at that hospital.

It was announced that St. John's hospital will send a pupil nurse to assist in the work, who will alternate with the pupil nurse from the Lowell General, each working alternately in the milk station and the district nursing departments.

The annual supper and business meeting of the Elliot church was held last night. Supper was served early in the evening and the business meeting was opened by a selection by the choir, and prayer by the pastor. The report of the clerk, Mr. Frank A. P. Coburn, showed the membership of the church to be 475.

The pastor, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, reported for his ten years of work in the church. A. C. Russell moved that a vote of thanks be given the pastor for his work during the past ten years of his pastorate, and a rising vote was given.

Frank A. P. Coburn was re-elected clerk, and Deacon E. E. Sargent, treasurer; deacon for four years, Wm. J. Blake; delegates to represent the church in the Andover association for the year, A. C. Russell, Miss Edith E. Russell, Fred M. Barney, Mrs. Daniel Varum, Deacon James Sykes.

George S. Hull, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported a growth in various departments of the school. The attendance during the year has averaged over 20 more than last year. Mr. Hull was re-elected superintendent, and the other officers elected for the Sunday school were: Assistant superintendent, Alvin E. Sykes; treasurer, Charles Adams; secretary, Miss Edith Wright.

Fred M. Barney was elected auditor. Mrs. Albert Moore reported for the visiting committee, and the same committee was appointed for the ensuing year.

Allen Nichols reported for the Christian Society, showing an increase of 20 in the membership.

The Women's Home Missionary association report was given by Mrs. Charles S. Proctor. Contributions of cash and other gifts were reported to the amount of $290.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society reported through Miss Mary Fletcher, a large average attendance of women at the meetings, and the raising of about $70 for missions.

Mrs. J. A. Faulkner reported for the Byway committee, and the committee was reappointed.

The Ladies' Charitable association, through its treasurer, Miss Clara D. Horne, reported the supper held during the year, which brought in the net sum of over $600.

Mr. Fred Sisk reported as president of the John Elliot Literary club. There was an average attendance of 25 at the meetings of the club devoted to the study of foreign countries.

The Sabrey club reported through its secretary, Frank Hill, the gift to that club of over $500, toward the church repairs during the year. Report was also made of an entertainment in progress, to be given Jan. 25.

The report of the King's Daughters, given by Mrs. William Greig, showed a year of considerable activity for 70 young women of the church, and a net sum of over $350 raised. There were also many details of charity work done in the hospitals, children's homes and other institutions.

"The Grelges" reported through the president, Chester Chase.

The report of the Elliotts, by Emil Hartford, included the gift of the electric dome, which ornaments the vestry, over the speaker's desk.

The Ward club, of boys, reported through its president, Harry R. Dolson. This included the work of the Boy Scouts.

The youngest and last society to report was that of the Sunbeams, a class of girls under the direction of Mrs. Maude Smith. The report was written and read by Miss Ethel Soragae.

After the business was concluded, a vote of thanks was given to the choir, to the ladies who provided the supper, to the Sabrey club, for ushering during the year, to the Christian Endeavor society for furnishing flowers for the pulpit, and to the King's Daughters, for special issues of calendars.

After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," the meeting was adjourned.

TO KEEP THE HAIR LIGHT AND FLUFFY

(From Chicago Inter Ocean)

The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair coarse, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powdered orris root and four ounces of therax. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result.

Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair makes it soft and glossy, and if continued regularly, tends to make the hair long and abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

GIFT OF $50,000

Void

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Judge Grant of the police court yesterday disallowed the codicil to the will of Emily J. Frye of Allston, because it was not attested in the legal sense by one of the witnesses, Louise Matthews. As a result of the decision, the Old Ladies' Home of Boston loses a contingent bequest of about $50,000.

Under the will the bulk of the property was placed in trust for the benefit of Joseph H. Frye, son of the testator. On his death, if there were no children, one-third of the income went to the wife, Dora A. Frye, until her death or her remarriage, and the remaining two-thirds to the heirs of Nicholas E. Gardner and Elizabeth G. Humphrey of Providence. By the codicil the testatrix sought to change the provision of the will as to the disposition of the property on the death of her son so as to give the property to the Old Ladies' Home of Boston. The estate is worth about $50,000.

Miss Matthews testified that when she subscribed her name she thought she was witnessing Dr. William A. Leasure's signature. He was a witness to the codicil, as was R. Ruebberg. She associated the paper in no way, the judge finds, with Mrs. Frye, who was in the room, and did not notice Mrs. Frye's signature. Nothing was said by Mrs. Frye or anyone else in Miss Matthews' presence to call her attention to the instrument as Mrs. Frye's paper.

The fact that she learned after she had left the room that she had been attesting a paper belonging to Mrs. Frye cannot serve as a substitute for lack of knowledge, says the court.

"GRAFT" CASES

Probe of Middlesex Co.
Resumed

The Middlesex grand jury yesterday continued to hear witnesses in the investigation of the so-called Middlesex county "graft" cases. Michael J. Sughrue was the first witness. He went into the jury room at 9:30 and stayed until 10:15. Mr. Sughrue was employed attorney who the investigation was started by the taxpayers' association.

Richard H. Dana of Cambridge also testified.

HE LOST $196

BY BEING ASSIGNED TO DO SPECIAL WORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Ordered by the secret service to stenographic duty with the secretary of the interior in preparing a confidential investigation report in 1906, B. R. Rhee has found himself $196 out of pocket. Congress has been asked by Secretary Ballinger to appropriate this deficiency, which occurred when E. H. Hitchcock was secretary of the interior. Rhee was ordered to report at Mr. Hitchcock's summer home at Dublin, N. H., which he did. He expected to stay only a few days but Mr. Hitchcock was called to Oyster Bay so frequently to consult with President Roosevelt that the work stretched into three weeks. Comptroller Tracewell held that the detail was unlawful and disallowed the expense account. Now Secretary Ballinger has taken up cudgels for Rhee's relief.

JOE CHOYNSKI

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Joe Choynski, the veteran heavyweight boxer, has accepted the position as athletic director of the new $1,500,000 Pittsburg Athletic club in Pittsburg and will go there in time to be ready for the opening on Feb. 22.

BADLY DAMAGED

FIRE IN GOV. POTHIER'S MILL AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 10.—The mill of the Rosemont Dyeing company, of which Gov. Aram J. Pothier is treasurer, was badly damaged last night by a fire which occupied the entire Woonsocket department for two hours. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The loss will be about $35,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

GUTTED BY FIRE

Odd Fellows Building at East Lynn Destroyed

LYNN, Jan. 10.—Fire completely gutted the five story brick block owned by the East Lynn Order of Odd Fellows early this morning. The block was at the corner of Chestnut and Essex streets, East Lynn, and besides the Odd Fellows hall was used by the East Lynn station of the Lynn post office. The fire was discovered by a patrolman at 5 o'clock in the corridor of the third floor and is supposed to have started from a lighted cigarette left by one of the merry-makers at a ball in the hall last night. The loss is estimated at $35,000. All of the mails were saved, but bowling alley fixtures and a completely stocked pharmacy owned by F. I. Hopkins were total losses.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A large audience greeted Augustus Perry "and her own company" at the Opera House last night, when the play entitled "Why He Divorced Her," was presented.

The play was very good and interspersed between the acts were numerous specialties, some of them calling for praise.

Miss Perry in the part of "Doris Hastings," who was the victim of a hard hearted plot, had much charm of face and manner and her acting was sufficient. In one scene she had to undergo much physical exertion, inasmuch as the villain manhandled her in grievous fashion.

"Why He Divorced Her," is sensational, and it tells things about marital infidelities that everyone who reads and lives knows.

Several of the vaudeville acts are more than ordinary, especially the closing one, a man and woman who during acrobatics and who conclude with a broken pole. The woman, named Fables will do her famous slide for life Thursday night. There are also three other good acts.

The City of Sins, is the bill for tonight.

MARIE CHILL

Direct from New York and Boston, Marie Chill will come to the Opera House soon in her latest success, the vaudeville comedy, "The City of Sins." The place will be given here in its Broadway entirety, even including the famous "Judy" chorus of sixty young and pretty girls, not one of whom is over eighteen years of age, or was ever on the stage until this season. Aside from the beauty and scenic grandeur of the production, the notable cast, the piece scored success because of its unusual theme, humorous entanglements and laughable lines. There are nineteen tuneful numbers, including "Marie Chill's song," "Hill," "Whoo La-La," "Good Morning, Judge," and the "Turkish Love Song."

When the Sheehan English Grand Opera Co. comes to the Opera House, Tuesday, Jan. 17th, for an all star performance of Verdi's famous "Il Trovatore," there will be heard in this city more renowned artists than have ever appeared here before at one time.

First and foremost of these stars is Joseph F. Sheehan, acknowledged the greatest of all American tenors. To those who have ever heard Mr. Sheehan's wonderful voice little need be said. His remarkable power, combined with rare sweetness, has placed him in a class by himself.

Then comes Miss Elaine De Sellem, the eminent French contralto, whose work as the Gypsy hag in "Il Trovatore," has made her a favorite in France. It is not likely that Mr. Sheehan could have found anywhere another artist so well qualified for this difficult role as Miss De Sellem.

Miss Grace Nelson, the prima donna whom Mr. Sheehan discovered in Europe and whom critics declare the sensation of the day, is said to be the most remarkable coloratura soprano since Tetrazini electrified the world and consequently is particularly suited to the role of "Leonora."

The entire cast is on a par with those mentioned, therefore it is not surprising that critics everywhere declare this company the foremost ever heard in a presentation of the beautiful Verdi opera, "Il Trovatore."

The engagement is here for one performance only, Tuesday, Jan. 17, and regular prices will prevail in order to give all an opportunity of hearing what will no doubt prove to be the biggest attraction of the season.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is as good as ever. Nothing to tax one's thoughts seriously, but there is more than a plenty to amuse and entertain.

The Orpheum Comedy Four exceed in comedy; they keep their audience in constant laughter from start to finish. One of the features of the act is the song sung in original regalia by the quartet. The solos and quartet numbers are excellently done.

Elu Dawson and the Gillette Sisters have something novel in the way of entertainment. They sing solos, duets and trios and they dance very well. The offering is snappy, unusual and highly entertaining throughout.

Another trio known as the Three Danjo Phinds, have something out of the ordinary in the way of entertainment. At the three young men do play the banjo, with one exception, a solo number by one of the trio, who

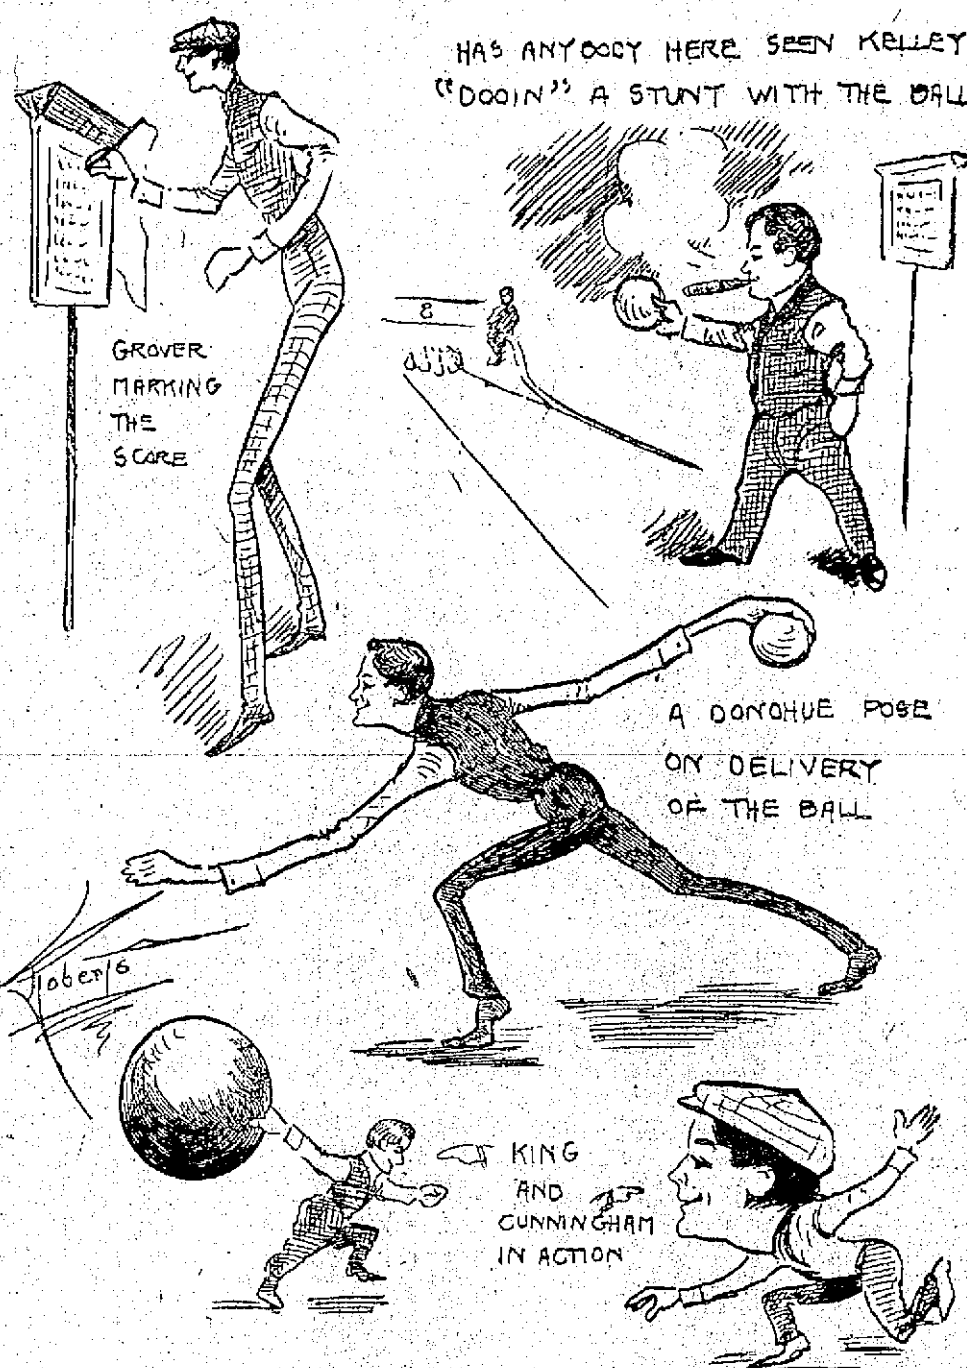

How to Stop Drinking

Give Orlene and Destroy All Desire for Whiskey and Beer. Can Be Given Secretly. Try It at Our Expense.

We are in earnest when we ask you to try ORLINE at our expense. We will give you money back, if after a trial you fail to get results from ORLINE. This is a very generous offer. It gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORLINE Treatment. I also show our confidence in the merits of ORLINE. ORLINE is recognized as the best and most successful remedy the world has ever known for Drunkenness or the so-called Liquor Habit. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price. Read the following letter from Dr. Nolte, 8th and Race sts., Philadelphia. It will tell you about some of the wonderful results from the ORLINE Treatment.

"I have had a remarkable case of inebriety under my personal observation. The patient drank heavily for fifteen years and had a degraded condition, which caused the breaking up of his family and separation from his wife. Every hope was given up of ever saving the man from his strong desire for drink, and only a mother's love finally persuaded him to voluntarily take treatment for his diseased condition. It was my pleasure to recommend ORLINE, your liquor habit cure, and the treatment was taken faithfully. This was two years ago and the patient is now in a healthy condition and still abstains from the use of stimulants. I have used ORLINE for a number of years and have always found it to be satisfactory. I have seen it have an exceptionally good result in the treatment of my diseased condition. CONTESTS ON THE BOWLING ALLEYS

IMPRESSION SKETCHES AT THE CRESCENT ALLEYS LAST NIGHT—Y. M. C. I. AGAINST K. O. F. C.

The Y. M. C. I. bowling team strengthened its hold on first place in the Catholic league standing last night by defeating the crippled Knights of Columbus team on the Crescent alleys. The losing team was minus two of its regular players, but in spite of that succeeded in putting up a good game, being defeated by but 30 pins. The winning aggregation took all three strings, but they were captured by narrow margins. There was but ten pins difference between the two teams at the end of the first string; the Y. M. C. I. took the second by five pins and the last string by 15 pins.

Prouty of the vanquished team was the high roller of the evening with a total of 305, while Bryan Coleman of the winning quartet was second, with a triple of 303. Despite the fact that these two players had the highest totals, the best single made during the game was 120 by Clark of the Y. M. C. I., who knocked the pins in every direction in the second string.

In the first string Prouty of the Knights put up a single of 109 while Coleman of the opposing team was but six shy of that mark. J. F. Donohue, of the losing team, who is one of the best bowlers in the city, surprised everyone by rolling the very low score of 76. If he had been rolling in form the team would undoubtedly have captured at least one of the three points. The second string was a heart breaker for the Knights, as Donohue "came back" and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away it was found that he had knocked the pins down to the tune of 107, but it was in this string that Clark put up the high single of 120.

Coleman's bowling of 104 was the feature of the third string, while but two players on the Knights of Columbus team went over the 90 mark.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE

The second bowling teams of Lowell Council, No. 8, Royal Arcanum, and Highland council, No. 976, bowled on the Pawtucket boat club alleys last night, and the men from Lowell won by the slimmest of margins. They took two of the three points, the second string going to the Highland men by just two pins. Rogers and Gleason were high men, each having a total of 238. The score:

EXECUTIVE COM.

OF BOARD OF TRADE HELD A MEETING

The executive committee of the board of trade met yesterday afternoon and attended to several minor matters. President Greene occupied the chair and all the members were present. The committee discussed the proposed road traffic regulations drawn up by the board some time ago and decided to give a hearing on the proposition to those interested before it is brought before the local city government.

ONE FOOTBALL GAME WORLD OVER

Alex Knox of New South Wales
Has Scheme For New Uniform Gridiron Code.

A PLAN to form a federation of football interests the world over and to create an entirely new game combining elements of the American intercollegiate contests and Rugby is proposed by Alex Knox, former executive chairman of the New South Wales Rugby Football league.

He desires the building of a new game which will be a sort of Esperanto to football played by American, English, Canadian, South African, Australian, French and possibly German teams.

Mr. Knox has seen several games of football as played by American colleges and has been quoted with opinions of the game in various cities. Naturally he believes Rugby is the better game; but, unlike some other visitors, he has no desire to hurl an alien form of athletics bodily into American institutions.

"I wish to organize football so that it may become an international sport like the Olympic games and Marathon running," says Mr. Knox.

"I have no idea of attempting to devise a new game of football myself, but I have a plan to interest the governing bodies of football playing peoples in an international game. As for criticizing American football, I am in no position to do so. I do not like the game as played here as well as I do Rugby, but it must interest Americans intensely, for the big contests draw thousands of spectators. Rugby attracts in a similar way wherever it is played.

"Important men are enthusiastic over football as a game. The German emperor has advised the young men of the nation to take up the sport. The elements of football are beneficial and interesting. If a game could be devised which every country might play under a universal code no athletic field could hold the crowds which would gather for an international championship match. The game should have the best elements of all the present variations. A movement to form such a game I desire to start."

Mr. Knox has sent a letter to the intercollegiate rules committee in this country and a similar letter to the Rugby Football associations of England, Canada, Australia, South Africa, France and California asking the bodies if they are willing to attempt the formation of a new game and are willing to send a delegate to an international convention for the purpose. "If favorable replies are received to such a communication and the main football interests of the various countries are willing to consider the plan Mr. Knox is ready to take the first steps in securing corresponding secretaries from the organizations and selecting a place for an international conference.

The Australian, who has been identified with Rugby for many years, takes a more favorable view of the American game than does Professor Edwin Luntz of Washington and Jefferson college, who has joined the ranks of those who desire the adoption of Rugby and the complete assassination of the American game. He has been involved in the faculty control of athletics in Washington and Jefferson for some time and has had an influence on intercollegiate athletics among the rivals of his college.

His recent attack on football reads in part as follows: "Why this insistence for a radical change in the rules year after year? No such demand is or ever has been made for any other game which is used in intercollegiate athletics. Dimly, my answer is that it is because the game as it has developed in this country has so many undesirable characteristics that the only reform which is possible is its final and irrevocable burial in the scrap heap of the world's follies."

FLETCHER DOES BASEBALL
BIG SERVICE.

Third Major League Bugbear Raises Salaries and Gets Out New Money.

D. A. Fletcher of Cincinnati, who so ingloriously promoted a third major baseball league, did not live in vain, so far as the national pastime is concerned. He did a great good in his meteoric diamond career, both for the magnates and for the players. He secured substantial raises all around for the active pastimers, and he stirred the magnates to the fact that it behooved them to give the public better competitions.

The fruits of Fletcher's exploits ripened the sale of two major league clubs. These were St. Louis in the American league and Boston in the National circuit. For the past several seasons these clubs have been white elephants both on the hands of their owners and on the hands of the leagues which they represented. These teams were tall enders. They drew poorly at home and more poorly on the road. For the good of both leagues retrenchments in these cities proved necessary. The old owners would not or could not procure the necessary players of class.

New owners with new capital and perhaps new management offer a chance to revive interest in cities which have come to look for tall enders. A chain is no stronger than in its weakest link. This does not apply strictly to a baseball circuit. But it is well known that the success of a league depends directly on the closeness of the competition. The American league was made a grand success from the start through the fact that year after year half the clubs were in the fight right up to the very last minute. This was the first striking exception. In contrast was the season of 1909, the

WINTER BATHING FIENDS ARE MERRY NEW EVENTS FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

Athletes Will Have Every Chance to Show Their Skill at the Sweden Meet.

THE program for the next Olympic games to be held in Stockholm, Sweden, has been given out. It is of interest to all American athletes, because they will find several new events added to the regular Olympic schedule as it was run off at Paris, St. Louis, Athens and London. Some of the new events are so different from the standard that our athletes will need to start special training if they want to take part in them.

Besides all of the regular short and long distance and hurdle and cross country races, the fencing, cycling, gymnastics, horseback riding, lawn tennis, yachting, wrestling, shooting, diving and swimming, there will be water polo, association football and rowing.

One of the first events on the program is the "Grenhopp" (leaping frog). This might puzzle even Ray Ewry, but in plain English it is only a pole vault.

The discus, javelin and shot will all be hurled in the usual manner, the athlete being allowed to use either hand. But, in addition, there will be events put on especially to show the use of the European system of gymnastic training. There will be discus, javelin and shot events in which the competitors will have to throw alternately with right and left hands, and their best throws (right and left) will be averaged to decide the best distance.

Decathlon on Program.

There will be a pentathlon, or five event all around contest, just as there was at Athens. In addition to that there will be a decathlon, or ten event all around contest. This will cover two days. On the first day the program is: Running broad jump, running high jump, putting the shot, running 100 meters flat and running 400 meters flat. On the second day the events will be: Throwing the discus, free style, throwing the javelin, free style, pole vault, 110 meter hurdles and 1,500 meter run.

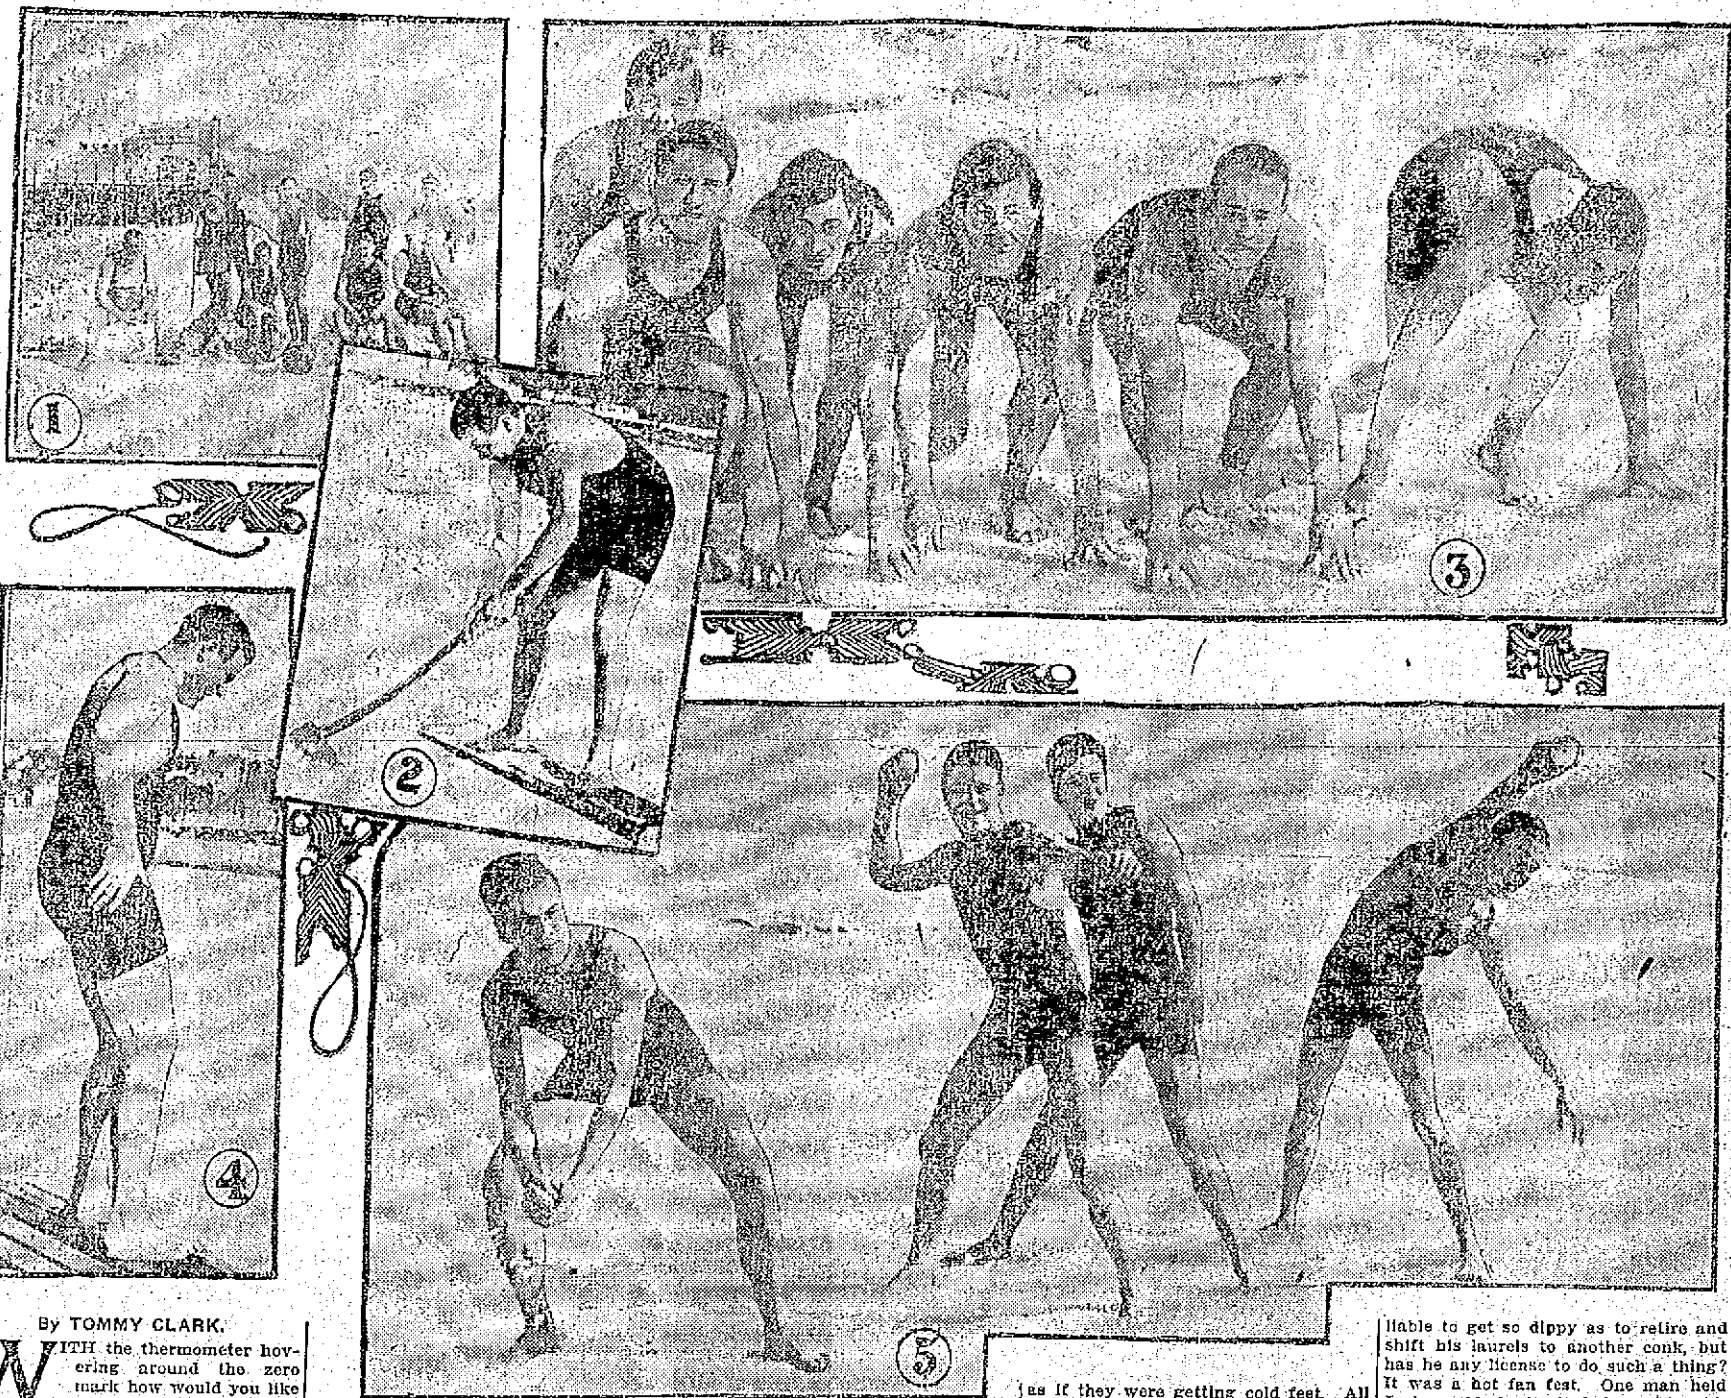

Some of the new all around champions who competed in Chicago last summer ought to come close to winning this. Sheridan would have had almost a sure thing of it a year or two ago, but he has gone back and probably won't be at his best in 1917.

One of the most interesting events on the whole program is printed at the end. This is the high plain diving for ladies. The ladies, too, will compete in several branches of the gymnastic events, but the details of that program are not yet decided upon.

In the regular swimming events are the 100 meter free style, the 100 meter breast stroke, the 200 meter breast stroke, the 400 meter free style, the 1,000 meter free style and the 800 meter team race (four men).

The hammer, which was thrown everywhere but at Athens, will be on this Olympic program. There will be two standing and two running jumps and a hop, step and jump.

When it was first rumored in this country that the regular Olympic program would be changed for the meet in Sweden many of our athletes thought the object of the changes was to handicap Americans and give the European gymnasts a better chance to win. However, the program as announced by the "organization for Olympiska spelen" of Stockholm seems to be perfectly fair to all, and American athletes will have every chance to show their skill that they have ever had in an Olympic championship.

HOW WINTER BATHERS SKYLARK ON BEACH.

WITH the thermometer hovering around the zero mark how would you like to don a bathing suit, take your ice ax in your hands, saunter out on the ice and chop holes big enough to let you dive in and swim around for a few minutes, then after your icy bath come out and roll around in the snow for a few more minutes? Well, this is required of every member of a winter bathing club formed in New York recently. Several years ago there were a few men who took their daily dips in the icy surf, but during the past two years hundreds have taken it up when the weather is cold. The well recognized fact that pneumonia, rheumatism and tuberculosis are unknown ailments in the arctic and that the Eskimos never catch cold are the foundation stones upon which these bathers base their belief, but any one else should of course consult a physician before attempting this heroic cure.

Recently the writer met several of the "surf bathing fiends" as they were "warming up" on the beach at Coney Island, New York, in front of the baths preparatory to going in for a dip.

It was a bit chilly, even though the sun was shining brightly, and some of the bathers seemed to be trying to conceal a shiver by hopping around and throwing a medicine ball from one to another. The bathers stood in a big circle, each man about ten feet from the other, and they kept throwing the ball about vigorously.

There is hope for both the St. Louis Browns and the Boston Doves. The syndicate which has taken over the Mount City club embraces several millionaires. These men declare that while they are entering the game as a business venture, they will get away from the strictly commercial end with the view to putting a winner in the town. They say that in no other way is there a chance for gain. A winner within the next few years would make the club a rich investment. It is the purpose of the new owners to expend for players during the next season as much as $100,000 if necessary. It is understood that the Boston syndicate also embraces financial strength and that every effort will be made to put a team in the field that will wear away its share of patronage now controlled by the Red Sox of the Hub.

TIMELY HINT TO GOLFERS.

Always Look In Hole First For Lost Ball.

It is absolutely necessary for the average golfer to get practical education in the varied aspects of the game to understand the rule committee in its interpretation of golfing law. It happened in the United Kingdom that the rule committee had a very peculiar case to decide. Here is a case which not many players would be able to decide definitely offhand were the difficulty put to them, say, on the putting green of the home hole at the close of a match.

The Yelverton club mentions the case of two players in a match, each having played his second shot at a certain hole. One of the balls was found lying on the putting green, but the ball of the other player could not be found. He accordingly gave up the hole, and both players afterward struck off from the next tee. The couple who followed them in the round found the ball which was presumed to be lost lying in the hole. The player, therefore, who had given up the hole to his opponent on the ground that he had lost his ball had really holed out in two strokes.

The point put to the committee for decision is, "Which of the two players had actually won the hole?" The answer is that the ball which is holed in the fewer number of strokes wins the hole "except as otherwise provided for in the rules." It is therefore provided in rule 21 that if a ball is lost the player in the above case could not find his ball because, unknown to him, it was lying comfortably at the bottom of the hole and could not be found on search being made for it the ball had to be treated as lost, carrying with it the penalty of a lost hole.

It is undoubtedly a case of hard luck, but it has by no means been of infrequent occurrence. Instances indeed have frequently cropped up in the course of play in earlier years where even a ball which has been holed in one stroke was treated as a lost ball and with it the loss of a hole. The only remedy in the case where a player is approaching the putting green is to look carefully in the hole before he abandons the search for his ball. It is a prudent precaution, and it is really wonderful how often a ball at a blind shot hole or even on the flat trickles gently into the hole and is found there, to the surprise as well as delight of all those who are taking part in the match.

Will Tenney Make Good? It is not often that a manager loses his job and then after several years recovers it, but that is Fred Tenney's experience. Tenney managed the Boston Nationals several years ago, and his regime was not a success, but the new owners of the club seem to think that he is the proper man to put at the head of the team. Of course Tenney has no better chance now to make good than he had several years ago, for the team is anything but a winner now. It was then, so that if Tenney has any managerial ability he will have but little chance to show it with the material he has on hand.

as if they were getting cold feet. All were shivering. Did they stand around and throw the ball again to warm up before dressing? They did not. They went as fast as their shivering limbs would carry them to the dressing rooms in the pavilion and with heavy towels began to undo the work of the water.

Rubbing to Restore Circulation. One man rubbed another vigorously, and soon their circulation was active again. It was rumored among the watchers that a bottle had been seen in the possession of one hoisted at an angle which would indicate that it was doing the work intended for it, but this could not be verified.

For some years various persons have taken dips in the ocean in the coldest weather. Dr. W. B. Crockett of Boston, Justice Tlgh of Brooklyn and Ed Manley of the New York A. C. haven't missed their daily plunges in the sea in the winter for many years.

George Bohnert, the famous lightweight wrestler, once astonished several hundred people by diving in among the cakes of ice in the Hudson river and remaining in the water almost an hour.

CAN JOHNSON GIVE AWAY TITLE? Between bouts at a recent show in New York ringiders got up an argument on the right of Jack Johnson to transfer his title. Not that John is able to get so dippy as to retire and shift his laurels to another conk, but has he any license to do such a thing? It was a hot fan fest. One man held Jack could do it—had just as much right to turn a trick of this kind as Jimmy Corbett did whenever he wanted to get rid of a pestering challenger whom he feared. Corbett handed the honor to Peter Maher. Red-Bob Fitz got Irish Peter into a ring on the Rio Grande shores, near Langtry, Tex., and had that title in a few minutes. John L. Sullivan, eager to escape a fight with Frank (Paddy) Slavin, handed the Australian his rank. Of course sports wouldn't go along with these proxy champs, but just the same the latter made trouble for ring-historians. A syndicate formed to push so many hundred words of ring gut out of Carson City, Nev., back in 1897 made coin from the tangle. Conflicting views were held by sports as to which man was attacking and which defending the championship.

HOME OF SKIING IN AMERICA. The Stoughton (Wis.) Ski club is thirty-one years old, and it claims to be the home of skiing in America. Recently it erected the largest steel skiing platform in the world. With a ground length of 150 feet, a sliding distance from start to jump of 180 feet and the starting point towering 110 feet into the air from the top of the hill on which the platform will stand there is little question as to what will happen in Stoughton this winter to American ski records.

WATER POLO THE MOST STRENUOUS GAME PLAYED

WATER polo is now dividing interest with other indoor sports this winter. For years many people claimed that the game was too rough, but since the officials of the game in this country adopted the English style water polo has regained its place among the leading indoor games.

When the game of soccer, or English water polo, was first introduced in this country three or four years ago the majority of swimmers received it with unconcealed antagonism. They saw in the campaign started in its favor only an effort on the part of a few reformers to replace the popular American game by this foreign one, and they naturally resented it. Soccer "took" in spite of opposition, though, and it slowly gained ground until it is now played by even the strongest partisans of the national, or Rugby, game.

This winter soccer is experiencing a sudden boom. The action of the City Athletic club of New York in pressing into service several European stars and challenging all comers has awakened considerable interest, and good competition is expected. The New York Athletic club will be in the field. Several colleges, including Pennsylvania, Princeton and C. C. N. Y., are forming teams, and news comes that the western clubs are now taking up the game. In Chicago Dick Cavill, the Australian coach, is teaching it at the Illinois Athletic club and at the Y. M. C. A., and in Pittsburgh the Carnegie Athletic club and the Pittsburgh Athletic club have already played several matches.

Others will soon follow, for there are on every swimming team men who are fond of aquatic sports, but find Rugby too strenuous, and they will welcome the opportunity of indulging in a fast, interesting game that does not involve bruises and severe punishment.

That water polo is the most strenuous game played in this country is evinced by the fact that many men who have proved stars in football have found the water sport too dangerous to tackle, and even Men who have played the game of lacrosse have never had a keen desire to try the "drowning" game.

While a football star may be developed within a year, it takes at least two years to bring out a water polo player. Not only must the candidate be an excellent swimmer, but he must have an unlimited amount of courage to be able to play the game. Considering that a man may be held under water for eight seconds, according to the rules, one can readily see that courage is the greater part of the game.

THE 54 HOUR BILL

Was Presented in the State Senate Yesterday

Time of Senatorial Election Set for 3 p. m., Jan. 17—Bill to Raise Pay of the Att'y General

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Although time for the introduction of new business expires at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening there was no rush yesterday of bills and petitions for the consideration of the legislature. Neither in number nor significance were the petitions submitted of special moment. The sessions of the legislative branches were very brief. The time for the election of a U. S. senator was fixed at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, Jan. 17.

The bill restricting the number of hours for employment of women and children in factories at 54 a week made its appearance in the senate. It accompanied the petition of Senator Ross of Bristol and carried with it the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor. The 56-hour act went into effect in January of last year. The proposed 64-hour law to take effect on Jan. 1 of next year.

Senator Tinkham of Suffolk offered the bill that the salary of the attorney general be increased from $5000 to $8000. His bill also provided a similar increase for the district attorney of Suffolk county. A resolve was read providing for the purchase by the state for the use of the state library of the Tillinghast card index.

The senate received the petition of Prof. MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the payment by the commonwealth to that institution of $100,000 annually for a period of 10 years.

Senator Barnes of Norfolk introduced a bill to provide that companies insuring against bodily injury, sickness or death by accident shall have a paid-up capital of $200,000. Another bill introduced by the same senator aimed to have the certificates of the land court made more specific.

In the house Representative Kenney of Boston introduced a bill to establish a system of record in the cold storage of food, providing that such food shall be tagged to show when it was placed in storage and when taken out.

E. Moody Boynton is a petitioner in the lower branch for the abolition of the present railroad commission and the creation in place thereof of a railroad court to consist of a chief justice, at $7500 a year, and two associate justices at $6000 each, the salaries to be paid by the commonwealth and not by the railroads.

Rep. McCarthy of Marlboro heads a petition for the election of railroad commissioners by the people.

tion to prohibit trapping with scented bait.

Of Representative McInerney of Boston, to provide that the council in Boston shall consist of 27 members, one from each of the wards except wards 20 and 24, and in these wards two, and that members shall receive an annual salary of $125. It provides that primaries for the nomination of candidates shall be held on the fifth Thursday preceding the city election, and that nominations for the primary ballot shall be made by nomination paper bearing the signatures of not less than 10 residents of the ward from which such nomination is to be made, and that, except as a primary nominee, a candidate shall have his name on the ballot at the city election except by securing signatures to a nomination paper in number not less than one for each 50 votes cast the preceding election.

Of Representative Thomas of Quincy, that that city be authorized to borrow $100,000 for sewer purposes.

Of Representative O'Hara of North Adams, for sitings of the superior court for Berkshire county at North Adams.

Of Representatives Bagley and Newton of Boston, to provide that food shall not be kept in cold storage for more than 90 days.

Of Charles E. Pease, that photographers be allowed to do business on the Lord's days.

Of Representative Griffin of Boston, to prohibit charges for the use of meters for gas and electricity.

Of Representative Merrill of Haverhill, that city councils be authorized and in certain instances required to submit matters to the people.

nearly two days. I was in bed in all four days as a result of the beating I received.

"Describe how you felt after the beating," said Gen. Bartlett.

"I steadily lost my strength after that. I did not work at writing that fall, being relieved by an assistant. I went to the yacht races in New York between the Reliance and the Shamrock III, but I was so weak I suffered so from pains in my head that I was unable to write the story of the races."

"When I got back to my hotel I had to get a stenographer, and while I lay on the bed dictated the story to him. Later on I had to go to the City Hospital twice, in 1907 and 1908. I was fighting off diabetes right along from 1903."

The plaintiff in reply to a question of Mr. Bartlett said that at the time of the assault he weighed 225 pounds, but since that, and as a consequence of the beating, his weight had fallen at one time to 144 pounds, and he now weighs about 160 lb.

A GREAT VICTORY

Scored by Independent Auto Companies

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The so-called independent automobile manufacturers won a sweeping victory yesterday in the U. S. circuit court of appeals with a reversal of the decision of Judge Selden in the circuit court wherein the Selden patent was upheld.

The higher court's ruling declares that the defendants "neither legally nor morally" owed anything to the patentee and holds that the "improved Otto engine, used by the defendants in motor vehicle construction, is the equivalent of the Selden engine, and that its use is not an infringement of the Selden patent. Accordingly, Judge Hughes' injunctions restraining auto manufacturing concerns from using the Otto engine on the ground of infringement, must be dismissed by the lower court, to which the cases were remanded with such instructions."

The opinion of the circuit court of appeals, written by Judge Noyes, says in part: "While the conclusion of non-infringement which we have reached leaves the patentee empty handed with respect to the patent for the short time it has to run, it cannot be regarded as depriving him through any technicality of the first reward of his labors. He undoubtedly appreciated the possibility of the motor vehicle at a time when his ideas were regarded as chimerical. Had he been able to see far enough he might have taken out a patent as far-reaching as this circuit court held this one was."

Representatives of the association of licensed automobile manufacturers announced last night that preparations were being made to carry the matter to the supreme court. Application for a writ of certiorari will be made by George B. Selden, it is stated.

Representatives of the association declares that approximately 80 per cent of the gasoline motor cars manufactured in this country are now licensed under the Selden patent, many companies having applied for license after Judge Hughes' decision, in 1900.

GREAT SESSION REV. J. P. WEST

To be Held by the Civic Federation To Leave the Highland M. E. Church

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The methods and legislation adopted by European governments to control large trusts and combinations of capital and the varying success such efforts have met with are expected to occupy a large place in the deliberations of the National Civic Federation, which begins its three days' annual session at the Hotel Astor on the next Thursday, Jan. 12. Officers of the federation point out that, while the United States supreme court is expected to define clearly the Sherman anti-trust act in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco cases and the injunction and anti-boycott cases against the officers

At the fourth quarterly conference of the Highland M. E. church held Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. J. P. West, after reading his report, requested that he be not returned for another year. Mr. West has done splendid work in the church during his four years here and his decision came as a surprise to his people. A rising vote of appreciation for his faithful and efficient service was unanimously given.

Dr. C. F. Rice, district superintendent, presided. The annual reports of the various departments were very encouraging. All bills are paid to date and there is a good balance on hand.

The Ladies Aid society reported a balance of $220.

Caleb Philbrick was elected as trustee, and William Davis to the board of stewards, to fill vacancies.

ANNUAL TRIDUUM

The annual triduum of the Sacred Heart league of Notre-Dame de Lourdes parish will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the coming week. Services will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Crowninshield Says That Man Insulted His Wife

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Powdohn H. Crowninshield, the yacht designer, whose name was prominently associated nine or ten years ago with the designing of Thomas W. Lawson's yacht Independence, which it was hoped might be chosen to defend the America cup, added considerable spice in his testimony yesterday to the hearing before Judge Norton in the superior court of the civil suit against him for $10,000 damages for alleged assault brought by Adolphus G. McVey, then yachting editor of the Boston Herald.

The assault was not denied by Mr. Crowninshield, who pleaded guilty to the allegation at Salem a few days after the occurrence, which took place on July 23, 1903, on the wharf at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

The plaintiff claims that he was severely pummeled by the defendant and that as a consequence of the beating he received he has never since been in robust health, has been more than once confined in a hospital and has suffered from diabetes, caused by the beating.

Gen. Charles W. Bartlett, in counsel for Mr. McVey, and Fletcher Rainey for Mr. Crowninshield, Mr. McVey testified of having known the defendant for some years before the assault, the plaintiff then being a writer on yachting matters. He had made some criticisms of the yacht Independence, designed by Mr. Crowninshield, and as a result, he said, some feeling arose between them.

He then described the occurrence at Manchester-by-the-Sea on July 23, 1903.

which he administered physical punishment to the plaintiff.

He said there had been considerable scandal and gossip published in the papers, and a lot of talk about himself and his wife on their marriage a few months before, that his family had refused to recognize Mrs. Crowninshield, and his own health was impaired as a consequence, so that the provocation he received he regarded as unbearable, and committed the assault.

Mr. McVey, the plaintiff, in the course of his testimony, said that, on July 23, 1902, he went to the wharf at Manchester-by-the-Sea, where the yacht Independence was, and had with him a Mr. Cheever, the station agent at Manchester, who was to have taken some photographs of the yacht for him.

REVOLUTIONISTS WINNING

EXTRA GREAT VICTORIES

LASTERS STILL OUT

It Was Expected They Would Return to Work Today

LYNN, Jan. 10.—The 16 lasters who have been on strike at the shoe factory of the Randall Adams Co. for more than two weeks did not return to work today as it was presumed they would in view of the restraining order issued by Judge Hitchcock at the equity session of the Massachusetts superior court at Boston yesterday. The order restrained the strikers, both as a union and as individuals, from preventing the employment in the Randall Adams Co. factory of two American operatives. J. J. Feeley of the employing firm said today that in his opinion the absence of the strikers from the factory constituted a disobedience of the court's order. R. L. Osborne, business agent of the Lasters' union, said that he was awaiting a legal interpretation of the court order from Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston, the labor attorney who represented the union at the court hearing.

Scored by Forces Against the Government in Guatemala

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A special from Port Barrios, Guatemala, this morning states that the revolutionary forces operating on the north coast of Honduras after capturing all the bay islands attacked the mainland and seized Cape Triunfo, Bishops point and Mica lagoon in addition to the town of Tela, which was reported captured in wireless despatches from Puerto Cortes last night. The special states that the gunboat Hornet last Saturday conveyed a large fleet of schooners loaded with troops to the mainland and the Tela fell Sunday without a struggle. It is asserted that Manuel Bonilla, who leads the revolution, has complete control of the entire Bay Islands group, including the islands of Ruanan, Bona Cia, Barabara and Uvilla and that all of the Davila officials on the island have gone over to the revolutionary cause.

LAWRENCE ALDERMAN

Appeals to Mayor Not to Approve Bills

Of Holland, Snow and Horsfall—
Declares it Would Cost $100,- 000 to Clean the City of Lawrence—Tells of Men Boasting
About Buying City Government

LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 10.—Aldermen Michael A. Scanlon at the meeting of the aldermen last night directly appealed to Mayor Cahill to hold up bills on the December draft submitted by Philip Holland and Snow and Horsfall.

"It would cost $100,000 to clean the city of Lawrence," he I was convinced that the city could be completely cleaned for that sum, I would willingly vote to spend it," declared Alderman Scanlon. "In view of developments during the past few days, I desire to say a few words. I want it understood by every man, woman and child in this city that I am not endeavoring to send any innocent man to jail. I can prevent it, no innocent man shall go to jail."

"All last year I tried to call the attention of the government to those men who were doing too deeply into the city treasury and not giving a fair value in return. I thought that the punishments handed out last year would stop the raids. I can now say that the raids did not stop. It became worse."

"I have heard on good authority that men sitting at tables with liquor on the tables boast how they can buy the city government. They sneered. They laughed at the government and said that the members were nothing but puppets in their hands. When they were asked how they accounted for the fact that I opposed them, they answered that I was not being heard from lately. Those gangs did not get me last year. And you can rest assured that they will not get me in years to come. I am beyond their reach."

"With me I have confined my efforts about the ownership of members of the government to others. I did not answer, but when they repeatedly declared that they had me, I thought that it was high time to show whether or not they had me. I am out to show them that they have not got me in their toils."

"I have spent hours on bills where the committee on accounts has spent minutes. I have gone over them carefully, scrutinizing every item. I have waded through a great many of them and I can say that if the people of Lawrence knew how their money was being spent, it would certainly open their eyes."

"It is up to you, Mr. Mayor. You are the last person to sign those bills. I appeal to you. When I speak in this strain, I want you to stand with me. On the November draft, there is a bill for 300 loads of crushed stone. It is made out to Philip Holland. He received for the stone $3705. On the December draft there is a bill for 400 loads of crushed stone at $2 per load. It has not yet been paid. I ask you to hold up that bill. Cross it from the draft. What is it worth where that crushed stone has gone? Where is that stone? Where has it disappeared? What was it used for? Remember that there are almost 1400 loads of crushed stone. They amount to 6000 tons. At 25 tons to a car, it would require 240 cars, stretching out a mile. It came here in 10 odd days. I repeat, where has it gone?"

"Another bill is that of Snow & Horsfall for $614. It is on the December draft. I ask you, Mr. Mayor, to hold it up. Wait until the proper authorities look it up. I am in favor of publishing every bill paid by the city of Lawrence last year."

Alderman Scanlon: "That would be very expensive."

Alderman Scanlon: "It certainly does not, Mr. Mayor."

On motion of Alderman Jordan, it was voted to ascertain the cost of the publishing of the bills paid last year. On the committee are Mayor Cahill, Aldermen Jordan and Scanlon.

STATE OFFICER PRESIDENT TAFT

Had Long Talk With Supt. Lyons Decided That Captain Sims Should be Publicly Reprimanded

LAWRENCE, Jan. 10.—State Officer Fred F. Flynn and Superintendent of Streets Patrick Lyons were in conference at the house of the former, 11 Reservoir Terrace, last night. At the close of the conference which occupied considerable time, Officer Flynn declined to divulge what was said. Officer Lyons went to the house of John P. Kane, 28 Kingston street, Sunday night and the two men were closeted for some time together. Mr. Kane was chosen at the democratic caucus as the democratic candidate for city treasurer. Alderman Scanlon last night declined to add anything to what he has already given out in the investigation. He reiterated that the investigation is in the hands of the proper authorities.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Taft decided today that Commander Sims, who at the recent dinner given by the mayor of London declared that if Great Britain ever was seriously threatened "she could depend on every man, every dollar, every drop of blood in this country," should be publicly reprimanded.

"His offense has been so conspicuous," said the president in his letter to the secretary of the navy directing the reprimand, "that the action of the department in reprimanding it should be equally so."

The president says that whenever an officer of the American navy is called upon in a foreign country to speak in public so that what he says will necessarily be brought to the attention of other foreign countries, it is his obvious duty to avoid indiscreet comparisons and to limit his speech and his expressions of friendship for the country whose guest he is to language that will not indicate a lack of friendship toward other countries.

"The navy," said the president, "is used much as an instrument of peace. One of the chief functions that its officers perform when they visit foreign ports is the representative one of conveying to all nations the good will of the United States. They are under special obligations to see to it that what they do or say shall not embarrass their government in its foreign relations."

Commander Sims cannot escape censure, the president holds, "on the ground that what he said was a mere expression of his personal opinion; under the circumstances he must speak as an official representative and he should have known that the words he used would at once have called for serious comment in other countries than Great Britain and might involve the government in explanations and disclaimer."

DEFECTIVE CHIMNEY CAUSED FIRE IN LAKEVIEW AVENUE TUESDAY

An alarm from box 23 at 1:25 o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a tenement at Lakeview avenue belonging to Charles Callahan. The fire was caused by a defective chimney and did but little damage before it was extinguished.

The house is peculiarly constructed, a stove pipe running from one of the rooms under a stairway to the chimney. Last night a man who, with his family, occupies the second floor, started a big wood fire and the stove pipe became so hot that it set fire to the woodwork.

GARDE FRONTENAC TO HOLD INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS THURSDAY NIGHT

The Garde Frontenac will hold a special meeting Thursday evening in the Citizens' American club rooms in Dutton street. The occasion will be the installation of the newly elected officers. The ceremony will be presided over by Mr. Jesse Alexandre. As the wives or best friends of the members will be present, a special musical program and an entertainment will be given; refreshments will also be served, and a game of whist played. The delegates from the Garde to the coming convention of the French American Volunteer Brigade to be held in Fall River, are 1st Lieut. Horace Deslites and Charles E. Barry.

A "PEEPING TOM"

Gets Just Deserts in Centralville Back Yard

A few evenings ago a Peeping Tom was caught in the act in Centralville by a husky young resident of that section, and if he ever does it again it will not take place until his eyes resume their normal condition, for it is said he received a severe and deserved beating from the irate young man in whose window he was peeping. One of the woman members of the family had complained that for a few nights she had detected a man peeping through her window. Her brother determined to find out who the miscreant might be and he got a watch. After hanging around until about the hour when most people retire, he saw a man approaching his house and he stealthily followed him. The unknown entered a yard adjoining the house in which the young man lived and the latter pounced in upon him just as he was trying to look through the window. Then followed a clean up for the yard in which the miscreant was the mop. Some people are of the opinion that he is the man who was caught doing an equally nefarious act on Centralville bridge a short time ago.

DEPUTY SHERIFF

Will Be Appointed in a Few Days

Sheriff Fairbairn today informed a reporter of The Sun that he had not yet appointed a deputy sheriff to succeed Keeper Eveleigh of the Lowell jail, but expected to make an appointment within a few days. Rumor had it today that a well known democrat had been appointed.

WAS FINED $50

Tewksbury Man Convicted of Assault

Patrick Morgan, of Tewksbury, was found guilty of assault and battery on Joseph Johnson of the same town, at the criminal session of the superior court in Cambridge today and Judge White ordered him to pay a fine of $50. A charge of threatening against Morgan was placed in file.

Morgan was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court about a month ago on the two charges and was found guilty on both, being fined $25 for assault and sentenced to four months in jail for threatening. He appealed and as above stated when the matter was taken up today he was fined on the assault case and the threatening case was filed.

The pathway of the politician, and some others, will lead to city hall tonight when both branches of the city council will meet, ostensibly to elect officers, and incidentally to transact whatever other business may come before them.

MINORS ARE BARRED

Not Allowed to Attend the Trial of Mrs. Schenk

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Keen interest in the trial of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with administering poison to her husband, was shown in the crowds that gathered at the Ohio county court house today. With the completion of a jury before court adjourned yesterday it was expected that today the trial would begin in earnest.

John G. Schenk, whom Mrs. Schenk is alleged to have poisoned, traveled in Europe last summer with William Wolfe and according to the plan of the prosecution he was to be the first witness. It has been claimed, that Schenk was ill, while at Oberammergau, Rome, and other points, but from Wolfe the state expected to prove that Schenk was not sick a day while on the trip. Dr. D. Bigger Best, a prominent physician of Wheeling Island, the fashionable residential section of the city, is the second witness, from whom it will be learned of certain visits to the home of Mrs. Schenk.

Dr. Gregory Akerman, another physician called to the home of the Schenks to treat the husband, is the third witness on the prosecuting attorney's list.

Dr. Akerman is said to have formally diagnosed Schenk's illness as due to poisoning. Dr. Frank Hupp, who reported the case to the prosecuting attorney, is expected to testify in relation to the discovery of the alleged poisoning and the analysis of the mineral water which Schenk was using.

When court opened today the orders of Judge Jordan had been specifically obeyed and not a minor was in the room, which was crowded. The doors were locked and policemen guarded every entrance. Mrs. Schenk was brought in by the sheriff. She again carried the record, which she brought into the court room yesterday afternoon, and which evidently is destined to play a leading part in the trial, as her attorneys frequently refer to it.

Prosecutor Hamilton is prepared to push the case with vigor and declared today it would take until Sunday to present all his evidence.

Wolfe, a stogie manufacturer, was the first witness. He described his trip abroad with John G. Schenk in 1910 and declared the man was never in better health.

Wolfe said that Schenk became ill two days after his return to Wheeling, complaining of his stomach and that he became steadily worse. He said Mrs. Schenk said to him: "Billy, I don't believe John will live very long."

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

The Last Day of the State Meeting in This City

This is the second and last day of the state convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen. The forenoon session opened at 10 o'clock and the first business before the committee was the reading of the report of the financial committee. The report showed that the organization is more strongly entrenched financially than ever before in its history and greater interest is being manifested in all quarters. Every member seems disposed to put his shoulder to the wheel and the outlook is very encouraging.

The firemen's license law was under discussion during the greater part of the forenoon and a committee was appointed to draft amendments to that law.

A letter of fraternal greetings from the steam engineers was received and read during the forenoon. The question of per capita tax was discussed as was also the question of the election of delegates to the international convention to be held in Milwaukee, in August.

Last evening the delegates were the guests of the members of local 14 and during the session an informal entertainment of music and short addresses on the work of the firemen were heard. Light refreshments were served.

The principal business of the afternoon was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Patrick J. Thornton, Boston, president; John T. Hendricks, Lowell, vice president; Fred P. Brown, Holyoke, secretary and treasurer; trustees, Bernard McCabe, Fall River, Philip O'Riley, Worcester, Boston, Fall River and New Bedford were after the next convention. The contest was a hot one, and Fall River won by a small margin and the convention next year will be held in that city.

There were over 40 delegates present at today's meeting. John J. Cunningham, third vice president of the National Brotherhood, was elected the delegate to the convention to be held in Milwaukee in August.

The following members were elected to the finance committee: Bernard McCabe, Fall River; John W. Downing, Lowell; and Thomas Kiefer, Holyoke. The officers elected this afternoon were installed by Mr. Cunningham of Boston.

Most of the delegates will return home tonight, while others will remain and will visit the Foresters and Fibreman's Division 11, A. O. U. H. will hold a meeting and installation officers and the visiting delegates who remain overnight will attend the meeting.

It seemed the general impression about city hall this forenoon that the republicans would not vote to go to the joint convention tonight. As foundation for the belief it was stated that the republicans have not been able to muster votes enough to save the city clerk's head and they do not want to venture the chances of a joint convention.

CITY SOLICITOR

AN ASSAULT CASE

Took Up Great Portion of the Court's Time Today

Courtney O. Galarson, assistant to the captain of the Salvation Army and employed at the Industrial Home in Liberty square, was arraigned before Judge John J. Plekman in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on John F. Blood. John C. Leggett appeared for the government, and the defendant was represented by Francis W. Qua.

John F. Blood, the complainant, said his home was in Beverly, but had been in Lowell for about a week. Last Monday night he stopped at the Industrial Home of the Salvation Army in Liberty square. Tuesday morning he said he arose and after eating breakfast called at the captain's office. Mr. Galarson opened the door, and when witness asked for the captain, witness said that Mr. Galarson slammed the door in his face and uttered an oath at him. Witness then went out and returned later in the morning and entering Mr. Galarson's store asked if the captain was around. Witness said that Mr. Galarson answered with an oath and said: "You get out of here, or I will brain you." Witness said he answered: "Come out and brain me."

Galarson had some kind of an iron in his hand, witness said, and threw it at Blood's face. The latter put his hand up for the purpose of protecting his face and the missile struck him, he said, on the back of the left hand, inflicting a severe injury to that member. Blood then went to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment. On cross-examination, witness said after leaving Beverly last fall he went to Manchester, N. H., in search of employment. Finding to find it he went to the Salvation Army barracks and secured there money enough to pay his fare to Lowell. He said that he was in the Salvation Army barracks, and he has been employed by the local branch of the army since the first Tuesday after last Thanksgiving. Witness said he had been engaged in driving one of the wagons which went through the suburban towns collecting magazines, books, clothing and other articles. Last Monday night Blood testified Mr. Galarson said while doing his work properly and intended to put him on the "scrap" team.

Witness said he had two children in Brockton, who were being cared for by his brother. He also admitted that he had been a police officer in Brockton for five years and three months and resided from the force. He denied having any trouble while on the Brockton police force.

Dr. Forster H. Smith, city physician and attached to the Lowell hospital, testified that Blood had a cut on the back of his left hand between half an inch and an inch long. Dr. Smith said Blood had been treated at various places according to the statement made to him. The man told the witness that he had been at Tewksbury, but did not like the place as they fed him on nothing but bread and water. Dr. Forster H. Smith, who treated Blood's hand, said that when asked how he had received the injuries Blood said he had been bitten by a horse.

James Emery, employed at the Industrial Home, was making repairs on the door of Mr. Galarson's store Tuesday morning. Blood entered the store and called Galarson some vile names. Galarson ordered Blood out. The latter refused to go and Galarson pushed him out. Blood returned and continued to call Mr. Galarson more vile names and invited him to come out. Galarson came from the back counter and what transpired after that witness said he did not know. He was not sure what Galarson had in his hand, but thought it might have been a piece of wood. Witness said he had heard Mr. Galarson state that he might have had a skate in his hand.

Blood was recalled and admitted that he had told the doctors at the hospital that he had been bitten by a horse because he was ashamed to admit that he was working for the Salvation Army.

Courtney O. Galarson, assistant to Captain Sever at the Industrial Home and the defendant in the case, said he had been in the employ of the army for nearly two years. He said the purpose of the home was to elevate the people who are "down and out."

Witness said Blood came to his store about four or five weeks ago and gave the name of John Read. He was placed on one of the wagons, but his work was not satisfactory; he was not bringing in enough goods to pay for his board and room.

On Tuesday morning Blood was drunk, said witness, and threatened to do me bodily harm. Later Blood came back and said he would knock my four eyes into one and that he would "bury my bloody face."

According to the witness, Blood reached over the counter and made a punch at him and he put his hand up to ward off the blow. Witness had a skate in his hand at the time. He then dropped the skate and Blood from behind the counter pushed Blood out of the store.

Noon recess.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session was started at two o'clock and the examination of the defendant by Lawyer Qua was resumed. Mr. Galarson denied that he struck the man, also that he used undue force when he pushed Blood out of the store.

Questioned by Lawyer Leggett, witness said he had no feeling against the complainant, and had nothing to do with the changing of Blood from the suburban wagon to the scrap wagon that the change was made at the request of Capt. Sever.

At this point an amusing incident occurred which convulsed those present in the court room with laughter. Lawyer Leggett asked witness to describe how he put Blood out of the store and to use him (Leggett) as the subject. Galarson stepped down from the witness stand and grabbing Lawyer Leggett by the back, rushed him down the entire length of the court room with speed almost sufficient to make the young attorney off his feet. The incident was so unusual in the court room that it caused considerable laughter.

Capt. Sever, who is at the head of the local branch of the Salvation Army and also in charge of the Industrial Home, said that Blood's work was not satisfactory and Monday night told Galarson to take Blood off the wagon. He was on and put him on the scrap wagon.

Dr. John A. Osgood testified as to the defendant's character, stating that so far as he knew Mr. Galarson bore an excellent reputation. Thomas Bodkin testified that he met Blood on Thorndike street last Thursday and seeing his arm in a sling and asking what the trouble was, Blood told him he had stepped on his fingers.

The case was submitted without argument and the court found the defendant not guilty and ordered him discharged.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

BY THE CLUB FLEUR DE LIS LAST SUNDAY

The Club Fleur de Lis held its annual meeting last Sunday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, George A. Gagnon; vice president, Joseph O. Perron; treasurer, Joseph Carrier; secretary, Omer Deschamps; directors, Edmund J. Gill, William Rousseau and Arthur Pratte. The Club Fleur de Lis was organized in 1900 by a group of 25 young men from L'Association Catholique, who were deeply interested in the camping life. The aim of the club is well furnished camp at Long Pond, where they spent the beautiful summer days. The club was incorporated in 1903. Its first president being Joseph Gagnon. It has held a concert and ball every year, and now the members are contemplating plans for the coming event, which will be held sometime this winter. The members of the club are the following: Omer Deschamps, Cleophas Belanger, Joseph and Joseph H. Choquette, Joseph Carrier, Edmund J. Gill, Omer Deschamps, George Gagnon, Joseph H. Miller, Arthur Pratte, Albert Paquin, Philip J. Perron, Jean-Baptiste Pelletier, Joseph Perron, Willie Rousseau, Donat Rousseau, Edmund J. Trepanier, Romeo Llubert, and Omer Bernard.

The Lykens after losing her way around the scene until 9 a. m. but as she was unable to get near the stranded barge owing to the shallow water she was finally compelled to steam round into Portland.

Stiffest Gale Yet

The gale on the Cape last night was one of the stiffest of the winter but it was not until nearly midnight that the wind hauled into the northwest and then into the north.

The Lykens left Vineyard Haven yesterday and passed over the shoals during the afternoon. As usual in heavy westerlies, the Lykens, being close to the Cape in order to get as much ice as possible. She was easily made out by the patrols on the lifesaving stations farther up the Cape at Nauset, Capons Hallow, Panet river, and Highland. Then the moon went down and the Lykens was blotted out from shore. Shortly after 11 o'clock this morning the Lykens was sighted in the form of a vessel in the breakers and by the time the crew reached the scene wreckage was coming ashore.

At dawn only the battered hulks of two barges could be seen, while the third barge was still hidden together, although every wave seemed to shake it from stem to stern and her masts were lying over the side. The lifesavers also thought that they could make out the forms of several men clinging to the hatches and the little house in the stern.

The Race point and the High Head lifesaving stations had been notified, and scores of people straggled over the Cape from Provincetown to see the wreck.

Could Not Launch Lifeboat

It was impossible to launch any lifeboat, for the bars at this end of the Cape are double and sometimes triple, and the entire distance from the shore to the outer bay was a tumbling mass of cross bars in which not even a lifeboat could have been kept upright. So the lifesavers waited for low water at 10 a. m., when it was hoped that in the shallow surf the lifeboat might be pushed through to the second bar and a start made for the barge.

The revenue cutter Gresham was also notified of the wreck.

Bodies Washed Ashore

While waiting for the tide to ebb the lifesavers patrolled the beach. About 3 o'clock two bodies were seen floating near shore and were soon thrown up on the beach. Both were encased in life preservers from the Treverton. A little later the side board of the Corbin came ashore.

Peaked hill bars, directly opposite Provincetown and practically on the tip of Cape Cod, have been the scene of more wrecks and loss of life than any other part of the Cape. Their tragic history runs back more than a 100 years and includes some of the oldest of the coasting fleet. No vessel once in the clutch of the bars has ever escaped. One of the most famous of the early wrecks at this point was that of three Salem ships, all of which were thrown ashore with the loss of a greater part of their crews. It is generally believed that the steamer Portland was either wrecked on these bars or broke up not far off in the great storm of '93 as the greater part of her wreckage came ashore in that vicinity.

The bodies came ashore quite rapidly after the tide had turned and at two o'clock 12 had been recovered and were taken to a temporary morgue at Provincetown. It was expected that Captain Hammond of the Lykens would come ashore and make the identification but he received other orders and early in the afternoon steamed out of the harbor for Boston.

CLEARED FROM PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The five Lykens cleared from the Philadelphia & Reading Co.'s wharves here on Jan. 6 with the three barges wrecked off the New England coast. The barge Treverton with six men was bound for Portland; the Pine Forest, four men, for Marblehead, and the Corbin, four men, for Portsmouth.

EVERY VESSEL

THAT GROUND ON PEAKED

HILL BARS WAS DESTROYED

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Jan. 10.—The tragic history of Peaked Hill bars received a substantial addition today when three coal barges were driven on its dreaded sands at the Knuckle of Cape Cod and seventeen lives were lost. The barges were the Treverton, Captain P. A. Brown of Lincolnville, Me., six men; Corbin, Captain C. M. Smith of Philadelphia, four men; Pine Forest, Captain Hall of Provincetown, Mass., four men. The Treverton was bound to Portland, Me.; the Corbin to Portsmouth, N. H. and the Pine Forest to Marblehead, Mass.

It was from the tug Lykens that the barges broke apart about 2 a. m. Just as the doubling of the Cape was almost accomplished. Three miles more and the Lykens would have her tow around Race point and heading into Provincetown. But the gale which the Lykens and her tow had not felt so long as they were under the lee of the upper part of the Cape, whipped up to 50 miles an hour when Highland Light was passed and, hauling well into the northward, made the ten miles around this point to the Race, the worst kind of a lee shore. The Lykens staggered on but three hours before dawn the tow lines snapped. A few minutes later the barges were in the breakers.

In the 200 years since the produce was settled no vessel has grounded on Peaked Hill bars and escaped destruction. In the case of these three barges the breaking-up began very soon and by daylight wreckage was coming ashore. Sunrise disclosed but one of the three barges remaining and that one, the Pine Forest, shorn of her masts, showing every indication of following the fate of the other two.

On the beach stood three life-saving crews, powerless to aid the men clinging to the wreck of the Pine Forest. Stretching out for a 100 yards was a scolding mass of tumbling seas in which a lifeboat could not have lived while the distance was too great for a shot from the life gun. Even the tug, which hovered in the offing was unable to run in very close for fear of grounding. The revenue cutter Gresham was sent for but there was little hope of her appearing in time.

So the lifesavers patrolled the beach and their watch was soon rewarded by the discovery of two bodies, toasting about in the breakers. These were hauled ashore. About each body was strapped a life preserver, on which was stenciled the words "The Arthur J. Marie" presiding at the organ. The bodies were three sons of the deceased, Jean-Baptiste, Leandre and Pierre Scard, and three sons-in-law,

Two Men Were Charged With Assault on Another

Frank Daoksziele and Mike Smith were charged with assault and battery on Frank Ramelka in police court today. That Ramelka was assaulted was very evident for his face bore many abrasions. The testimony was very conflicting, the complainant stating that the trouble started over a game of cards, while other witnesses said that the complainant had been drinking, and picked the assault.

The court, after considering the evidence, found the defendants not guilty and ordered them discharged. Frank Ramelka, the complainant, was the first witness for the government. He resides in Howe street, and last Saturday night he said he went to visit his sister in Bent's court. When he entered the house the two defendants were playing cards and invited him to take a hand in the game. He objected to the card playing and asked the men to stop and when they refused to do so he picked the cards off the table and threw them away.

This enraged the defendants and Frank Daoksziele, grabbing him and throwing him on the floor, kicked him three times in the face. While he was on the floor and trying to rise Smith kicked him in the back and head.

On cross examination witness said there was plenty of beer in the house but that he did not drink any, but admitted that he had several drinks during the afternoon. Later he denied that he had anything to drink. He said his reason for interrupting the card game was because he was afraid the police might enter the house and arrest him for being present at the game as the men were playing for money.

The complainant's cousin said he called at her house in Bent's court shortly after six o'clock. She said that her brother was pretty drunk and had more to drink in the house.

Ramelka and Daoksziele got into an argument and the former struck Daoksziele in the chest and sent the latter in a heap on a pile of wood behind the stove.

She said Ramelka had so many drinks at her house that she could not count them; also that there was no card playing in the house, although the complainant had testified to that effect.

Anton Duglis, who lives in the house where the trouble occurred, admitted that he did not know much about the affair because he was drunk and in bed. All he remembered was that Ramelka did not have the marks on his face when he entered the house earlier in the evening.

Witness denied that he had previously stated that he saw the two defendants strike and kick the complainant.

Adam Rosnoski, who conducts the boarding house in Bent's court where the trouble occurred, was the first witness for the government. He said Ramelka was under the influence of liquor when he entered the house. Witness did not see any fighting, but heard of it and after ordering the defendants out of the house had his son take Ramelka home.

Mike Smith, one of the defendants, denied that he either struck or kicked the complainant, stating that the latter received the marks on his face as a result of falling on a pile of wood in the kitchen.

Frank Daoksziele, the other defendant, said: "When Ramelka came into the house he asked me what I wanted there and I said it was none of his business. He then got up and pushed me on the chest. I pushed him back and he was so drunk that he fell on the wood near the stove."

Witness admitted that he had called at Lawyer O'Connor's office yesterday afternoon, but denied that he told Mr. O'Connor he had struck and kicked the complainant and Smith had nothing to do with the assault. Witness said he told Mr. O'Connor he had been living in Lowell for six years and would like to settle the matter without appearing in court.

The complainant was called in rebuttal and testified that he saw the defendants at his cousin's house last night and heard them ask her not to appear in court this morning.

Suspended Sentence

Jeremiah Tomney pleaded guilty to being drunk and was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail and placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

BOSTON BANK ELECTIONS

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Bank election day in Boston brought few changes in the directorates of the 22 national banks whose stockholders met today.

Former Governor Draper resumed his seat in the directorate of the National Shawmut bank after an absence of two years. John Jacob Rogers of Lowell was made a director of the State National bank in place of his father, Jacob Rogers, who declined reelection. The banks all reported a prosperous year.

the death of the crew of the Pine Forest

It was hoped that when the tide was out at 10 o'clock the water would be shallow enough on the bars to allow the lifeboat to be pushed through, but the northerly gale mashed up the waters and the ebb tide was a very small one.

In the meantime the Pine Forest was being hammered mercilessly and by 3 o'clock was showing signs of going to pieces. The crew clung for an hour. Then giving up hope of any help from shore they launched their own boat and the four men tumbled into it. The second sea that dashed upon the barge after the crew left, her sweep found her stern and those on shore saw the four men thrown into the water.

The lifesavers hauled their apparatus back to the houses, but continued their patrol for the bodies.

The Lykens remained nearby until it was seen that all the barges had gone ashore and then she ran around into Provincetown.

FUNERALS

LYNESS—The funeral of William Lyness took place this morning from the home of his son, Daniel G. Lyness, 48 Brookside street. The services were conducted by Rev. F. G. Aiger. On Monday evening there were services by Lowell Acle of Eagles. Present at the funeral was the following delegation from the Eagles: Messrs. Martin J. Crowe, George Swallow, Martin J. PRISON SENTENCE

For Man Who Defrauded His Employers

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A. W. Finch, the London agent of Phelps, Dodge & Co., of New York, was today sentenced to one year's imprisonment for defrauding his employers of $125,000.

In pronouncing sentence the court stated that the most extraordinary feature of the case was the fact that although the defalcation was so large the complaining company had recommended mercy for the prisoner.

GOV. CRUCE

SALE CHANGE OF LAWS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 10.

Decrying any wholesale change of the existing state laws, Governor Cruce in his message to the legislature today urged that body not to attempt to base its merits on "the number of laws passed."

Governor Cruce recommended that the election laws of the state be changed, taking care to protect the integrity of elections properly.

Referring to difficulties experienced by the state in enforcing its laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, the governor said it was his belief that most violations of these laws were traceable to gambling, and recommended that it be made a felony for any person to run a gambling house in the state.

Gives Decision on Abatement of Moth Assessments

Some time ago the park commission asked City Solicitor Duncan for an opinion relative to the abatement of moth assessments and the city solicitor finds that moth assessments may be abated especially if the owner of an estate is, by reason of age, infirmity or poverty unable to pay the same. The opinion reads as follows:

Office of City Solicitor

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 9, 1911.

Mr. Charles A. Whittier, Supt. of Parks, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: At your request, I have carefully examined the law relative to moth assessments, and more particularly as to whether such assessments may be abated.

By section 4 of chapter 283 of the acts of 1906, relating to moth assessments, it is provided that "The amounts to be assessed upon private estates shall be assessed and collected and shall be a lien on said estates in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in the case of assessments for street watering."

The law in this regard concerning assessments for street watering is found in chapter 26, section 27 of the Revised Laws and reads as follows:

"Such assessments shall be a lien upon the estate, and shall be levied, collected, re-assessed, paid, apportioned, or bear interest and become payable, in the same manner as, and shall be a part of, the tax for that year on such estates; but the assessors shall make no abatement thereof except upon the recommendation of the board or officer to whom the list was certified to them."

It therefore appears from this that a street watering assessment may, upon the recommendation of a certain board or officer, be abated, and as moth assessments are, under the law, to be treated in the same manner as those levied for street watering, I am of the opinion that they also, under the same conditions, may be abated.

And in addition, the assessors, under the provisions of section 5 of chapter 283 of the Acts of 1906 as amended by section 3 of chapter 521 of the Acts of 1907, may abate, in their opinion, the owner of an estate, upon which a moth assessment has been made, is, by reason of age, infirmity or poverty, unable to pay the same, provided he makes application for such abatement.

Very truly yours,

William W. Duncan, City Solicitor.

TEN PERSONS BURNED

HAVERHILL, Jan. 10.—Ten persons were slightly burned and Captain George Whiting was overcome by smoke while searching for possible victims of a fire in a three-story apartment house on Loon street today. The fire started on the street floor and spread upward through the hallways.

Ten Greeks on the upper floors saved their lives by rushing through the flames. When the fire department arrived Captain Whiting, not knowing that the Greeks had escaped, searched the third story and was hemmed in by the on-rushing flames.

Two firemen who missed Whiting found him unconscious but carried him out in time to save his life. The building was wrecked but the loss will not exceed $2000.

PERMITS GRANTED TO EMIGRANTS

BENSHEIM, Germany, Jan. 10.—The government today gave permission for 659 emigrants returning from the United States to proceed by train for Russia. The travelers have been held up on the Dutch frontier for several days through the workings of the new German emigration law enacted to restrict emigration and the return of emigrants by way of non-German ports.

RUN ON BANKS

CHECKED BY PROMISED AID OF J. P. MORGAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The banking troubles that were incident to the failure of the Carnegie Trust Co. on Saturday were regarded today as matters of the past. Normal conditions obtained at the Madison Trust Co. taken over by the Equitable Trust Co. and at the Twelfth and Nineteenth ward banks and their branches, where threatened runs were checked by promised aid of J. P. Morgan.

CHAS. H. MORGAN DEAD

WORCESTER, Jan. 10.—Charles H. Morgan, one of the best known men in the steel industry in the United States, died at his home on Catherine street, city, today, aged 80 years. Mr. Morgan had been in failing health for several years. He was a mechanical engineer of distinction and his inventions for improvements of machinery used in the manufacture of steel were used in steel plants all over the world.

Mr. Morgan was born at Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 8, 1831. As a boy of 12 years he started to earn his own living in a mill at Clinton, Mass., and he early developed unusual mechanical genius.

MERRIMACK RIVER

Project of Making it Navigable Discussed by Lawrence Tribune

Since The Sun published an editorial recently demanding that the question of navigating the Merrimack river be reopened the Lawrence papers have taken up the matter and the following editorial from the Tribune has some valuable information:

Unless public spirit and popular opinion do not soon demand the opening up of this much needed waterway to the sea, Lowell, Lawrence and other cities will be obliged to yield manufacturing supremacy to more favored centres like New Bedford, Fall River and Newburyport, where the federal government is spending vast sums of money, or to the south where no cost of transportation of the raw material is required, and where the hours are longer, wages lower, and where there is little if any restriction on child labor.

At these are problems that now confront the northern manufacturers, and no section of all New England has reason to be more interested in the outcome than the busiest and most prosperous of sections in part known as the Merrimack valley.

Col. Burr has been called from Boston, but his place has been taken by one, equally competent to measure the value of such a channel to the cities of Haverhill, Lawrence and Lowell. We refer to Col. Frederic V. Abbot of the U. S. Engineer corps, and head of the Boston office. A concerted movement of the business bodies, the manufacturers and other influential residents of the above named cities, should be inaugurated without delay, and reopen this important and feasible business problem if we would still compete for our share of the business and trade of the country.

This is preeminently an age of large and daring engineering feats, and an age that produces men splendidly equipped to bring them to successful accomplishment.

The Panama canal, commenced a few years ago, will be ready before 1915 to revolutionize the pathway of the shipping of the world. In two years more capital and labor will have pierced Cape Cod, from Buzzard's bay to Barnstable bay, with a ship canal which will save the rounding of that graveyard of ships, Provincetown and Monomoy, and will effect a saving in dangerous ocean travel of 76 miles into the open Atlantic.

Already Col. Abbot of the U. S. Engineer corps is preparing plans for the Boston-Lawrence ship canal, a section of the intra-coastway waterway, which when completed will leave an unbroken inland waterway from Boston to the Rio Grande in Texas.

Other important facts, concerning this great waterway, showing its feasibility, are now made known. A practical route from Boston, by way of Taunton river, a tributary at Narragansett bay, has been discovered by the engineers which does not cover any trunk line of railroads.

This canal would have its summit level about 36 ft. above mean low water, with two locks of 17 1/2 feet lift, each at the Boston end, one of 15 feet, and another of 20 feet lift at the Taunton end.

This project, when completed, will lessen the time of transit for steamers and other sailing craft from Boston to Point Judith, at the entrance of Narragansett Bay, about three hours, and will also eliminate ocean navigation along a most dangerous part of our coast.

In addition to the advantages shown by this waterway a practical sea level route, between Narragansett bay and Plymouth harbor, has been found which does not cross any trunk railroad line, and would only be crossed by three short bridges, which could be overcome and made safe by the construction of three double-track drawbridges. This Taunton-Plymouth line will be a great advantage to the shipping of the country, and will also eliminate ocean navigation along a most dangerous part of our coast.

SUGAR FRAUDS

American Co. Pays the Gov't $700,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The American Sugar Refining company has deposited $700,000 in cash in the United States treasury to compromise its civil liabilities in the sugar drawback frauds at New York and Secretary MacVeagh probably will formally accept the money today for the government.

Such action would settle only the government's civil claims, and would not prejudice its right to criminal proceedings.

SCHOOL BOYS

Steal Rides on the Street Cars

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A committee of schoolmasters appointed to investigate street car accidents, in which school children are victims, reported to the school board last night that they had ascertained that on one school day 436 boys stole rides on the street cars. The following day, when there was no school, 227 boys hopped on the moving cars. The committee also reported that most of the offences are committed on the way to school. It was suggested that teachers make a special effort to warn the school boys of the danger.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator, yesterday obtained a verdict for $6211 against Charles K. Hamilton. Hamilton made no appearance. Curtiss charged that he had a contract with Hamilton, whereby the latter was to fly the Curtiss aeroplane upon a certain percentage of the receipts from such flights.

WESTFORD

The old academy building which was recently purchased by Henry O. Keyes and now located near the Union Congregational church, is being remodeled into a two tenement dwelling.

The late William B. Frost was also principal of the school in this building for about 22 years, and the order of recitations remains on one of the blackboards in the upper room, where it was written by Mr. Frost several years ago.

J. Herbert Fletcher, of Westford, shot a fox Saturday on the Hildreth farm. The animal was started about daylight by the hounds owned by Mr. Elmer Fletcher of Littleton, and it came in the centre of the town, back of the town hall, where it was espyed by Mr. Fletcher who shot it after a short chase. Although Mr. Fletcher was not of the hunting party, he did the trick just the same.

JULIA WARD HOWE PORTRAIT

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The Boston art commission held a hearing last evening on the matter of hanging a portrait of the late Julia Ward Howe in Faneuil hall, which it recently ruled against. The commission was informed by the mayor that it had the power to re-arrange the portraits in the Cradle of Liberty and with this understanding it offered to consider the request of the Julia Ward Howe memorial committee, that it provide a place for the portrait by such arrangement.

FOR A PUBLIC HALL SPEAKER WALKER

MAJOR CHARLES S. PROCTOR

The Commission Again Favors Old Washington Tavern Site

The Huntington hall commission is set on the land now occupied by the Old Washington Tavern at the corner of Central and Church streets as a site for the new Huntington hall. The commission met yesterday afternoon at city hall and voted to notify the city council that the committee had selected the Old Washington Tavern site. This is the second time that the committee has recommended this site.

It might be said that yesterday's meeting was the annual meeting of the commission as it is nearly a year ago since the last meeting was held. Mayor John F. Meehan was again elected chairman of the commission and presided at the meeting and said he wanted to see work on the new hall begun this year. The records of the last meeting were read by the clerk, Major Charles S. Proctor. The other members of the commission, all of whom were present, are Henry Kneels, Henry L. Rourke and Frank W. Hurd.

It was the sense of the meeting that a public hall should be built at once and it was unanimously voted to recommend to the city council, for the second time, the Old Washington Tavern site. Mayor Meehan said he wanted to see something done on a new hall in the early spring. He said the public had waited quite long enough for a hall and he wanted to see the thing started. He said the main purpose of the committee was to select a site. He said that a year ago he did not favor the Old Washington Tavern site, believing that the civic centre idea should be followed out, but that he was now willing to go on record as in favor of the site selected.

Mr. Proctor read a communication which the commission received from the city council last summer. It will be remembered that the city council appointed a committee to confer with the commission and after a conference the committee reported back to the city council to the effect that in its judgment the price asked for the Old Washington Tavern site, $70,000, was too much for the city to pay and that public baths in common with a public hall should not be adopted. The city council adopted the committee's report thus putting a question on the proposition for the time being.

The commission, yesterday, discussed other sites including the Coburn lot, the land near the York club, the lots in Pudge and Bridge streets near Merrimack square and the Tower's corner lot. Mr. Proctor allowed that the flat-iron would cost too much money and that he would not favor the purchase of it when land across the street could be purchased for less than half what was asked for flat-iron.

After other sites had been discussed the following motion was put by Mr. Rourke and unanimously adopted: To the City Council of the City of Lowell:

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Huntington hall commission, held this day at city hall, it was unanimously voted that this commission instruct its secretary to notify the city council that in accordance with the duty imposed upon us, we have selected a site for the new Huntington hall, the lot of land bounded by Central, Church and Green streets and the so-called W. A. Ingham land. As we understand, this land is assessed for the year 1910 as follows:

Lot of land with buildings of Edward Cawley $29,000
Lot of land with buildings of A. C. Whipple 15,200
Lot of land with buildings of Wm. H. Healey 11,950
Lot of land with buildings of Wm. H. Healey 4,650
Lot of land with buildings of Edward Cawley 1,100
Total $61,900
This area contains within it 21,865 square feet, in addition to passage rights in 420 square feet.

Who Were Injured in the North Station by Parting of Train Last November—Actions Entered by Lawyer O'Sullivan Today

Lawyer Jeremiah O'Sullivan of this city, representing Michael McInerney and Patrick Martin, today entered suit against the Boston & Maine in the sum of $18,000 in the case of the former and $3000 in the case of the latter, in two actions of tort, to recover for personal injuries received by both through the alleged negligence of the defendant company, in the care and operation of its cars.

It will be recalled that on Sunday evening, Nov. 27, the two defendants, with many others, boarded a train that was standing in the North station in Boston, that was about to start for Lowell and the north. As the two were in the act of stepping from one car to another through the vestibule by some

STOCK MARKET

WAS WEAK AT THE CLOSE TODAY

Stocks Took a Drop in the Final Hour—Weakness Even Spread to the Railroad Section

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The strength of Canadian Pacific on its increased dividend was a notable feature of the stock market at the opening today. Fifteen hundred shares sold at 20 1/2, an advance of 1/2 points over yesterday's close. The stock soon made a further advance to Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie, which is affiliated with Canadian Pacific, gained a point. The tone of the general list was irregular, with a little sprinkling of gains and losses. Some heaviness was shown in U. S. Steel.

The market became reactionary and prices declined moderately with pressure directed especially against United States Steel, Reading, U. P. and Amalgamated Copper. The lower level uncovered buying orders in sufficient volume to check the decline and there was a general recovery, under the leadership of C. P. R., which advanced further to 20 1/2, an over-night gain of approximately 1/2 points. There was also effective buying of Consolidated Gas, which lifted it over a point. Business in general was repressed pending the publication of the monthly tonnage statistics of the United States Steel corporation.

Prices were heavy through the morning and the market was dull. The increase in the dividend in Canadian Pacific at this time came as a surprise, as it was not expected until February. Room traders were tempted to sell the stock short on account of the sensational timidity in doing so on account of the well known scarcity of the float. In supply, copper shares were heavy, reflecting the decline in futures abroad. United States Steel was relatively firm in advance of publication of monthly figures of unfilled orders which showed a decrease of $8,500,000 compared with November. The bond market was irregular, a feature of the dealings being a decline of one per cent. in some of the New York City four per cent. bond issues as a result of the expected issue of about $60,000,000 4 1/2 per cent. bonds.

Prices were on a slightly higher level after mid-day and United States Steel sold at 74 1/2, following the publication of the monthly report of unfilled tonnage as compared with 74 1/2 in the morning. The upward movement in the general list was not so pronounced but the tone was good. The continued strength of C. P. R., which crossed 20 1/2, facilitated the recovery. Trading declined until the market was at a standstill with no changes of significance in quotations. A decline of a point in Lehigh Valley was unnoticed as were losses of from 1 to 2 points in some of the minor industrials such as American Beet Sugar, American Cotton Oil, Central Leather and Corn Products stocks. The weakness in Central Leather, which was down 3 points, was attributed to unfavorable trade conditions.

The market closed weak. Stocks had an abrupt decline in the final hour. The heavy tone of obscure specialties and the weakness of copper stocks eventually spread to the railroad section and the whole market went down sharply.

FINE CEREMONY

Officers of Div. 8, A. O. H., Installed

The installation of the newly elected officers of Division 8, A. O. H., took place last night in the presence of more than four hundred members of the organization. The installation exercises were the best ever seen here and the installing officer, County President John J. Harold of Waltham, was given a great ovation and warmly congratulated at the conclusion.

At the meeting previous to the installation there were several propositions received and four new members were elected. A feature of the evening that was a genuine surprise to the majority of those present as well as to the recipient was the presentation to the retiring president, John C. Rourke, of a life-size portrait of himself encased in an elegant gold frame. Mr. Rourke has served as president for six years and retired from office of his own volition. The presentation of the portrait was made in behalf of the division by County President Harold, who extolled the work done by Mr. Rourke and the interest he has shown

DEATH PENALTY NEW VEGETABLE

May Be Abolished in Farmers Find Good Market for "Romaine"

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—Oregon will consider the abolition of capital punishment at the coming session of the legislature. A bill has been prepared to be submitted to both houses that, if passed, will wipe the hanging law off the statute books. There is considerable sentiment in favor of the proposed law and it is quite likely it will pass.

Several organizations oppose capital punishment for religious and other reasons. These are coming to the aid of the bill and missionary work is now being done among the members of the legislature.

The substitution of life imprisonment for legal executions will be urged. The Maine law will be the basis for the proposed legislation and a companion bill will seek to place a check upon the pardoning power. It is argued by those favoring the new law that the greatest deterrent to crime is to assure all of the certainty of punishment and the bill will remove the possibility of a kind-hearted governor turning the prisoners loose and cheating justice. Pardons will be provided for, however, whenever there is newly discovered evidence, but only after the state supreme court, having examined the case in one or more properly considered.

Opponents of capital punishment will support their cause by statistics gathered from other states. It will be contended that disregard for human life runs strongest in the states where hanging is common practice. Another argument for a modified criminal code is the claim that it is difficult to convict persons of murder in the first degree when the jury realizes the penalty is death.

Hal D. Patton, Senator from Marion county, will introduce the new bill in the senate, and G. W. Johnson, representative from the same county, will present it to the house.

PERJURY CHARGE

Made Against Dr. Louise Robinovitch

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A bail bond of $3000 for Dr. Louise Robinovitch, sister of Joseph Robin, the indicted banker, was given today by a surety company. Justice Swan allowed Miss Robinovitch to depart from the Tombs, where she had been held over night on an indictment charging her with perjury in swearing that she and her brother, Edward Robinovitch, were Robinovitch's only next of kin in this country.

Donalds made by Dr. Robinovitch and her brother Joseph of the statements made by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Robinovitch, the aged couple claiming to be their parents, so far have baffled former Dist. Atty. Jerome, their counsel, according to an interview attributed to him.

NO ROYAL ROAD

To the North Pole Says Peary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—There is no royal road to the North pole—sign posts mark the way, according to Captain Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, who appeared today before the house committee on naval affairs in connection with bills asking for his retirement as a rear-admiral. He declared that the date collected on the dash of the Peary expedition at the top of the world would be of practically no value to other aspiring polar explorers.

The explorer explained at length the privations of his trip to the pole and declared his success was directly attributable to his twenty years of experience in Arctic work. In response to questions he acknowledged that he had made an official report to the navy department. He had, he said, sent his original observations to the coast and geodetic survey but had made no report on explanation of his tidal data.

LIFE SENTENCE

FOR WOMAN ACCUSED OF POISONING HUSBAND

ROCKLAND, Me., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Sadie Newbert of Thomaston, who was convicted of murder last April for the poisoning of her husband, Fremont O. Newbert, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Thomaston in the supreme court today. The delay in sentencing was due to the fact that an appeal was taken to the law term of the supreme court, but was not prosecuted.

GOVERNOR FOSS

DECIDES NOT TO CALL SPECIAL ELECTION

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—There will be no special election in the 14th district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Eugene N. Foss to take the office of governor of Massachusetts by reason of a decision given to Governor Foss today by Attorney General Swift. The attorney general points out that to call a special election is impractical to the lack of time required to issue notices and call the caucuses, convention and election. It is impractical to start the machinery.

The opinion was given in response to an inquiry by the governor.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Fire of unknown origin starting in the mail car of a Chattanooga-Nashville passenger train standing under the shed of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad station this morning destroyed both the train and the shed. The loss will amount to about $125,000.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 10.—A decision ordering the involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the Cobalt Central Mines Co. by three creditors to be vacated was rendered today by Judge Lawrence Hale in the United States district court in response to a petition of stockholders. The court found that the company was solvent at the time the bankruptcy petition was filed.

THREE TOSSED ASHORE ON TREACHEROUS PEAKED HILL SHOAL

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Jan. 10.—Three coal barges, the Corbin, Pine Forest and Treverton, bound east in tow of the tug Lykens, were tossed ashore on the Peaked Hill shoal early today and before dawn the Corbin and Treverton had gone to pieces while the Pine Forest was pounding on the outer bar 300 yards from shore with her masts gone and in danger of breaking up at any minute.

A terrific 50 miles an hour gale was lashing the coast and blowing directly from the north making the Peaked Hill the worst kind of a lee shore. Two life-saving crews stood on the sands powerless to launch the lifeboat or reach the barge with a life line.

At 8 a.m. two bodies had been thrown up on the beach both with life preservers on which was stenciled "Treverton."

NEW ENGLANDERS AT SHEDD PARK

To Present Their Views on Tariff

Skating Surface is Being Improved

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Bound for Washington and the convention of the National Tariff Commission association, there to prove that this section of the country wants a square deal in tariff legislation, with no favoritism, 200 or more prominent New England businessmen and manufacturers will leave the South station tonight on a special train.

This special will arrive in Washington tomorrow morning, an hour before the tariff convention opens. The delegation from New England, which will be the largest from any section of the country will descend upon the convention in a body. Tomorrow night the New Englanders will give a banquet to which all the senators and representatives from New England have been invited, and at which the New England attitude regarding the tariff will be clearly shown.

There is a feeling in other sections of the country that New England is a sealer after tariff favors and this has engendered a sentiment that is unfavorable to New England's industries.

The arrangements for the trip are in charge of the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce, which consists of Walter W. Lowrey, chairman; Gen. William A. Hancock, Fred A. Carter, Eddie Eldridge, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, William M. Flinders, William D. Fulton and George O. Sheldon.

The convention will last two days and will be held at the New Willard hotel. The purpose of the association is to promote the creation of a permanent non-partisan tariff commission with authority to investigate all the industrial and commercial facts underlying the tariff problem and to report thereon for the information of congress.

PENSION BILL

WILL ADD $45,000,000 YEARLY TO THE ROLL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The house today passed the Sulloway general pension bill, which grants pensions ranging from $12 to $35 a month to those soldiers who served 90 days in the United States army in the Civil war or 60 days in the Mexican war and who have reached the age of 62. The bill adds about $45,000,000 a year to the pension roll.

UNDER THE KNIFE

OPERATION WAS PERFORMED ON A ROLLING SHIP

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 10.—While the engines throbbed and the ship rolled in the heavy seas, Besa Beresth, a steamer passenger on the steamer Uranium, Rotterdam for New York, went through the experience of having his appendix removed.

The operation was performed by Dr. J. B. Connolly, with the assistance of several stewards who volunteered to act as nurses.

The operation was particularly hazardous, in that the surgeon was not supplied with all the necessary apparatus, but it was entirely successful, and when the steamer arrived here yesterday the patient was reported to be well on the road to recovery. So well was the man getting along, in fact, that instead of removing him to a hospital it was decided to allow him to continue to his destination.

The steamer left Rotterdam Dec. 30. The following day Beresth was taken with acute appendicitis, and examination showed that to defer an operation until the ship arrived at Halifax would mean death to the patient, so Dr. Connolly undertook to perform it on board.

ORGAN TO COST $30,000

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 10.—An organ to cost $30,000, as a gift from Cyrus K. Mr. Kotschmar was organist of the First parish here for nearly 50 years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The first aid to the injured class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight at 7:30 with Dr. Sumner. Any young man in the association may take this valuable course, for no fee is charged. Each student must, however, pay for his board and outfit.

At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening the employed boys will have their first social of the season, when Dr. G. M. Randall will give a very valuable health talk on "Tuberculosis," illustrated by 50 stereoscopic slides.

The basketball league games will start promptly at 7 o'clock. All teams will play it on the floor on time, and at 8:30 sharp the lecture will begin. Refreshments will be served.

On the same evening it will be ladies' night for the senior gymnasium class, followed after 9 o'clock by a Victrola concert and refreshments.

The Y. M. C. A. has now 711 members. The board of directors met last night and the report of the membership committee showed that the membership had reached the highest point in the history of the association. The highest number reported in any previous month was 683.

Registrations for rooms in the dormitory for the new building are now being received.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, at 8 o'clock, a fine gymnastic program consisting of class drill, mace, running and apparatus work will be given in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Hurd street, followed by a Victrola recital given by Mr. A. L. Hiler of Steiner's music store.

DRAFT OF CHARTER

Considered by Committee of 60
Last Evening

The Committee Will Make Many
Changes Before Submitting
Draft to Legislature—Salient
Points of New Draft

The committee of 60 on charter revision held a lengthy meeting at the board of trade rooms last evening and discussed the draft of the proposed new charter.

The draft is not ready for publication as yet, as many changes are necessary and will be made within a short time.

When these changes have been made the draft will be filed at the state house for legislative action; thereon with ultimate referendum to the people next fall.

The new charter provides for a city council of five members, a mayor and four aldermen to be elected by the people at large for two-year terms. There shall be a school committee of five similarly elected which shall have general management and control of the schools, and also license and park commissions acting as now.

Municipal Council

The governing body of the city under the new charter will be a municipal council of five members, including a mayor and four aldermen. The annual city elections are to be on the second Tuesday of each December with the municipal year beginning at 10 a. m. on the first Monday in January.

The members of the city government are to have two-year terms.

Preliminary elections shall precede the annual city election and the two persons receiving the highest and lowest number of votes respectively for mayor, shall be the candidates at the annual city election, three weeks later. Carrying out this same theory at the preliminary elections, those who are to be candidates for aldermen at the annual city election will be the eight others receiving the highest number of votes. Two men will run for mayor and eight men for aldermen, one mayor and four aldermen being elected in the end. The preliminary election acts as a sifting-out process, those receiving the highest votes being the real candidates. This same rule applies to school committee elections.

There will be no party designation on the ballot.

Abolishment of Present Government.

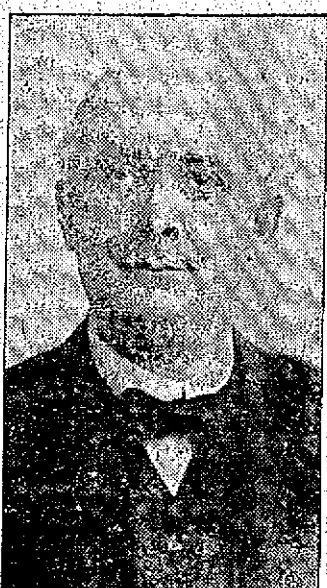

Section 21. At ten o'clock on the forenoon of the first Monday of January, in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, the city council, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen and common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board shall be abolished, the terms of office which the present mayor, aldermen, common councilmen, school committee, members of the board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board are now serving shall terminate, and except as is otherwise provided in this act, all the present powers and duties, under any act, general or special, of the mayor, board of mayor and aldermen, board of aldermen, city council, common council, board of charities, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, and all the powers and duties with respect to the police force in said city, now vested in the board of police of the city of Lowell, are hereby transferred to, shall vest in, devolve upon, and be exercised and performed by the municipal council. The municipal council shall be the judge of the election of its own members.

The mayor shall be the commissioner of public safety, and the municipal council shall at such meeting, or so soon thereafter as may be, designate by majority vote one alderman to be commissioner of finance; one to be commissioner of streets and highways; one to be commissioner of water works and fire protection; and one to be commissioner of public property, but, such designations shall be changed whenever it appears that the public service would be benefited thereby. The mayor shall cause to be kept a record of all his official acts, and to add him in his official duties may appoint one or more clerks.

Powers of the Municipal Council

Section 23. The municipal council shall have the power to do, except as is otherwise provided in this act, without the approval of the mayor, all things which the city council, board of aldermen, common council, board of charities, board of park commissioners, board of trustees of public cemeteries, and water board, can now do with such approval. The municipal council shall determine the policies to be pursued and the work to be undertaken in each department, but each commissioner shall have full power to carry out the policies of the work performed in his department, as directed by the municipal council. Any notes, bonds or scrip which said city is authorized to issue shall be signed by its treasurer and countersigned by a majority of the municipal council.

WILLIAM H. WILSON

Section 25. The municipal council shall have full supervision of the erection, alteration and repair of all public buildings including school buildings, except repairs and alterations of school buildings for which provision is made in the annual appropriation. No department of the city and no corporation or person shall at any time, open, dig up or otherwise obstruct any way or sidewalk, without the consent of the municipal council in writing previously obtained, except in case of an emergency.

Administrative Officers

Section 37. There shall be the following administrative officers, who shall perform the duties prescribed by law for them, respectively, and such further duties, not inconsistent with the nature of their respective offices and with general law, as the municipal council may prescribe, except as is otherwise provided herein: a city clerk, a city treasurer and collector of taxes, a city auditor, a purchasing agent, a city engineer, a city physician, a city messenger, a board of health, consisting of three members, a board of park commissioners, consisting of five members, a city solicitor, a chief of the fire department, a superintendent of police, a license commissioner of three, a sealer of weights and measures, a board of

Departments

Section 38. The administration of all affairs of the city shall be divided into five departments, to wit: Department of public safety, department of finance, department of streets and highways, department of water works and fire protection and department of public property and licenses; and said departments are defined as follows: The department of public safety shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Police, health, poor, legal and claims.

The department of finance shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Treasury, auditing, purchasing, assessing, sinking funds, tax collection, registration of voters and city clerk.

The department of streets and highways shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Highways and other ways, street lighting, street watering, sewers and drains and engineering. The commissioner of streets and highways, except as is herein otherwise provided, shall have exclusively the powers of, and be subject to the liabilities and penalties imposed by law on surveyors of highways.

The department of water works and fire protection shall include all boards and offices connected with the water supply of the city and fire protection.

The department of public property shall include the following sub-departments and all boards and offices connected therewith, to wit: Buildings, parks, public grounds, cemeteries, electrical, weights and measures.

Every official having to do with the affairs of the city with the exception of such as pertain to the school committee or the city library shall be included in one of the above five departments, and if the assignment to a department is not made hereunder, the municipal council shall by ordinance assign such office, board or boards to the department best adapted to include the same.

Section 39. The municipal council shall have the power to appoint the administrative officers named in section thirty-seven, and all other executive and administrative officers and boards and heads of sub-departments heretofore known or designated, or in joint convention, and all additional executive or administrative officers and heads of sub-departments for which provision may hereafter be made by the municipal council in accordance with this act and the general laws of the commonwealth.

Section 40. The municipal council shall have the power to suspend or remove any officer or head of department if it has the power to appoint for such cause as it shall deem sufficient. The municipal council shall set forth in the order of suspension or removal its reasons therefor, and nothing contained in this section shall apply to any of the following special departments, namely, school committee, license commission, or the trustees of the public library.

The draft also provides for the recall and the initiative and referendum.

The draft and its provisions is left open in the draft and will be determined upon during the week.

BY DIRECT VOTE

The Election of Senators is Favored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the senate committee on the judiciary, held last yesterday, a decision was reached to report favorably the sub-committee resolution authorizing an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

The controversy in the committee turned upon the question as to whether the state or the federal government should supervise the elections. The sub-committee's provision directs that the "time, places and manner of holding elections shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof."

Sensors Dewey and Nelson, both offered amendments giving congress the power to regulate, but the southern senators opposed these provisions as most prejudicial to the interests of their constituents, some of them going so far as to assert that the measure would be more obnoxious than the Forney bill of the early '90s which caused one of the most famous of the senate fights. Both amendments were voted down, 8 to 3. The favorable votes were cast by Senators Dewey, Nelson and Dillingham.

PLEASANT PARTY

Held in St. Joseph's
College Hall

An interesting soiree was given last night in St. Joseph college hall in Merrimack street. The affair consisted of a whist and an illustrated lecture on Japan by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church. It was largely attended, and the proceeds which will be devoted to the purchase of a new pulpit for St. Jean Baptiste church, were large.

Dr. A. G. Payette had the direction of the program. Epiphane Labrie, sexton of St. Jean Baptiste church, had general charge of the soiree and was assisted by the following young women who acted as scorers: Mrs. G. Joyal, Misses Laura Guerin, Regia Berger, Clementine, Cellina, Fabiola and Blanche Delsie, Rosanna Paradis.

DR. A. G. PAYETTE

Cordelia Carrier, Alphonsine Ouellette, Marie Gagnon, Marie Louise Bouchard, Yvonne Tremblay, Marie Rose Fiset, Della and Clara Hardy, Anais Desrosiers, Josephine Leclair, Juliette Brassard and Eugene Vincent.

An interesting whist contest opened the program and was followed by the lecture on Japan. Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., was to speak on the Eucharist, but this program had to be canceled because the necessary views had not arrived. Fr. Baron's lecture proved of capital interest and no one was disappointed at the change. By means of the reflectoscope, a number of beautiful views of Japanese landscapes, temples, gods and celebrities were shown.

After the lecture the whist prizes were awarded by the following judges: Joseph L. Lamoureux, Charles E. Barry and Zol St. Hilaire. The winners were: Mrs. Dancosse, Pamela Sawyer, Odile Sawyer, Mrs. Charron, Laura Fortin, Almeria Cote, Therese Guerin, Mr. and Mrs. A. Belduc, Blanche Fortin, Leda Chabot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arbour, Clara Renaud, F. Cherie Brunelle.

SECY MEYER

MAKES REPLY TO GOVERNOR
DONAGHEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In response to what he characterized as "rather acrimonious" communication from the governor of Arkansas, Secretary Meyer yesterday issued a statement explaining the impracticability of postponing the launching of the battleship Arkansas. Gov. Donaghey complained in his letter that the navy department ignored him and the officials of the state of Arkansas in the launching preparations and charged that Secretary Meyer was "guilty not only of gross discourtesy to the representative of a sovereign state," but had "subjected himself to a criticism that cannot be adequately expressed in an official communication from the representative of a state to an official of the federal government."

Secretary Meyer in his statement regrets this "misunderstanding" under which the governor of Arkansas seems to labor and hopes that the state will find ample opportunity later to express its appreciation of the act of naming the battleship for that state.

Gov. Donaghey has announced that the state would take no further responsibility for the ceremonies of Jan. 14th.

Secretary Meyer asserts that he informed Gov. Donaghey of the date of the launching as early as possible and asked him to name a sponsor, receiving a reply from the governor that because the notice was too short it had been decided to perform the christening after the launching. As a sponsor had to be secured the navy department communicated with Rep. Macon of Arkansas, the only representative of the Arkansas delegation who could be found in the city. Mr. Macon's daughter, therefore, was named as sponsor.

IN MINNESOTA

Corn Day is to be Observed

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 10.—Governor Eberhart has given his approval to the plan of the promoters of the National Corn Show to be held in Columbus, Ohio, to observe Friday, February 3 as National Corn Day. The governor set his stamp of approval on the plan when he appointed 300 delegates from Minnesota to the Columbus show.

Following the governor's sanction of the plan it was suggested that the people of Minnesota have a corn dinner on February 3. Professor C. P. Bull, of the department of agronomy, Minnesota College of Agriculture, says it will be easy to fix up a palatable meal.

Minnesota, according to George F. Welsh, state immigration commissioner, has better reason for celebrating corn day than any other state in the Union. "There was a time," said Mr. Welsh, "when everybody thought Minnesota was too far north to produce corn in any quantity. But we have fooled those skeptical persons in the last few years. Our agricultural experts have found that the Minnesota soil is as good for corn as it is for wheat and the whole world knows about our wheat. Corn is now being raised throughout the 405 miles of the state's length from Iowa to the Canadian border. The yield last year was 63,000,000 bushels and in 1909 it was 62,000,000. The decrease was due to the fact that fewer acres were planted in 1910."

Official figures show that Iowa having been excelled already, Illinois will soon have to look to her laurels as a corn producing state. If Minnesota keeps up her advancement in this branch of agriculture, thousands of acres of fine corn land are lying beneath swamps and timber lands in Northern Minnesota and thousands of acres of filled land are devoted to wheat, yet the average yield per acre for 1909 in Minnesota was 47.8 bushels as against 35.9 bushels for Illinois and 31.5 bushels for Iowa. In the Southern part of Minnesota the average yield per acre is more than 45 bushels. The state's average yield per acre in 1910 was 32.5 bushels. The Illinois and Iowa figures are not available, but it is understood that they made a better showing than in 1909.

"Minnesota would be the best corn producing state in the union if the farmers only took more care in its culture and were as good corn breeders as those of Iowa and Illinois," concluded Commissioner Welsh. "The corn crops are not rotated as they should be, as Minnesota farmers prefer to make a specialty of wheat raising, thinking they can do better by raising a crop that many other states cannot raise. There was no crop failure in Minnesota last year. With the corn yield 68,000,000 bushels and the wheat yield 94,000,000 bushels conditions were about the same as in 1909."

Professor Bull says the faculty of the Minnesota college of agriculture is anxious that Corn day shall be generally observed. Professor Bull is a soil culturist and knows all about treating soil to produce any sort of

The regular meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, United Spanish War Veterans, was held last night in Memorial hall. There was a large attendance and considerable business of importance was transacted during the meeting. Commander George E. Sullivan, president, gave of the principal matters brought to the attention of the command was that concerning the department convention which will be held in this city on April 19. The following committee of five was named to have charge of all arrangements: Capt. Corby, Thomas Kilgus, chairman; Capt. Philip McQuitty, Capt. Walter J. Joyce, Arthur Salmon and Frank Dodge.

Camp Ames will hold a joint installation with Edith Prescott Wolcott auxiliary on the night of January 23. Officers of both departments will be present to perform the work.

The committee of Division 2, A. O. H., appointed to conduct a coupon contest on April 18, met last night and perfected plans for the affair. It was also voted to hold a complimentary dance on Feb. 17 and the following officers were chosen to have charge of the affair: General manager, John F. Sheehan; assistant, Charles Riley; floor director, Austin Rourke; assistant, Timothy Rorand; Philip Healy, chairman of the reception committee. John D. Rorand, Denis F. Lynch and James J. Carlin, Jr., were named to serve on the music and printing committee.

OTHER REBELS WERE GIVEN
THEIR LIBERTY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Seventy-three of the rebels who figured in the taking of Batopolls have surrendered to the federal officers and made public declarations of their desire to return to their former peaceful occupations. They turned over 45 carbines and other weapons. The prisoners, with the exception of Apolinario Rodriguez, and three other leaders were given their liberty.

The first news direct from Guerrero which has been re-occupied by the federals, indicates that a number of government representatives and several citizens were put to death by the revolutionists.

BIG BIPLANE
RAN AWAY WITH GOV. ELECT
COLQUITT

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10.—John J. Fribble's Rochester biplane ran away with Governor-elect Colquitt of Texas yesterday, and while Mr. Colquitt was posting for newspaper photographers:

Unsuspected worms are the cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning, suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and full itching of the nose, short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence.

A pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since time immemorial, never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy.

The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elixir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventative of coughs, colds, fever and worms and gives rugged, robust health.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1910 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The republicans expect the democrats in congress to put up a hot battle on the tariff, and it would not be right to disappoint them on that score.

We have several amateur stations here in Lowell that might have a commercial value under certain conditions. The possibilities of the wireless are still beyond comprehension.

Perhaps after all it is just as well to let the faith heaters have their way. If Dr. Wiley's prediction that the earth will eventually become so cold that men will freeze at the equator, these faith eunists may be needed to teach the people how to keep warm.

That murder at Providence last Saturday night was one of the most cruel in the annals of crime. No punishment would be too severe for the fiend who stabbed the woman's body all over with a table fork, in order, it is presumed, to make her tell of more money than he had found in her wallet.

The police of the country should bend their efforts towards putting a stop to the Black Hand villainies. The kidnapping and holding for ransom and the demand for large sums of money under penalty of death are so outrageous that the severest penalties of the law would not be too much to impose upon the culprits.

John D. Rockefeller must feel that the trustees of the Chicago university are hard to satisfy when on paying them $10,000,000 as the last instalment of $35,000,000 he told them that was all they would get from him and not to expect any more. Perhaps from experience he anticipated from the president of the university a modest request to double his donation in order to put the university on a permanent paying basis.

MRS. HOWE'S MEMORY

The friends of the late Mrs. Julia Ward Howe are too hasty in their demands for recognition of her memory after the manner that they themselves prescribe. Better wait until the people realize that she is dead. The people of this country can be relied upon to do full justice to the memory of this noble woman, and it is ill advised to force the matter at this stage.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS

The amendment of the federal constitution to provide for the popular election of senators should be pushed to the limit. The method of instructing the legislature by popular vote amounts to very little. The legislators ignore it whenever they see fit. On this matter we are practically in the same predicament as are the British people on the house of lords veto.

The national house has several times passed the amendment providing for direct election of senators. The senate refused to pass it, however. The legislatures of nearly two-thirds of the states have urged congress to pass such an amendment or else call a constitutional convention. If the legislatures of two-thirds of the states would vote in favor of a constitutional convention, congress would be obliged to call such convention and the amendment framed by such convention shall become a part of the constitution when ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures of the states.

GOOD WORK OF THE WOMEN'S GUILD

The report of the Women's Guild on the work of the milk station for the past year indicates that a good beginning has been made and that next year a great deal more will be accomplished. There can be no doubt as to the need of this work or of its vast possibilities for good. If the nurses only come in contact with the mothers who need their assistance most, it will be an easy matter to save a great many of the little waifs from death as a result of unskilful treatment.

If the truth were known the people of Lowell would stand agnost at the number of young children that die annually as a result of ill treatment, mismanagement in the shape of wrong feeding, wrong clothing, lack of fresh air or one of many other causes which the nurses can remedy by prompt action or sometimes by a little friendly advice to the mothers.

For this reason we congratulate the Women's Guild on its success thus far and predict for this new line of work the most gratifying results in lessening the infant mortality of our city, especially by checking the ravages of cholera infantum, that terrible scourge of the innocents.

AS TO ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The matter of publishing anonymous letters rests entirely with the editor. Sometimes an anonymous letter conveys matter in dispute, the merits of which the editor knows nothing about. He might be inclined to investigate but he does not know the writer and hence is at a loss to find who has the information. If, however, the anonymous letter conveys information as to where he may find a good news item the letter will not be published, but the item will be looked up. When the writers of communications to the press are asked to give their names, not necessarily for publication, they should not object, for in such cases they can rely that the editor will not betray their confidence. It happens that most of the anonymous letters come from people who want to strike somebody through the newspaper but who are unwilling to let their identity be known. Even in this case they might not be afraid; for if there is anything wrong in their communications the paper, not the writer, is responsible.

The writers of such anonymous communications need not be surprised if their veiled attacks do not see the light of day. Where there are so many irresponsible characters ready to enter libel suits for little or no cause, the anonymous writer need not complain if his arrows shot from ambush are not taken up by the newspaper and fired home.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Kindness is catching, and if you go around with a thoroughly developed case, your neighbor will be sure to get it."

"A little explained, A little endured, A little forgiven, The quarrel is cured."

"We deliberately make nearly all of our unhappiness with our own unreasonable discontent, and nothing will make us happy except the spirit within."

We cannot change yesterday, that is clear. Or begin on tomorrow until it is here. So all that is left for you and for me is to make today as sweet as can be. —Selected.

"If tears have dimmed our eyes, let us brush away the tears. If troubles and cares have burdened our hearts, let us rise triumphant over them all and for this day be glad; and in our gladness let us find our strength."

"Once, out of all the anguish and the sorrow of my heart, I wrote a song, and put my pent-up passion in its art. And the great world never heeded this soulful human groan. For it bore a burden infinitely heavy of its own."

Once, out of all the happiness and joy within my breast, I made a little song and blithely sent it on its quest. And the great world, with its infinitely many joys, divine, Still had room and instant welcome for this little song of mine."

A VOICE FROM THE PLAINS. Do I look like a city-bred creature? A woman skimmed light at the hips. With an inch of white flour on each cheek. And a dab of red paste on my lips? Is my hair weighed down with a cargo? Or have hair, of oakum, or tow? That you ask me if I'm from Chicago? Or one of the set that you know?

Do I look like a girl that would wobble When nature has given me feet, Or do I myself up in a hobble To make me a sight on the street? Is my hat a ridiculous jumble? Of the heathenish color and shape That would sicken the sight and the stomach. Or even the foolishlest ape?

Do I talk with an edge like a parrot, Or giggle, or snigger, or flirt? Is my hair bleached the shade of a carrot? Am I wear a man's trousers or shirt? Am I rigged up to strut like a dummy In dude and undress, and loud, Or swaddled to look like a mummy, My form showing clear to the crowd?

No, I'm not a city-bred woman; I come from a place in the west Where women intend to stay human. Because they know that the best of us have use for our brains and our bodies. And something to live for but style. We are genuine women—not shoddy. And life to our kind is worth while.

We are here for the good of creation; We're women, not clothes signs or birds. We're working for human salvation, And value good deeds and good words. O yes, we have heard that you pity Such low-down creatures as I, But, thank God, I'm no child of the city. —Laura Sheldon, in New York Times.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Silvester Babbitt of Enfield, N. H., who is eighty-two years old, husked 407 bushels of corn this fall. Hiram Young, ninety years old, of West Lebanon, has been slating the Dartmouth college roof, ninety feet from the ground. Joseph H. Hodgdon of Dover, ninety years old, drives about the streets of that city alone. Stephen J. Roberts of Claremont, eighty-nine years old, is making his annual visit to New York city, unaccompanied.

Petitions for a change in the manner of confinement of Jesse Pomeroy at state prison, which have annually been presented to governors by the "Society for the Promotion of Criminal Anthropology," have met with such little success that the society has decided not to present such a petition to Governor Foss. The society, according to its president, F. H. Giles, has seen the futility of attempting to obtain any action in the face of strong public opinion, which, it is charged, is kept up by the circulation of falsehoods about Pomeroy.

An advertisement was published in a Honolulu paper by J. Lightfoot, an attorney, calling on citizens to hold a mass meeting to protest against the employment in the central grammar school there of Miss Takeda, a Japanese. When the advertisement was read by Miss Mlamoto, she immediately resigned her position.

A fresh honor was thrust on J. Pierpont Morgan recently; a newly discovered gem, a variety of beryl, was named "Morganite" after him. "I have named it 'Morganite' for J. Pierpont Morgan, the distinguished financier, art lover, and philanthropist," said Dr. George F. Kunz, the expert on gems. "This, in recognition of the encouragement he has given always to the arts and sciences and in appreciation of the collections of precious stones he gave to the museums of natural history in New York and Paris."

Describing "Morganite," Dr. Kunz said it is found on Mount Bity, an island of Madagascar, in stones weighing from one to 100 carats. It is of a beautiful, brilliant pink rose-color, and wonderfully free from flaws, the purest of the larger gems, rivaling pink tourmaline and pink opal. It is the first pink beryl found; green beryl is emerald, sea-blue or sea-green beryl is aquamarine.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, the new democratic leader in the upper house at Albany, was born in Germany only 38 years ago. Senator Edgar T. Brackett, the senior leader, was one of three republican senators who declined to vote for Boss Platt when the latter was last elected to the United States congress.

On Jan. 1 Francis L. Chapin of Southbridge rounded out 43 years of service as cashier of the Southbridge National bank. He probably will be relieved in the future from the more arduous duties involved in his office, while still retaining his active connection with the bank. Mr. Chapin is nearly 67 years of age and is in excellent health. He was born in Enfield, As a young man he was clerk in a Civil war service, returning after the war to his position. From there he was called to the Southbridge bank as assistant cashier, and upon the death, a short time afterward, of the cashier, he was chosen as his successor. He is prominent in Southbridge affairs.

Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson is to be inaugurated Jan. 20 at Trenton. There will be no parade, and the ceremonies will be simple. A Princeton company of the Second regiment will act as Dr. Wilson's personal escort. The inauguration will take place in Taylor's Opera House, the legislature having seats on the stage. A Presbyterian clergyman will make the opening prayer and Bishop McFall, Roman Catholic, will pronounce the benediction.

Allen Freeman of East Orange, N. J., one of the wealthiest of socialists, is said to be intending to give his wealth to the cause of promoting his social theories. His father, Joel Francis Freeman, was treasurer of the Standard Oil company. Mr. Freeman is not, however, so much concerned in any particular socialistic program as in spreading free thought, in encouraging men and women to consider how the production of wealth can be made more profitable and pleasant to all concerned.

WATERBURY, Conn., Jan. 10.—An epidemic of measles which started here a few weeks ago, has assumed large proportions, between 500 and 600 cases having thus far been reported. The attendance of the schools is seriously affected. According to the board of health, fully one-third of the families in the city have some member ill with the disease. The board also reports 1000 cases of influenza.

MURDER CHARGE

Child Wife Is Placed on Trial

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Weeping hysterically at times, then appearing wildly from fear, and finally changing into a shocked young maiden chiding gum, is the character study of Rose Picchione, a pretty 17-year-old Italian girl, as she appeared yesterday when her trial for murder in the first degree was begun before Supreme Justice Tompkins, presiding at White Plains.

Rose, when she was a bride of only six months, shot and killed her husband, in their home, 137 Huguenot street, New Rochelle, on Oct. 12 last. He had accused her of being too friendly with John Cavanaugh, a young barber and her neighbor.

The defendant is the first woman ever to go to trial in Westchester county on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Ever since she has been in the White Plains jail awaiting trial she has been visited by many charitable women, who have taken a great interest in her welfare.

A jury was secured yesterday in the record time of one hour and most of them are farmers.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Davis offered evidence to prove that Rose was in love with Cavanaugh and called Mrs. Frank Monaco, who testified that the young girl had told her that she had an affinity.

Charles H. Nixon, her assigned counsel, will offer as a defense that Rose shot her husband because he had threatened to kill her and that he had tried to shoot her just before she pulled the trigger which sent three bullets into his body.

Lieut. Frank Corey of the New Rochelle police department testified that she was a woman when she was arrested, said that her husband had kissed her baby and then walked into the parlor, where he shot himself.

VOTE SELLERS

Pleaded Guilty and Were Fined

WEST UNION, O., Jan. 10.—Twenty-five repentant and self-confessed vote sellers, who were waiting for him at Peebles, when he returned yesterday to the county seat from his home at Portsmouth, were tried by Judge Blair before daybreak. Count was held in the lobby of a hotel and the men thus were spared the 14 mile overland journey to this village.

When Judge Blair arrived here he found the others ready to acknowledge their guilt. To the one hundred he gave the customary fine of $5, and five years' disfranchisement. The day's work brings the total number of those found guilty up to 1728. The total number indicted is 1613.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Man Was on His Way to Westford

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 10.—Daniel F. Callahan, a farm hand, was struck by a train coming from Acton, Mass., last night and was seriously injured. Callahan was placed aboard the train and hurried to Nashua, where he was taken to the Emergency hospital. His injuries consist of two broken ribs and possible internal injuries. The nature of the injuries and the long ride on the train put Callahan in such a condition that he did not rally well after his injuries were dressed and it is feared that he may not recover.

As far as is known here, the injured man belongs in Boston, where he has two sisters, but had been working for a time in northern Massachusetts. He is 42 years old and unmarried.

At the time the accident occurred he was walking the tracks, going from Acton to Westford. The train which struck him is a mixed freight and passenger train which usually arrives in Nashua about 7 o'clock. Owing to the accident it did not reach here last night until 9:30 o'clock.

MORE MONEY. WANTED FOR THE RAISING OF THE MAINE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The $300,000 appropriated by congress at the last session for removing the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, will be insufficient for the purpose and within a few days an estimate will be transmitted to congress suggesting an additional appropriation. The difficulty in obtaining competent mechanics and laborers and engineering obstructions encountered in the placing of a coffer dam around the wreck account for the increased cost of the undertaking.

Engineers say the wrecking operations have not progressed to a point where it is possible to afford any light upon the cause of the sinking of the ship.

TELEGRAPHERS. WILL BE OBLIGED TO FORWARD ALL MESSAGES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Telegraph offices at Lisbon, Portugal, which have hitherto refused to transmit what seemed to them false and misleading information concerning the political situation of that country, hereafter will be required to send any communication presented to them, according to advice received yesterday from the government by Viscount de Alente, minister of the provisional government of Portugal to the United States. It had been alleged that the action of the telegraph offices had been inspired "to keep the real situation from the public," but the government has now ordered that messages are to be forwarded in their entirety, without suppression or alteration of a single word.

Go Into Business With Us

Lowell people—men and women—we invite you to go into business with us. No matter whether you are in business for yourself now or working for a salary or wages, if you have a few hundred dollars saved or can spare $10, $20, or $50 a month we can make it grow for you.

You have heard of the fortunes that have been made by people who invested early in big enterprises when they were little. We offer you that kind of an opportunity.

Not every small enterprise can grow into a big and profitable one. It must have in it the possibilities of bigness. Our business has such possibilities, plus the Plan, plus the Ambition, plus the Determination. There is a clear track ahead and our destination is a million-dollar business.

We established an agency in Lowell less than 60 days ago and already have enrolled a large list of students which gives us a good business in this city. We purpose to open such agencies in every important New England city.

The proceeds of the stock we are now selling will provide working capital for our growing business.

WILLIAM WHITING PAID $23,766

First Citizen of Holyoke Standard Oil Co. Settles its Fine

HOLYOKE, Jan. 10.—Ex-Congressman William Whiting, Holyoke's oldest living ex-mayor and first citizen, died last evening at 8:10 o'clock at his Elm street home surrounded by his family. He had been in failing health for several months. Yesterday morning he had a bad sinking spell, and he gradually sank into a state of coma in which he remained until death claimed him.

This ended a fight that had been waged for several years, his health having been undermined years ago. For many years he had been obliged to take the best of care of himself and it was principally because of his health that he was prevented from making the run for the republican nomination for governor.

There was talk at the time of the visit of President McKinley to Mr. Whiting's home here in June, 1897, of his being considered for a cabinet position and there is little doubt but that the president would have gladly given him a place in the nation's councils.

Holyoke will be shrouded in gloom for Mr. Whiting was generally esteemed. He was a constant giver to all causes, both little and big.

William Whiting was born at Dudley, May 24, 1841, the son of William Dudley Whiting and Elizabeth Whiting. He was the oldest of 11 children and was obliged to earn his living at an early age, but he continued his studies in the public school until he was 17, when he accepted the position of bookkeeper for the Holyoke Paper company.

His youthful ambition was to study law, but he developed such a marked business capacity that he gave up this plan and applied himself to a business life.

He became business agent and traveling salesman for the Holyoke Paper company soon after entering its employ and in 1865 he had mastered all the details of the paper trade.

In that year he began business on his own account by purchasing a mill on Lyman street, Holyoke, in which he manufactured a high grade writing paper. This mill is now known as Whiting mill No. 1. Later he erected a building on Dwight street, which is known as the factory of the Whiting company was organized, of which Mr. Whiting was president from the start. He was also president and manager of the Collins manufacturing company of North Wilbraham; president of the Whitmore manufacturing company of Holyoke, and of the National Blank Book company of Holyoke.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words.

Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticize, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

Distortion No. 1 stated that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has been the policy of this company to advertise "Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything."

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees and its caustic alkalinity its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centres that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise, Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, provided the indigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

Charge No. 2 states that the passage of the National Food and Drugs Act compelled us to drop from the packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of wheat and barley.

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believed that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centres is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and inasmuch as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claim, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

"The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread."

Some Department chemists deceive themselves, as well as the public.

"Calorie" is the word which defines a unit of heat, determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 3,600; Grape-Nuts 3,98; milk 0.70. Remember the statement on the package spoke of the nourishment the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories of heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

As an illustration: Attempt to feed a man sixty days on butter alone, with its 3,600 calories. The man would die before the experiment had run sixty days.

Then, take Grape-Nuts with 3,98 and milk with 0.70—the two combined equal 4.68—about one-half the number of calories contained in butter. The man fed for sixty days on this food would be well nourished, and could live not only sixty days, but "six months on that food alone, and we do not hesitate to say from our long knowledge of the sustaining power of the food that a man at the end of sixty days would be of practically the same weight as when he started, if he be a man of normal weight.

We will suppose that from his work he lost a pound a day and made up a pound each day from food. If that premise proved to be true the man in sixty days' time would make sixty pounds of tissue to replace what had been lost, and this would be done on Grape-Nuts and milk with half the number of calories of butter, upon which no one can sustain life.

Therefore, we have reason to believe that our contention is right that concentrated food like Grape-Nuts, which is partly digested and ready for easy assimilation by the body, presents more nourishment than the system will absorb than any other form of food, and we will further say that in cases of digestive troubles where meal, white bread and oats cannot be digested, that Grape-Nuts and milk contain more nourishment than the system will absorb than many pounds of these other foods.

Distortion No. 3 charges that our testimonials were practically all paid for and re-written in Battle Creek.

These testimonials were demanded by the opposing lawyers. Naturally this demand was refused, for they are held in vaults and kept safe to prove the truth, and are not to be delivered up on demand of enemies.

Testimony at the trial brought out the fact that we never printed a single testimonial that we did not have the genuine letter back of. Many of these letters came spontaneously. A record was kept of twelve hundred and four (1204) letters received in one month from people who wrote that they had either entirely recovered their health or been benefited by following our suggestions on food and beverages.

On three or four occasions in the past ten or twelve years we printed broadcast in papers offers of prizes to users of Postum and Grape-Nuts, two hundred $100 prizes one hundred $200, twenty of $500, and five of $10,000 each, stating that each must be an honest letter with name and address.

We agreed not to publish names, but to furnish them to enquirers by letter. These letter writers very generally answered those who wrote to them, and verified the truth of the statements.

Under this agreement not to publish names literally scores of letters came from doctors. We kept our word and neither printed their names or surrendered the letters.

Right here notice an "imitation spasm." The "Weekly" says: "Post got those testimonials by advertising for them. In New York he used for each, that purpose the New York Magazine of —, whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary for fraudulent use of the mails. For example, Post announced in that magazine in 1907, etc." (then follows our prize competition).

We used nearly all of the papers and magazines in New York and the rest of America, but the sensational writer gives the impression to his readers that the "only" magazine we used was one "whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary," etc., something that we know nothing of the truth of now, and never did. Space was bought in the magazine spoken of on a business basis for the reason that it went to a good class of readers. The incident seems to have furnished an opportunity for a designing writer to deceive his readers.

We look upon honest human testimony from men and women as to the means by which they recovered health as of tremendous value to those in search of it. Our business has been conducted from the very first day upon lines of strict integrity and we never yet have published a false testimonial of human experience. Many of these letters covered numerous sheets, some, if printed, would spread over half a page of newspaper. If we would attempt to print one such letter in every one of the thousands of papers and magazines we use, the cost for printing that one letter would run into many thousands of dollars.

We boil down these letters exactly as a newspaper writer boils his news, striking sacredly to the important facts and eliminating details about the family and other unimportant matters. This work of boiling down, or editing is done honestly and with a full knowledge of our responsibility, but not the art of the "twister" in the way he presents to his readers this matter of testimonials.

Distortion No. 4. This is a bad one. It reads as follows: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to a testimonial was produced in court by Colliers and turned out to be a poor, old, broken-down homeopath, who is now working in a printing establishment. He received ten dollars ($10.00) for writing his testimonial."

We will wager ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) with any investigator that we have, subject to inspection of any fair committee, upwards of three hundred (300) communications from physicians, many of them expressing the highest commendation of our products, but these will not now or ever be turned over to the publisher for his use.

Notice the statement in this charge: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to Postum testimonial, etc."

The truth is, this Dr. Underwood was one of a great many physicians who have not only written commendatory words about the value of our foods, but every now and then some physician writes an article on coffee or on food and sends it to us with a suggestion of compensation for his time and medical knowledge. Previous to the time when we employed physicians in our own business, we occasionally employed a doctor to write an article on coffee, always insisting that the article be an honest expression of his opinion and research.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private—or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticised.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to confine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

The "Weekly" hunted up this physician, and because he seemed to be poor, and as it says, "broken-down," had him brought to court, to be exposed before a jury as the "only" physician that had ever endorsed Grape-Nuts, but much to the chagrin of the "Weekly," when our attorneys asked him if the article he wrote about coffee was true, he replied "yes."

Statement No. 5. reads: "The health officers of Mich., Maine, Penn., New Hamp., and other states in their official bulletins have for years been denouncing as preposterous and fraudulent the claims made by the Postum Cereal Company." We do not recall any criticism except from Mich., Penn., Maine and S. Dakota.

The average reader might think that the opinions expressed by the State Officials are always correct, but that conclusion is not borne out by facts.

As an illustration:—About thirteen years ago the Dairy and Food Commission of Michigan for some personal reason printed a severe criticism on us for making Postum of Barley (according to his official chemist) at market price and selling too high. He was shown there was never a grain of barley used in Postum. His report was false and misleading. The governor dismissed him.

We believe that most of the state officials are honest, and on the other hand we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be substantiated by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from theirs, and we are both honest, they have rather the advantage, because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

Spasm No. 6 says: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever. Notwithstanding he knew that danger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened."

This is intended to muddle the reader, into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis. Mr. Post himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in the study and observation of food as related to the digestive organs, and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominating cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy of digestion.

Dr. Ochsner in his work on appendicitis refers directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained on the market. He also brought out the interesting fact that in "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food. The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to the question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

No. 7 is a live wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his studies and experience in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing," which further lead to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attended clinics in Europe and fitted himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both from the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1891 he was an invalid. In that year, after being under the care of several well known physicians he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well-understood method. Sufficient to say he became a well-man, weighing about 185 pounds.

This experience challenged his investigation into causes of disease and their amelioration. These studies and experiences developed a very profound reverence for a Supreme Power which directly operates upon the human being, and this reverence for the Infinite became to him a form of religion which included honesty of purpose towards his fellowman. A statement which will be indorsed by everyone who knows him closely.

He will make a public announcement in detail of these facts, and the Postum company will cause that statement to be published in newspapers and magazines in due time. We suggest the reader look for it.

Prevarication No. 8 "Post spends nearly a million a year in advertising and relies on that to keep out of the newspapers the dangerous nature of the fraud he is perpetrating on the public."

The Postum Company does pay out upwards of a million a year for trade announcements. Newspaper men believe our statements truthful or they would not print them. Large numbers of newspaper men use our products.

They are capable of telling the public whether or not we "bribe" them.

It may have escaped notice that we did not "bribe" that particular weekly.

No. 9 states that the amount of the verdict will "be devoured by the weekly" to exposing fraud.

This is almost real humor.

We have two suits, pending against the "weekly," total $500,000.00. We haven't "devoured" the sum to any particular purpose, yet.

Item 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a part of Postum.

But the criticism neglected to mention that for years every Postum package announced in plain type that the outer covering of wheat (bran), made part of the beverage.

Some Facts.

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter been printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has received upwards of fifty thousand (50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This Company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

M. K. HOWE, Treasurer. (With Company about 14 years.)

L. J. LAMSON, Inspector of Advt. (With Company about 9½ years.)

F. C. GRANDIN, Advertising Manager. (With Company about 13 years.)

R. M. STERRETT, M. D., Physician in charge of Scientific Dept. (With Company about 4½ years.)

CHESTON SYER, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 3 years.)

CHARLES W. GREEN, Advt. Writer. (With Company about 5 years.)

HARRY E. BURT, General Sup't. (With Company about 13 years.)

H. C. HAWK, Assistant to Chairman. (With Company about 7 years.)

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness."

His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight into the eyes of the haggling twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and call for a confused answer.

The "dodging" it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries—

"I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that suggests any particular kind of food. Then, followed some discussion between attorneys."

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book, it turns out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain without reading it over—but such conservative and well-balanced answers are constrained by sensation seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions:—

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example."

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions."

"Read carefully, thoughtfully, no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and go into the silence where mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God talks to the soul. The thoughts from Divine Universal Mind come as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence, humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court Room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward on the rail, pointed his finger at the attorney's face to emphasize his reply and with eyes that caused those of the attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury—The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "weekly" have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00 is asked as damages, and may the right man win.

After all the smoke of legal battle blows a way, the facts will stand out clearly and never be forgotten that Postum, Grape-Nuts, and Post Toasties are perfectly pure, have done good honest service to humanity for years, the testimonials are real and truthful and the business conducted on the highest plane of commercial integrity.

WOMEN'S GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

Has Moved Into Its New Quarters on Dutton Street

The first annual meeting of the Lowell Guild was held yesterday afternoon at the Lowell Board of Trade rooms. A partial report was in yesterday's edition of The Sun, but inasmuch as the meeting was in progress when the paper went to press the entire proceedings of the meeting were not reported. The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Harry Boardman; first vice president, Mrs. Harry G. Folsom; second vice president, Mrs. James F. Preston; secretary, Mrs. Mary Lamson; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur J. Murkland, holds over.

A rising vote of thanks was given the retiring president, Mrs. Robert Wood.

It was voted to hold a house warming in the new quarters of the Guild, 17 Dutton street, on Saturday, Jan. 21, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Reports were made on the condition of the two branches of the work which the Guild will carry on, the district nursing and the milk station. Through the generosity of the corporations the lower floor of No. 17 Dutton street, comprising four rooms and bath, will be used by the Guild for its milk station and district nursing work. The two departments moved into the new quarters today.

Miss Walsh, the district nurse, presented an interesting report.

Miss Edith Stott, chairman of the milk committee, also gave an interesting report of the work done and what was to be carried out during the ensuing year, and Miss Alice Lindsay, who is in charge of the milk station, submitted a report on the work accomplished.

At a given hour in May, the bells of the city rang for the ladies to start and gather the envelopes distributed a few days previously in the different homes. The result was gratifying. With the money they were able to equip sufficiently for the present demands. More help was needed in the station

Of Elliot Church Held Last Night

The annual supper and business meeting of the Elliot church was held last night. Supper was served early in the evening and the business meeting was opened by a selection by the choir, and prayer by the pastor. The report of the clerk, Mr. Frank A. P. Coburn, showed the membership of the church to be 475.

The pastor, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, reported for his ten years of work in the church. A. C. Russell moved that a vote of thanks be given the pastor for his work during the past ten years of his pastorate, and a rising vote was given.

Frank A. P. Coburn was re-elected clerk, and Deacon E. E. Sargent, treasurer; deacon for four years, Wm. J. Blake; delegates to represent the church in the Andover association for the year, A. C. Russell, Miss Edith E. Russell, Fred M. Barney, Mrs. Daniel Varnum, Deacon James Sykes.

George S. Hull, superintendent of the Sunday school, reported a growth in various departments of the school. The attendance during the year has averaged over 20 more than last year. Mr. Hull was re-elected superintendent, and the other officers elected for the Sunday school were: Assistant superintendent, Alvin E. Sykes; secretary, Charles Adams; secretary, Miss Edith Wright.

Fred M. Barney was elected auditor. Mrs. Albert Moore reported for the visiting committee, and the same committee was appointed for the ensuing year.

Mr. Nichols reported for the Christian Endeavoring an increase of 20 in the membership. The Women's Home Missionary association report was given by Mrs. Charles S. Proctor. Contributions of cash and other gifts were reported to the amount of $230.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society reported through Miss Mary E. Fletcher, a large average attendance of women at the meetings, and the raising of about $70 for missions.

Mrs. J. A. Faulkner reported for the Byway committee, and the committee was reappointed.

The Ladies' Charitable association, through its treasurer, Miss Clara D. Horne, reported on the supper held during the year, which brought in the net sum of over $800.

Mr. Fred Silk reported as president of the John Elliot Literary club. There was an average attendance of 25 at the meetings of the club devoted to the study of foreign countries.

The Sabre Club reported through its secretary, Frank Hill, the gift from that club of over $500, toward the church repairs during the year. Report was also made of an entertainment in progress, to be given Jan. 25.

The report of the King's Daughters, given by Mrs. William Greig, showed a year of considerable activity for 70 young women of the church, and a net sum of over $200 raised. There were also many details of charity work done in the hospitals, children's homes and other institutions.

"The Greigs" reported through the president, Chester Chase.

The report of The Elliotts, by Emil Hartford, included the gift of the electric dome, which ornaments the vestry, over the speakers' desk.

The Ward club, of boys, reported through its president, Harry P. Benson. This included the work of the Boy Scouts.

The youngest and last society to report was that of the Sunbeams, a class under the direction of Miss Marie Smith. The report was written and read by Miss Isabel Seragias.

After the business was concluded, a vote of thanks was given to the choir, to the ladies who provided the supper, to the Sabre club, for ushering during the year, to the Christian Endeavor society for furnishing flowers for the pulpit, and to the King's Daughters, for selling issues of calendars.

After the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," the meeting was adjourned.

TO KEEP THE HAIR LIGHT AND FLUFFY

(From Chicago Inter Ocean)

The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair coarse, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powderedorris root and four ounces of thorax. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result.

Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair makes it soft and glossy, and it can be regularly used to make the hair long and abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

GUTTED BY FIRE

Odd Fellows Building at East Lynn Destroyed

LYNN, Jan. 10.—Fire completely gutted the five story brick block owned by the East Lynn Order of Odd Fellows early this morning. The block was at the corner of Chestnut and Essex streets, East Lynn, and besides the Odd Fellows hall was used by the East Lynn station of the Lynn post office. The fire was discovered by a patrol-

How to Stop Drinking

Give Orlene and Destroy All Desire for Whiskey and Beer. Can Be Given Secretly. Try it at Our Expense.

We are in earnest when we ask you to try ORLINE at our expense. We will give you money back, if after a trial you fail to get results from ORLINE. This is a very generous offer. It gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to express an opportunity to try the ORLINE Treatment. It also shows our confidence in the merits of ORLINE. ORLINE is recognized as the best and most successful remedy for the world has ever known for Drunkenness or the so-called Liquor Habit. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price. Read the following letter from Dr. Nolle, 8th and Race sts., Philadelphia. It will tell you about some of the wonderful results from the ORLINE Treatment:

"I have had a remarkable case of inebriety under my personal observation. The patient drank heavily for fifteen years and had a degraded condition, which caused the breaking up of his family and separation from his wife. Every hope was given up of ever saving the man from his strong desire to drink, and only a mother's interest in his welfare led him to voluntarily take treatment for his diseased condition. It was my pleasure to administer ORLINE to your liquor habit cure, and the treatment was successful. This was a two years case and the patient is now in a healthy condition and abstains from the use of stimulants. ORLINE is a HINE for a number of years and have always found it to be satisfactory. I believe you have a business opportunity for treatment for this disease."

ORLINE is prepared in two forms. No. 1 is a treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, secretly in food or drink. ORLINE No. 2 is in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORLINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free ORLINE Booklet, (mailed in plain envelope) to ORLINE CO., 604 ORRINE BUILDING, 11th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. D. C. ORLINE is recommended and sold in this city by the Riker-Jaynes Drug Co., 118-122 Merrimack st.

GIFT OF $50,000

Helped by the Court to be Void

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Judge Grant of the police court yesterday disallowed the codicil to the will of Emily J. Frye of Alston, because it was not attested in the legal sense by one of the witnesses, Louise Matthews. As a result of the decision the Old Ladies' Home of Boston loses a contingent bequest of about $50,000.

Under the will the bulk of the property was placed in trust for the benefit of Joseph H. Frye, son of the testator. On his death, if there were no children, one-third of the income went to the wife, Dora A. Frye, until her death, or her remarriage, and the remaining two-thirds to the heirs of Nicholas B. Gardner and Elizabeth C. Humphrey of Providence. By the codicil the testatrix sought to change the provision of the will so that the disposition of the property on the death of her son so as to give the property to the Old Ladies' Home of Boston. The estate is worth about $50,000.

Miss Matthews testified that when she subscribed her name she thought she was witnessing Dr. William A. Leasure's signature. He was witness to the codicil, as was R. Rueberg. She associated the paper in no way, the judge finds, with Mrs. Frye, who was in the room, and did not notice Mrs. Frye's signature. Nothing was said by Mrs. Frye or anyone else in Miss Matthews' presence to call her attention to the instrument as Mrs. Frye's paper. The fact that she signed the paper had left the room that she had been attesting a paper belonging to Mrs. Frye cannot serve as a substitute for lack of knowledge, says the court.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A large audience greeted Augusta Perry "and her own company" at the Opera House last night, when the play entitled "Why He Divorced Her" was presented.

The play was very good and interspersed between the acts were numerous specialties, some of them calling for praise.

Miss Perry in the part of "Doris Hastings," who was the victim of a hard hearted plot, had much charm of face and manner and her acting was sufficient. In one scene she had to undergo much physical exertion, inasmuch as the villain manhandled her in a grotesque fashion.

"Why He Divorced Her" is sensational, and it tells things about marital infidelities that everyone who reads and lives knows.

Several of the vaudeville acts are more than ordinary, especially the closing one, a man and woman who forgo crochets and who conclude with a beautiful scene. The woman named Fables will do her famous "gilt of life Thursday night. There are also three other good acts.

"The City of Sins" is the bill for tonight.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

This week is to be a red letter week at the Academy of Music. Rarely has it ever happened that such an expensive attraction has been engaged in a five and ten cent house as the wonderful and beautiful horse called Colonel Fred. This horse has almost human intelligence and has appeared in all the leading houses in the country, and the people who have seen his acts have marvelled at them.

Colonel Fred can do everything but read and write. He can make figures and select colors, and actually play music, and yesterday he played "Home, Sweet Home" on a staff of bells as perfectly as any human being could. He also can open and close a cash register and distinguish between paper and silver money. He will answer any questions by motions of the head or tail.

He also does a very wonderful piece of acting as a fireman in waking up his master and alarming him when the house is on fire. He also requests a baby from the fire. It is certainly wonderful, and is worthy of a visit to the theatre.

Colonel Fred was the attraction at Lawrence, and was to be there for three days, but his manager had to stay one week. He is to be the attraction for the first three days of this week at the Academy. There will be the usual vaudeville acts and pictures. Undoubtedly the "standing room only" will be used during this week.

PIMA INDIANS

Made Success of Growing Cotton

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Pima Indians in Arizona are "coming back" insofar as their cultivation of cotton is concerned. Through the co-operation of the bureau of Indian affairs and the department of agriculture experiments in cotton growing have been conducted on the Pima reservation for three years. These experiments have been made on a ten acre tract and after many experiments according to Assistant Commissioner Abbott, of the bureau of Indian affairs, a cotton about three grades higher than any other now grown in the cotton belt has been produced.

The Indians have taken up its cultivation and up to the present time, says Mr. Abbott, about 50 acres are under cultivation.

The Pimas cultivated cotton some 75 years ago. It is said, but for some reason or other they abandoned it. When the agent of the department of agriculture was about to show her how to pick cotton, said that he need not show her as she had picked it many years before the white came along to take the Indian lands.

VISITING RANCHMAN

From Northwest Found Temperatures 53 Below

Mr. William Burke, a well-to-do ranchman of Saskatchewan, Canada, is visiting his father, Mr. W. H. Burke, of 14 Warnock street. The young man left Lowell some six years ago for the Canadian soil where he has done considerable travelling. He finally landed in Saskatchewan and took up a government settlement. The claim has

GOT FIVE YEARS

Man Robbed Clerk of Hotel

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—George Ellis, aged 20, a Syrian, who held up the night clerk of Hotel Westminster early in the morning of Dec. 31, was sentenced to the reformatory for five years and a month by Judge Stevens in the superior criminal court yesterday. He pleaded guilty to an indictment accusing him of robbery, being armed. The only penalty provided for that offence is life imprisonment. Asst. District Atty. Dwyer not provided so much of the indictment as charged the defendant with being armed, so the court could impose a sentence of life or any number of years.

Mr. Dwyer told the judge that the defendant was not a real hold-up man.

He did not think the crime was premeditated, but regarded it as a half-crazed stunt. The circumstances of the offence were briefly related to the court.

James Carlton, alias Phillips, indicted in this county and in Middlesex county for breaking and entering, was sentenced to state prison for a term of 8 to 10 years. There were seven indictments against him. He stole more than $1000 worth of tools.

Leo R. Mahoney, accused of breaking and entering dwelling houses, was sentenced to the reformatory for six years. On Dec. 29 he entered a house in La-brook street and with an Indian club broke the gas meter, stole what money was in it and went away. The gas was turned on full force and occupants of different parts of the house were nearly suffocated.

John A. Barry, a defendant in the Soderquist-Barry case, was arraigned on an indictment charging him with larceny. He pleaded not guilty and was held on four counts in $25,000 bail, which he furnished.

BROKEN KNEES

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat Them

The horse, more than any other animal, is the easy victim of all sorts of injuries to the knees, sometimes proving transient and at others permanent, but always resulting from bruises, blows, injuries from fall and accident, kick, punctures, wire fences, speeding, overhauling, etc. The injury may be just skin deep or extend to the bone. He gets it just the same. He may in a way be at fault by his own impatience or temper, but it may be more likely the fault of the carter, striking him over the knee with the pitch fork, because he shows too much hurry to get to the stall. In fact the opportunities for knee injury to the horse are so many we lack room to enumerate them. They all, however, need prompt treatment and care to make sure of no worse results. A scratch on the knee may result in a serious case of broken knee, and we may have ulcer and supuration. In the simple, unimportant injuries lurk the possibility of great danger. Therefore for any simple bruise, make hot antiseptic solution of the easiest possible application, bathe in cold water. Put on a little Witch Hazel or some soothing lotion and in a day or two the trouble is likely passed. If the horse gets kicked or cut with wire fence, make the hot applications, bandage with a heating lotion or liniment. Don't put on a counter-irritant, as many do. Try and assist nature by removing the present inflammation. When the injury is deep seated, and complicated, get a veterinarian as soon as possible, but you can be of help to him. Wash the wound carefully with solution of Carbolic Acid, Peroxide or some good disinfectant and bandage in a healing lotion or perhaps paint with collodion to stop the flow of blood. In all seeming simple sprains, bruises, cuts and sores, a few minutes and a few cents applied early will do more than hours and dollars after a day or two of delay.

"GRAFT" CASES

Probe of Middlesex Co. Resumed

The Middlesex grand jury yesterday continued to hear witnesses in the investigation of the so-called Middlesex county "graft" cases. Michael J. Sugrue was the first witness. He went into the jury room at 2:30 and stayed until 10:15. Mr. Sugrue was employed as attorney when the investigation was started by the taxpayers' association.

Richard H. Dana of Cambridge also testified.

TRADERS BANK

HELD ITS ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Traders National bank was held this morning at the banking rooms, 30 Middlesex street, and the directors and officers elected show no changes from last year. John C. Burke is president, William F. Hills, vice president, and Amos P. Hill, cashier. The directors are John C. Burke, James P. Corbett, William F. Hills, Amos P. Hill, William F. Hills, Charles H. Knapp, Clarence H. Nelson and George A. Scribner.

HE LOST $196

BY BEING ASSIGNED TO DO SPECIAL WORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Ordered by the secret service to stenographic duty with the secretary of the Interior in preparing a confidential investigation report in 1906, R. R. Rhees has found himself $196 out of pocket. Congress has been asked by Secretary Ballinger to appropriate this deficiency, which occurred when E. H. Hitchcock was secretary of the Interior. Rhees was ordered to report at Mr. Hitchcock's summer home at Dublin, N. H., which he did. He expected to stay only a few days but Mr. Hitchcock was called to Oyster Bay so frequently to confer with President Roosevelt that the work stretched into three weeks. Comptroller Tracewell held that the detail was unlawful and disallowed the expense account. Now Secretary Ballinger has taken up cudgels for Rhees' relief.

JOE CHOYNSKI

ACCEPTS POSITION AS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Joe Choynski, the veteran heavyweight boxer, has accepted the position as athletic director of the new $150,000 Pittsburgh Athletic club in Pittsburgh and will go there in time to be ready for the opening on Feb. 22.

BADLY DAMAGED

FIRE IN GOV. POTHIER'S MILL AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Jan. 10.—The mill of the Rosemont Dyeing company of which Gov. Aram J. Pothier is treasurer, was badly damaged last night by a fire which occupied the entire Woonsocket fire department for two hours. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The loss will be about $36,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week is as good as the best produced in this house. There isn't anything to tax one's thoughts seriously, but there is more than a plenty to amuse and entertain.

The Orpheum Comedy Four exceed in constant laughter from start to finish. One of the features of the act is the song sung in original native by the quartet. The solos and quartet numbers are excellently done.

Ell Dawson and the Gillette Sisters have something novel in the way of entertainment. They sing solos, duets and trios and they dance very well. The offering is snappy, unusual and highly entertaining throughout.

Another trio known as The Three Banjo Players, have something out of the ordinary in the way of entertainment. All the three young men do is play the banjo, with one exception, a solo number by one of the trio, who

COLONIAL THEATRE

As promised by Manager Marcus of the Colonial Theatre the bill presented at this house for the first half of this week will surpass anything shown this season.

Strong man acts are by no means new, but credit must be given Levasseur for having an original line of work, it being entirely different from any act of its kind ever seen.

Mr. Levasseur will challenge any man to a contest of heavy-weight lifting for a purse of $500. His feat of pulling against the strength of four heavy work horses which was accomplished in front of the theatre last night was enough to convince the large crowd who witnessed it that this man possessed an unusual amount of strength. This man's engagement is for three days only. Others on the program who received a good deal of approval were La Temple & Co., European Illusionists in a wonderful exhibition of modern magic; Arthur Snow & Co., rural sketch artists, in a way down east sketch with plenty of laughs and a few tears; and Freeman & Carr, a good pair of comedians who use the French-Canadian dialect with telling effect. The pictures were excellent. The above acts are for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only.

THEATRE VOYONS

A thriller without being too sensational, is a good description of "The Cowboy's Innocence" at the Theatre Voyons today. It deals with life on the Mexican border and the characters are every one of them drawn true to life. It is an exceptionally big production. The people being used in its big scenes and the interest never flags for one minute. "The Bolted Door" is a story drama of the better kind tells of how a woman chooses wealth to love and lives to deeply regret her choice. The songs are excellent, notably "Dougherty," a true successor to "Kelley" whom nobody saw.

DECIDES AGAINST PROTEST

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The International Aeronautic federation which met here today decided that it had no authority to consider the protest against the award of the international trophy to the Americans, Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, on the ground that the protest was made as irregular. The federation declared that the protest should be lodged first with the sporting committee of the American Aero club.

THE COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Cotton of the growth of 1910 pinned prior to Jan. 1, as shown by the report of the bureau of the census, issued at 10 o'clock this morning, was 1,087,443 bales, compared with 9,647,327 from the growth of 1909, 12,466,238 from that of 1908. The percentage of the last two crops gained to Jan. 1 was 25.8 for 1909 and 95.3 for 1908.

Round bales included this year are 108,228, compared with 143,949 for 1909 and 105,573 for 1908. Sea Island bales included are 82,432 for 1910, as against 89,611 for 1909 and 86,523 for 1908.

IMPRESSION SKETCHES AT THE CRESCENT ALLEYS LAST NIGHT—Y. M. C. I. AGAINST K. O. F. C.

The Y. M. C. I. bowling team strengthened its hold on first place in the Catholic league standing last night by defeating the rival Knights of Columbus team on the Crescent alleys. The losing team was minus two of its regular players, but in spite of that succeeded in putting up a good game, being defeated by but 30 pins. The winning aggregation took all three strings, but they were captured by narrow margins. There was but a ten pins difference between the two teams at the end of the first string; the Y. M. C. I. took the second by five pins and the last string by 15 pins. Prouty of the vanquished team was the high roller of the evening with a total of 395, while Bryan Coleman of the winning outfit was second, with a total of 303. Despite the fact that these two players had the highest totals, the best single made during the game was 120 by Clark of the Y. M. C. I., who knocked the pins in every direction in the second string.

In the first string Prouty of the Knights put up a single of 109 while Coleman of the opposing team was but six shy of that mark. J. F. Donohue, of the losing team, who is one of the best bowlers in the city, surprised everyone by rolling the very low score of 76. If he had been rolling in form the team would undoubtedly have captured at least one of the three points.

The second string was a heart breaker for the Knights, as Donohue "came back" and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away it was found that he had knocked the pins down to the tune of 107, but it was in this string that Clark put up the high single of 120.

Coleman's bowling of 104 was the feature of the third string, while but two players on the Knights of Columbus team went over the 90 mark.

EXECUTIVE COM.

OF BOARD OF TRADE HELD A MEETING

The executive committee of the board of trade met yesterday afternoon and attended to several minor matters. President Greene occupied the chair and all the members were present. The committee discussed the proposed road traffic regulations drawn up by the board some time ago and decided to give a hearing on the proposition to those interested before it is brought before the local city government.

To You Bachelors

Why don't you buy Holeproof Hose? Six pairs are guaranteed to wear without holes for six months. They are light, soft and attractive—not heavy, cumbersome and coarse. The softest 3-ply yarn is used. There are eleven colors, four weights and four grades to choose from. 30 years of experience go into every pair. Ask to see "Holeproof" and look for the name on the tag; also the trademark shows

THE 54 HOUR BILL

Was Presented in the State Senate Yesterday

Time of Senatorial Election Set for 3 p. m., Jan. 17—Bill to Raise Pay of the Att'y General

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Although time for the introduction of new business expires at 5 o'clock next Saturday evening there was no rush yesterday of bills and petitions for the consideration of the legislature. Neither in number nor significance were the petitions submitted of special moment. The sessions of the legislative branch were very brief. The time for the election of a U. S. senator was fixed at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, Jan. 17.

The bill restricting the number of hours for employment of women and children in factories at 54 a week made its appearance in the senate. It accompanied the petition of Senator Ross of Bristol and carried with it the indorsement of the American Federation of Labor. The 56-hour act went into effect in January of last year. The proposed 54-hour law to take effect on Jan. 1 of next year.

Senator Thibault of Suffolk offered the bill that the salary of the attorney general be increased from $5,000 to $8,000. His bill also provided a similar increase for the district attorney of Suffolk county. A resolve was read providing for the purchase by the state for the use of the state library of the Tillinghast card index.

The senate received the petition of Pres. MacArthur of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the payment by the commonwealth to that institution of $100,000 annually for a period of 10 years.

Senator Barnes of Norfolk introduced a bill to provide that companies insuring against bodily injury, sickness or death by accident shall have a paid-up capital of $200,000. Another bill, introduced by the same senator, aimed to have the certificates of the land court made more specific.

In the house Representative Kenny of Boston introduced a bill to establish a system of record in the cold storage of food, providing that such food shall be tagged to show when it was placed in storage and when taken out.

Mr. Moody of Lynn is a petitioner in the lower branch for the abolition of the present railroad commission and the creation in place thereof of a railroad court to consist of a chief justice, at $7,500 a year, and two associate justices at $6,000 each; the salaries to be paid by the commonwealth and not by the railroad companies.

Rep. McCarthy of Marlboro heads a petition for the election of railroad commissioners by the people.

Ex-Congressman John R. Thayer of Worcester is a petitioner for legislation to prohibit trapping with scented bait.

Leo H. Leary asks that the city of Boston be authorized to pay to the mother of the late Robert E. Burke the balance of salary to which he would have been entitled had he lived out his term as assistant superintendent of schools in Boston.

Representative Mancovitz of Boston submitted a petition for an act to provide that all appointments of the mayor of Boston shall become operative upon the filing of the same with the city clerk of Boston, without regard to the civil service commission.

An order authorizing the committee on prisons to investigate the country jails at Worcester and Fitchburg was submitted by Representative Flanagan of Worcester, and was referred to the committee on rules.

Other petitions were received as follows: Of Representative McInerney of Boston, that the salary of the attorney general shall consist of 27 members, one from each of the wards except wards 20 and 24, and in these wards two, and that members shall receive an annual salary of $12,000. It provides that primaries for the nomination of candidates shall be held on the fifth Thursday preceding the city election; that nominations for the primary ballot shall be made by nomination paper, bearing the signatures of not less than 10 residents of the ward from which such nomination is to be made, and that except as a primary nominee no candidate shall have his name on the ballot at the city election except by securing signatures to a nomination paper in number not less than one for each 50 votes cast the preceding election.

Of Representative Thomas of Quincy, that that city be authorized to borrow $200,000 for sewer purposes; Of Representative O'Hearn of North Adams, for siting of the superior court for Berkshire county at North Adams;

Of Representatives Bagley and Newton of Boston, to provide that food shall not be kept in cold storage for more than 90 days;

Of Charles B. Pense, that photographers be allowed to do business on the Lord's day;

Of Representative Griffin of Boston, to prohibit charges for the use of meters for gas and electricity;

Of Representative Merrill of Haverhill, that city councils be authorized and in certain instances required to submit matters to the people.

Ex-Congressman John R. Thayer of Worcester is a petitioner for legislation to prohibit trapping with scented bait.

Leo H. Leary asks that the city of Boston be authorized to pay to the mother of the late Robert E. Burke the balance of salary to which he would have been entitled had he lived out his term as assistant superintendent of schools in Boston.

Describe how you felt after the beating," said Gen. Bartlett.

"I steadily lost my strength after that. I did not work at all, and I fell, being helped by an assistant. I went to the yacht races in New York between the Reliance and the Shamrock III, but I was so weak and suffered so from pains in my head that I was unable to write the story of the race.

"When I got back to my hotel I had to get a stenographer, and while I lay on the bed dictated the story to him, later on I had to go to the City Hospital twice, in 1907 and 1908. I was fighting off diabetes right along from 1903."

The plaintiff in reply to a question of Mr. Bartlett said that at the time of the assault he weighed 215 pounds, but since that, and as a consequence of the beating, his weight had fallen at one time to 144 pounds, and he now weighs about 160½.

The plaintiff said that at the time of the assault he weighed 215 pounds, but since that, and as a consequence of the beating, his weight had fallen at one time to 144 pounds, and he now weighs about 160½.

GREAT SESSION REV. J. P. WEST

To be Held by the Civic Federation To Leave the Highland M. E. Church

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The methods and legislation adopted by European governments to control large trusts and combinations of capital and the varying success such efforts have met with are expected to occupy a large place in the deliberations of the National Civic Federation, which begins its three days' annual session at the Hotel Astor on the next Thursday, Jan. 12. Officers of the federation point out that, while the United States supreme court is expected to define clearly the Sherman anti-trust act in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco cases and the injunction and anti-boycott cases against the officers

At the fourth quarterly conference of the Highland M. E. church held Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. J. P. West, after reading his report, requested that he be not returned for another year. Mr. West has done splendid work in the church during his four years here and his decision came as a surprise to his people. A rising vote of appreciation for his faithful and efficient service was unanimously given.

Dr. C. F. Rice, district superintendent, presided. The annual reports of the various departments were very encouraging. All bills are paid to date and there is a good balance on hand. The Ladies' Aid society reported a balance of $220.

Caleb Philbrick was elected as trustee, and William Davis to the board of stewards, to fill vacancies.

Ingalls, Edgar A. Baneroff, William D. Mahon, Theodore Marburg, Rollin S. Woodruff, Laurence Packer and Leo S. Rowe.

The alleged thefts occurred on the same day, one in Lynn in the morning and the other in North End in the afternoon. The arrests were made by Special Officers O'Donnell and Flynn, who took the handkerchief away from Santasiere, which contained Danella's money. It was on this count he was found guilty.

Just before Judge Murray announced that he had found the defendant guilty on one count, he said to the prisoner: "I will give you a chance now to make good as to whether or not you have told the truth concerning your self. You claimed you never were arrested before, that you are married and your wife and family are in New York, and that you are engaged in that city in business with your brother."

"You have the opportunity right now to say whether or not you have misled your attorney. It will not be well for you to lie to the court." The defendant said he told the truth. Judge Murray continued the case until Jan. 17 for sentence.

YANKEE WRESTLER PUT HIS ENGLISH RIVAL OUT OF COMMISSION
BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 10.—After one hour and 10 minutes of hard wrestling here last night John Blitzer of Toledo, lightweight champion of the United States, caught William Blighman of London, English lightweight champion, napping, and with a handlock put him out of commission for about two months. His shoulder ligaments were torn.

Blighman's manager defaulted the second ally with the understanding he is to have a return match, thus leaving the championship title undecided.

FOREST LANDS

ELIMINATED FROM THE OZARK RESERVATION IN ARKANSAS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Forest lands totalling 553,330 acres, have been eliminated from Ozark reservation in Arkansas by proclamation of the president. This is in line with the plan of the department of agriculture to correct all national forest boundaries.

Van Buren, Johnson and Stone counties suffered the most in the eliminations, 107,740 acres, 102,880 acres and 93,980 acres respectively having been removed from these counties. Scary and Franklin counties also lost heavily.

Approximately 64,000 acres were removed from Franklin county and 63,200 acres from Franklin county. Newton, Cleburn, Baxter, Pope, Crawford, Madison and Washington counties lost lesser amounts.

The eliminations were brought about after a field examination by the department of agriculture and made for the purpose of removing from the forest certain tracts which largely comprise small private buildings.
